Our Company

We are a leading provider of specialized career websites for select professional communities. We target employment categories in which there is a scarcity of highly skilled, highly qualified professionals relative to market demand. Our career websites serve as online marketplaces where employers and recruiters find and recruit prospective employees, and where professionals find relevant job opportunities and information to further their careers. Each of our career websites offers job listings, content, career development and recruiting services tailored to the specific needs of the professional community that it serves. Our largest websites by revenue are Dice.com, the leading career website in the United States for technology professionals, and eFinancialCareers.com, the leading global career website for capital markets and financial services professionals.

We believe that as recruiting activities migrate online and the global workforce becomes increasingly specialized, both professionals and employers are demanding access to industry and occupation-specific online recruiting services and career content. Professionals use our websites at no cost to manage their careers by posting their resumes and searching our large and growing collections of job postings. Our customers pay us to post job listings and to access our databases of resumes of highly experienced and qualified professionals. The majority of our revenues are derived from customers who purchase our recruitment packages, which are available through monthly or longer-term contractual arrangements and allow customers to both post job listings and search our databases of resumes.

The Dice service has operated for 16 years and eFinancialCareers.com has operated for almost seven years. We believe that our long operating history has enabled us to build brand recognition and a critical mass of both customers and professionals, which has given us a distinct competitive advantage in our employment categories. As the breadth and number of job listings and skilled professionals using our websites has grown, the increase of each has fostered the growth of the other, further enhancing the value and scale of our marketplaces.

We operate the following websites, each of which focuses on different career sectors or geographic regions:

- Dice.com, the leading recruiting and career development website for technology and engineering professionals in the United States.
- eFinancialCareers.com, the leading global recruiting and career development network of websites for capital markets and financial services professionals, based in the United Kingdom.
- JobsintheMoney.com, a leading recruiting and career development website for accounting and finance professionals in the United States.
- ClearanceJobs.com, the leading recruiting and career development website for professionals with active U.S. government security clearances.
- CybermediaDice.com, the largest targeted vertical career website for technology professionals in India.

We also operate Targeted Job Fairs, a leading producer and host of career fairs and open houses focused primarily on technology and security-cleared candidates in the United States.

We have experienced significant revenue growth since 2004. We generated revenues of $87.1 million in 2006, up from $35.8 million in 2004, representing a compound annual growth rate, or "CAGR," of 56%, and we grew our operating income and cash flow from operations from $3.9 million and $14.1 million to $15.1 million and $41.0 million, representing a CAGR of 97% and 70%, respectively, over the same period.

Our Industry

We operate in the online employment advertising segment of the broader market for staffing and employment services. The worldwide market for staffing and employment advertising is large and shifting online at a rapid pace. International Data Corporation, or "IDC," estimates that employment advertising spending, comprising online job boards and recruitment classified ads, in the U.S. market was $8.6 billion in 2006, and forecasts an increasing share of that spending to be garnered by online recruitment advertising.

We believe that the overall demand for employment advertising and recruiting and career development products and services has significant growth potential. Over the next several years, the aging labor force of the United States is expected to lead to a labor supply-demand imbalance as baby-boomers retire. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, a shortfall of over two million workers in the labor force is forecast by 2014.

We also believe that certain industries that employ highly skilled and highly paid professionals will experience particularly strong demand for effective recruiting solutions due to the scarcity of such professionals. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, for instance, five of the 12 fastest-growing occupations in the United States during the period from 2004 to 2014 are expected to be in technology fields. We believe that international economies show similar trends, with an aging labor force in Europe, and shortages of skilled professionals to meet the demand of growing economies in Asia.

We believe that the market for employment advertising is shifting online due to:

- the expansion in the size of the Internet population and increased broadband access;
- the shift in media consumption and spending from offline to online media; and
- the increased efficiency and cost advantages provided by online job boards compared to offline employment advertising methods.

While generalist job boards have improved the recruiting process compared to traditional offline alternatives, specialized career websites offer job listings, content and services tailored to the specific needs of the communities they serve. Moreover, because specialized career websites attract communities of professionals from specific industries, employers can reach a more targeted and more qualified pool of candidates. We believe this leads to a better recruitment experience for both customers and professionals.

Our Value Proposition

We have become a leading provider of specialized career websites for select professional communities by providing unique benefits to professionals and our customers. Our specialized career websites provide professionals with quick and easy access to job listings that are relevant and meet their industry-specific criteria, and provide our customers with pools of hard-to-find, highly qualified professional talent. By providing deep databases of professionals to our customers and a large number of employment opportunities for professionals, we encourage the use of our websites and continue to attract customers to our services. We believe these factors have helped us to achieve a critical mass of both customers and professionals, contributing to the attractiveness and efficiency of our online marketplaces.

Benefits to Professionals

Access to a large number of relevant job postings. Our career websites provide a large number of job postings for technology and engineering, accounting and finance, capital markets and financial services, and U.S. government security-clearance positions. In addition, the specialized focus of our career websites benefits professionals by helping to ensure that the job opportunities posted by our customers are relevant and attractive to them.

Compelling user experience. We have designed each of our career websites with the specific needs of our target audiences of professionals in mind. We believe that our customized search engines and audience-tailored websites are efficient and relevant, easy to use and valuable to our users, helping us build a loyal and engaged audience.

Targeted career development services and tools. We provide professionals with targeted career development services and tools including content, decision support tools and relevant industry news. We believe our career development services and tools benefit the professionals who use our career websites by providing them with relevant information to manage and enhance their careers, and also increase the engagement of professionals with our sites.

Benefits to our Customers

Unique pools of qualified professionals. We seek to improve the efficiency of the recruiting process for our customers by providing quick and easy access to large and up-to-date pools of highly qualified and hard to reach professionals. Moreover, because the communities of professionals who visit our websites are highly skilled and specialized within specific industries, we believe our customers reach a more targeted and qualified pool of candidates than through generalist sites.

Efficient and targeted candidate searches. Our career websites are easy to use and our search engines are designed so that our customers can search our resume databases quickly to find professionals who meet specified criteria. We believe that this approach results in a faster and more efficient search for candidates, helps our customers improve the efficiency of their recruiting efforts and increases customer preference for our career solutions relative to our competitors.

High-quality customer support. We are able to differentiate ourselves from our competitors by providing extensive ongoing support to our customers. We personalize our customer support efforts by providing our customers with representatives that are knowledgeable about the professional communities we serve and the skill sets of professionals in those communities.

Our Strategy

Our goal is to be the leading global network of specialized career websites for select professional communities. Our primary objective is to maximize the potential of our career websites. To achieve these goals, we are pursuing the following strategies:

- continue to grow the size, quality and uniqueness of our professional communities;
- continue to execute on customer acquisition;
- further build brand awareness;
- enhance content and community features across our websites;
- further expand our services globally; and
- selectively expand into new verticals.

Recent Developments

On October 31, 2006, we acquired all of the outstanding capital stock of eFinancialGroup Limited, or "eFinancialGroup." eFinancialGroup operated the career websites eFinancialCareers.com, which targets global capital markets and financial services professionals and employers, and JobsintheMoney.com, which targets the financial and accounting job market in the United States, and a financial publishing business, eFinancialNews. As consideration for the acquisition, we paid the stockholders of eFinancialGroup, which we refer to as the "eFG Stockholders," £56.5 million (or approximately $106.3 million at the exchange rate in effect on October 31, 2006) in cash and issued 7,872 shares of our Series A convertible preferred stock valued at $25.2 million. Immediately after the acquisition, we sold eFinancialNews back to a group of eFinancialGroup's former stockholders for £22.0 million (or approximately $41.6 million in cash at the exchange rate in effect on October 31, 2006). We refer to the acquisition of eFinancialGroup and the disposition of eFinancialNews as the "eFinancialGroup Acquisition."

On March 21, 2007, we entered into an amended and restated credit facility, or the "Amended and Restated Credit Facility," that refinanced and extended the maturity of our outstanding indebtedness under our prior credit facility, increased our borrowing capacity and amended certain of the restrictive covenants to provide us greater financial and operating flexibility. Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility provides for a $125 million term loan and a $75 million revolving facility, each with a five year maturity. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Amended and Restated Credit Facility." We used a portion of the proceeds from the Amended and Restated Credit Facility to pay a dividend of approximately $107.9 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per share, to holders of our common stock and Series A convertible preferred stock and to make a payment of $4.6 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per vested option, to holders of vested stock options in lieu of a dividend on March 23, 2007. We refer to this dividend as the "2007 Dividend." See "Dividend Policy." In this prospectus, we refer to the borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility and the 2007 Dividend as the "2007 Financing." We intend to use the proceeds to us from this offering to pay down amounts outstanding under the Amended and Restated Credit Facility and for working capital and general corporate purposes. See "Use of Proceeds."

Conversion and Stock Split

Prior to this offering, we had common stock and Series A convertible preferred stock outstanding. In accordance with the terms of the certificate of designation for our Series A convertible preferred stock, the holders of 66 2/3% of all outstanding Series A convertible preferred stock have the right at any time to require that all the outstanding shares of Series A convertible preferred stock be converted into an equal number of shares of our common stock. Prior to the consummation of this offering, our principal stockholders, which consist of certain affiliates of General Atlantic LLC and certain affiliates of Quadrangle Group LLC and who in the aggregate own more than 66 2/3% of our outstanding Series A convertible preferred stock, will require that all of the outstanding shares of Series A convertible preferred stock be converted into an equal number of shares of our common stock. As a result, after this offering, we will only have common stock outstanding. We refer to this conversion of the Series A convertible preferred stock into common stock as the "Conversion." Prior to the consummation of this offering, we will also increase our total authorized number of shares of capital stock, make certain changes to our charter documents and effect a to stock split, which we refer to as the "Stock Split." Unless otherwise noted, all information in this prospectus gives effect to the Conversion and the Stock Split. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions—Conversion and Stock Split."

We refer to our General Atlantic, LLC investment fund stockholders as the "General Atlantic Stockholders" and to our Quadrangle Group LLC investment fund stockholders as the "Quadrangle Stockholders." We refer to the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders collectively as the "Principal Stockholders."

Risks Associated With Our Business

Our business is subject to numerous risks, which are highlighted in the section entitled "Risk Factors." These risks represent challenges to the successful implementation of our strategy and the growth of our business. Some of these risks are:

- We operate in a highly competitive developing market and we may be unable to compete successfully against existing and future competitors.
- If we fail to maintain and develop our reputation and brand recognition our business could be adversely affected.
- Our business is largely based on customers who purchase monthly or annual recruitment packages. Any failure to increase or maintain the number of customers who purchase recruitment packages could adversely impact our revenues.
- We may be adversely affected by cyclicality or an extended downturn in the United States or worldwide economy, or in or related to the industries we serve.
- If we fail to attract qualified professionals to our websites or grow the number of qualified professionals who use our websites our revenues could decline.

For further discussion of these and other risks you should consider before making an investment in our common stock, see the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 11.

Corporate History and Information

We were incorporated in Delaware on June 28, 2005, but through our predecessors have been in the technology recruiting and career development business since 1991. Our corporate headquarters is located at 3 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10016, and our telephone number is (212) 725-6550. Our website is http://about.dice.com. Information contained on our website does not constitute a part of this prospectus.

On August 31, 2005, the Principal Stockholders acquired all of our outstanding equity in connection with our acquisition of Dice Inc. from its stockholders, which we refer to as the "2005 Acquisition." Currently, the Principal Stockholders beneficially own in the aggregate approximately 92% of the outstanding shares of our Series A convertible preferred stock and all of our outstanding common stock. Upon completion of this offering, the Principal Stockholders will beneficially own approximately shares of our common stock or % (shares of our common stock, or %, if the underwriters exercise their over-allotment option in full).

Our Principal Stockholders

General Atlantic LLC, or "General Atlantic," is a leading global private equity firm providing capital for innovative companies where information technology or intellectual property is a key driver of growth. The firm was founded in 1980 and has approximately $12 billion in capital under management. General Atlantic has invested in over 160 companies, including us. General Atlantic has offices in Greenwich, New York, Palo Alto, London, Düsseldorf, Mumbai and Hong Kong.

Quadrangle Group LLC, or "Quadrangle," is a private investment firm with over $5 billion in assets under management. Quadrangle invests in media and communications companies through separate private and public investment strategies and in debt securities across all industries through a debt investment program. Quadrangle Capital Partners, its private equity business, invests in media and communications companies in partnership with superior management and where it believes its experience, relationships and capital can create long-term value. Quadrangle has offices in New York and London.

(1) On February 14, 2003, our Predecessor, Dice Inc., filed a voluntary petition for bankruptcy under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Its Joint Plan of Reorganization became effective on June 30, 2003. The periods presented prior to September 1, 2005 have been designated "reorganized," and reflect our Predecessor's accounts after the effectiveness of its Joint Plan of Reorganization under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. The periods on or after September 1, 2005 reflect our accounts after the 2005 Acquisition. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Our Company" for additional information.

(2) Reflects the acquisition of ClearanceJobs in September 2004.

(3) Reflects the acquisition of Targeted Job Fairs in January 2005.

(4) Reflects the eFinancialGroup Acquisition on October 31, 2006.

(5) Basic and diluted net income (loss) per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of shares outstanding for the period.

(6) Unaudited pro forma net income (loss) per share and pro forma weighted average shares outstanding reflects the Conversion and the Stock Split, which will occur immediately prior to the closing of this offering. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions—Conversion and Stock Split."

(7) Deferred revenue is a key metric of our business as it indicates a level of sales already made that will be recognized as revenue in the future. Deferred revenue reflects our increased ability to sign customers to long-term contracts. We recorded deferred revenue of $16.1 million on our consolidated balance sheet, as of August 31, 2005, prior to purchase accounting adjustments related to the 2005 Acquisition. As required by generally accepted accounting principles in the United States, or "U.S. GAAP," in determining the fair value of the liabilities assumed under purchase accounting, the acquired deferred revenue is to be recorded at fair value to the extent it represents an assumed legal obligation. We estimated our obligation related to deferred revenue as a result of the 2005 Acquisition using the cost build-up approach which determines fair value by estimating the costs related to fulfilling the obligation plus a normal profit margin. The estimated costs to fulfill our deferred revenue obligation in connection with the 2005 Acquisition were based on our expected future costs to fulfill our obligation to our customers. As a result, we recorded an adjustment to reduce the carrying value of deferred revenue by $6.0 million, to $10.1 million. The reduction negatively impacted revenues by $3.9 million and $2.1 million for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively.

(8) EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are metrics used by management to measure operating performance. Management uses EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA as a performance measure for internal monitoring and planning, including preparation of annual budgets, analyzing investment decisions and evaluating profitability and performance comparisons between us and our competitors. We also use these measures to calculate amounts of performance based compensation under the senior management incentive bonus program. EBITDA represents net income (loss) before interest expense, interest income, income tax expense, depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA, as defined in our prior credit facility, is EBITDA further adjusted to eliminate non-cash stock compensation expense and extraordinary or non-recurring non-cash charges or expenses, and to add back the deferred revenue written off in connection with the 2005 Acquisition purchase accounting adjustments.

We consider EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA, as defined above, to be important indicators to investors because they provide information related to our ability to provide cash flows to meet future debt service, capital expenditures and working capital requirements and fund future growth as well as to monitor compliance with financial covenants. We present EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA as supplemental performance measures because we believe that these measures provide our board of directors, management and investors with additional information to measure our performance, provide comparisons from period to period and company to company by excluding potential differences caused by variations in capital structures (affecting interest expense), tax positions (such as the impact on periods or companies of changes in effective tax rates or net operating losses), the age and book depreciation of fixed assets (affecting relative depreciation expense), acquisitions (affecting amortization expense) and compensation plans (affecting stock compensation expense) and to estimate our value.

We present this discussion of Adjusted EBITDA because covenants in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility contain ratios based on this measure. If our Adjusted EBITDA were to decline below certain levels, covenants in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility that are based on Adjusted EBITDA may be violated and could cause, among other things, an inability to incur further indebtedness and in certain circumstances a default or mandatory prepayment under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility.

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are not measurements of our financial performance under U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income, operating income or any other performance measures derived in accordance with U.S. GAAP or as an alternative to cash flow from operating activities as a measure of our profitability or liquidity.

We understand that although EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are frequently used by securities analysts, lenders and others in their evaluation of companies, EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA have limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider them in isolation, or as a substitute for analysis of our results as reported under U.S. GAAP. Some of these limitations are:

- EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect our cash expenditures, or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs;
- EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect the significant interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments on our debt;
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized often will have to be replaced in the future, and EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements; and
- Other companies in our industry may calculate EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA differently than we do, limiting their usefulness as a comparative measure.

Risk Factors

Investing in our common stock involves substantial risks. In addition to the other information in this prospectus, you should carefully consider the following factors before investing in our common stock. Any of the risk factors we describe below could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity. The market price of our common stock could decline if one or more of these risks and uncertainties develop into actual events, causing you to lose all or part of the money you paid to buy our shares. While we believe these risks and uncertainties are most important for you to consider, we may face other risks or uncertainties which may adversely affect our business. Certain statements in "Risk Factors" are forward-looking statements. See "Forward-Looking Statements."

Risks Related to Our Business

We operate in a highly competitive developing market and we may be unable to compete successfully against existing and future competitors.

The market for career services is highly competitive and barriers to entry in the market are relatively low. For example, there are approximately 40,000 job boards currently operating on the Internet, and new competitors may emerge. We do not own any patented technology that would preclude or inhibit competitors from entering the recruiting and career development services market.

We compete with other companies that direct all or portions of their websites toward certain segments or sub-segments of the industries we serve. We compete with generalist job boards, some of which have substantially greater resources and brand recognition than we do, such as Monster.com, Hotjobs.com (owned by Yahoo!), and CareerBuilder (owned by Gannett, Tribune and McClatchy), which, unlike specialist job boards, permit customers to enter into a single contract to find professionals across multiple occupational categories and attempt to fill all their hiring needs through a single website, as well as job boards focused specifically on the industries we service, such as ComputerJobs.com, JustTechJobs.com and CareerBank.com. We also compete with newspaper and magazine publishers, national and regional advertising agencies, executive search firms and search and selection firms that carry classified advertising, many of whom have developed, begun developing or acquired new media capabilities such as recruitment websites, or have recently partnered with generalist job boards. In addition, we face competition from new and emerging competitors, such as aggregators of classified advertising, including SimplyHired, Indeed and Google; Craigslist; and social networking sites, such as LinkedIn. Many of our customers also seek to hire candidates directly.

Existing or future competitors may develop or offer services that are comparable or superior to ours at a lower price, which could cause our customers to stop using our services or put pressure on us to decrease our prices. If our current or potential customers, or the qualified professionals who use our websites, choose to use these websites rather than ours, demand for our services could decline and our revenues could be reduced. Additionally, job listings and resume posting in the career services industry are not marketed exclusively through any single channel, and accordingly, our competition could aggregate a set of listings similar to ours. Our inability to compete successfully against present or future competitors could materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity.

If we fail to maintain and develop our reputation and brand recognition our business could be adversely affected.

We believe that establishing and maintaining the identity of our brands, such as Dice and eFinancialCareers, is critical in attracting and maintaining the number of professionals and customers using our services, and that the importance of brand recognition will increase due to the growing number of Internet services similar to ours. Promotion and enhancement of our brands will depend largely on our success in continuing to provide high quality recruiting and career development services. If users do not perceive our existing career and recruiting services to be of high quality, or if we introduce new services or enter into new business ventures that are not favorably received by users, the uniqueness of our brands could be diminished and accordingly the attractiveness of our websites to professionals and customers could be reduced. We may also find it necessary to increase substantially our financial commitment to creating and maintaining a distinct brand loyalty among users. If we cannot provide high quality career services, fail to protect, promote and maintain our brands or incur excessive expenses in an attempt to improve our career services or promote or maintain our brands, our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity could be materially adversely affected.

Our business is largely based on customers who purchase monthly or annual recruitment packages. Any failure to increase or maintain the number of customers who purchase recruitment packages could adversely impact our revenues.

Our customers typically include recruiters, staffing firms, consulting firms and direct hiring companies. Customers can choose to purchase recruitment packages, classified postings or advertisements. Most of our revenues are generated by the fees we earn from our customers who purchase monthly or long-term recruitment packages. Our growth depends on our ability to retain our existing monthly and annual recruitment package customers and to increase the number of customers who purchase recruitment packages. Any of our customers may decide not to continue to use our services in favor of alternate services or because of budgetary constraints or other reasons. We cannot assure you that we will be successful in continuing to attract new customers or retaining existing customers or that our future sales efforts in general will be effective. If our existing customers choose not to use our services, decrease their use of our services, or change from being recruitment package customers to purchasing individual classified postings, our services, job listings and resumes posted on our websites could be reduced, search activity on our websites could decline, the usefulness of our services to customers could be diminished, and we could experience declining revenues and/or incur significant expenses.

We may be adversely affected by cyclicality or an extended downturn in the United States or worldwide economy, or in or related to the industries we serve.

Our revenues are generated primarily from servicing customers seeking to hire qualified professionals in the technology and finance sectors. Demand for these professionals, and professionals in the other vertical industries we serve, tends to be tied to economic cycles. For example, during the recession in 2001, employers reduced or postponed their recruiting efforts, including their recruiting of professionals in certain of the vertical industries we serve, such as technology. The 2001 economic recession, coupled with the substantial indebtedness incurred by our predecessor, Dice Inc., resulted in Dice Inc. filing for Chapter 11 protection in 2003. As of December 2006, the seasonally unadjusted unemployment rate for computer-related occupations was 2.4%, the unemployment rate in the finance sector was 2.3% and the overall seasonally unadjusted unemployment rate was 4.3%. However, it is expected that the unemployment rate in 2007 will increase. Additionally, the labor market and certain of the industries we serve have historically experienced short term cyclicality. Increases in the unemployment rate, specifically in the technology, finance and other vertical industries we serve, cyclicality or an extended downturn in the economy could cause our revenues to decline.

It is difficult to estimate the total number of passive or active job seekers or available jobs in the United States or abroad during any given period. If there is a labor shortage, qualified professionals may be less likely to seek our services, which could cause our customers to look elsewhere for attractive employees. Such labor shortages would require us to intensify our marketing efforts towards professionals so that professionals who post their resumes on our websites remain relevant to our customers, which would increase our expenses. Alternatively, if there is a shortage of available jobs, the number of job postings on our websites could decrease, causing our revenues to decline. Any economic downturn or recession in the United States or abroad for an extended period of time could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

If we fail to attract qualified professionals to our websites or grow the number of qualified professionals who use our websites, our revenues could decline.

The value of our websites to our customers is dependent on our ability to continuously attract professionals with the experience, education and skill set our customers seek. For example, the professionals who post their resumes on Dice.com are highly educated, with, as of March 2007, approximately 70% having a bachelor's degree or higher. Our online surveys indicate that 75% of professionals who use Dice.com have more than five years of experience, almost half have more than 10 years of experience and most are currently employed. To grow our businesses, we must continue to convince qualified professionals that our services will assist them in finding employment, so that customers will choose to use our services to find employees. We do not know the extent to which we have penetrated the market of qualified professionals in the industries we serve or the extent to which we will be able to grow the number of qualified professionals who use our websites. If we are unable to increase the number of professionals using our websites, or if the professionals who use our websites are viewed as unattractive by our customers, our customers could seek to list jobs and search for candidates elsewhere, which could cause our revenues to decline.

Capacity constraints, systems failures or breaches of our network security could materially and adversely affect our business.

We derive almost all of our revenues from the purchase of recruitment products and services and employment advertising offered on our websites. As a result, our operations depend on our ability to maintain and protect our computer systems, most of which are located in redundant and independent systems in Urbandale, Iowa. Any system failure, including network, software or hardware failure that causes interruption or an increase in response time of our services, could substantially decrease usage of our services and could reduce the attractiveness of our services to both our customers and professionals. An increase in the volume of queries conducted through our services could strain the capacity of the software or hardware we employ. This could lead to slower response times or system failures and prevent users from accessing our websites for extended periods of time, thereby decreasing usage and attractiveness of our services.

Our operations are dependent in part on our ability to protect our operating systems against:

- physical damage from acts of God;
- terrorist attacks or other acts of war;
- power loss;
- telecommunications failures;
- physical and electronic break-ins;
- hacker attacks;
- computer viruses; and
- similar events.

Although we maintain insurance against fires, floods and general business interruptions, the amount of coverage may not be adequate in any particular case. Furthermore, the occurrence of any of these events could result in interruptions, delays or cessations in service to users of our services, which could materially impair or prohibit our ability to provide our services and significantly impact our business.

Additionally, overall Internet usage could decline if any well-publicized compromise of security occurs or if there is a perceived lack of security of information, including credit card numbers and other personal information. "Hacking" involves efforts to gain unauthorized access to information or systems or to cause intentional malfunctions or loss or corruption of data, software, hardware or other computer equipment. Although we have not experienced any security breaches to date and we maintain a firewall, computer hackers, if successful, could penetrate our network security and misappropriate proprietary or personal information or cause disruptions in our services. We might be required to expend significant capital and resources to protect against, or alleviate, problems caused by hackers. We may also not have a timely remedy against a hacker who is able to penetrate our network security.

Our networks could also be affected by computer viruses or other similar disruptive problems and we could inadvertently transmit viruses across our networks to our users or other third parties. Any of these occurrences could harm our business or give rise to a cause of action against us. Our general business interruption insurance policies have limitations with respect to covering interruptions caused by computer viruses or hackers. We have not added specific insurance coverage to protect against these risks.

Our activities and the activities of third party contractors involve the storage, use and transmission of proprietary and personal information, including personal information collected from professionals who use our websites. Accordingly, security breaches could expose us to a risk of loss or litigation and possibly liabilities. We cannot assure you that contractual provisions attempting to limit our liability in these areas will be successful or enforceable, or that other parties will accept such contractual provisions as part of our agreements.

Any security breaches or our inability to provide users with continuous access to our networks could materially impact our ability to provide our services as well as materially impact the confidence of our customers in our services, either of which could have a material adverse effect on our business.

We may be liable with respect to the collection, storage and use of professionals' personal information and our current practices may not be in compliance with proposed new laws and regulations.

Our business depends on our ability to collect, store, use and disclose personal data from the professionals who use our websites. Our policies concerning the collection, use and disclosure of personally identifiable information are described on our websites. In recent years, class action lawsuits have been filed and the Federal Trade Commission and state agencies have commenced investigations with respect to the collection, use and sale by various Internet companies of users' personal information. While we believe we are in compliance with current law, we cannot ensure that we will not be subject to lawsuits or investigations for violations of law. Moreover, our current practices regarding the collection, storage and use of user information may not be in compliance with currently pending legislative and regulatory proposals by the United States federal government and various state and foreign governments intended to limit the collection and use of user information. While we have implemented and intend to implement additional programs designed to enhance the protection of the privacy of our users, these programs may not conform to all or any of these laws or regulations and we may consequently incur civil or criminal liability for failing to conform. As a result, we may be forced to change our current practices relating to the collection, storage and use of user information. Our failure to comply with laws and regulations could also lead to adverse publicity and a loss of consumer confidence if it were known that we did not take adequate measures to assure the confidentiality of the personally identifiable information that our users had given to us. This could result in a loss of customers and revenue and materially impact the success of our business.

Concern among prospective customers and professionals regarding our use of personal information collected on our websites, such as credit card numbers, email addresses, phone numbers and other personal information, could keep prospective customers from using our career services websites. Internet-wide incidents or incidents with respect to our websites, including misappropriation of our users' personal information, penetration of our network security, or changes in industry standards, regulations or laws could deter people from using the Internet or our websites to conduct transactions that involve confidential information, which could have a material adverse impact on our business.

Additionally, the European Union has adopted a directive, and most of the EU states have adopted laws, that impose restrictions on the collection, use and disclosure of personal data concerning EU residents, and on any transfer of such data outside of the EU. In response to the directive and these laws, which prohibit the transfer of data to countries that are not deemed to have laws that adequately protect data subjects' privacy rights, other countries have adopted or are considering adopting laws and regulations regarding the collection, use and disclosure of personal data that meet the EU's standard for adequacy. Directives and privacy acts of these other countries may have an adverse effect on our ability to collect, use, disclose and transfer personal data from users in the applicable countries and consequently may have an adverse effect on our business.

We must adapt our business model to keep pace with rapid changes in the recruiting and career services business, including rapidly changing technologies and the development of new products and services.

Providing recruiting and career development services on the Internet is a relatively new and rapidly evolving business, and we will not be successful if our business model does not keep pace with new trends and developments. The adoption of recruiting and job seeking, particularly among those who have historically relied on traditional recruiting methods, requires acceptance of a new way of conducting business, exchanging information and applying for jobs. The number of customers and professionals utilizing our services has increased over at least the past three years. However, online recruiting may not continue to gain market acceptance at its current rate. If we are unable to adapt our business model to keep pace with changes in the recruiting business, or if we are unable to convince those who use traditional recruiting methods to use our online recruiting services, our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity could be materially adversely affected.

Our success is also dependent on our ability to adapt to rapidly changing technology and to develop new products and services. Accordingly, to maintain our competitive position and our revenue base, we must continually modernize and improve the features, reliability and functionality of our service offerings and related products in response to our competitors. Future technological advances in the career services industry may result in the availability of new recruiting and career development offerings or increase in the efficiency of our existing offerings. Many of our competitors have longer operating histories, larger client bases, longer relationships with clients, greater brand or name recognition, or significantly greater financial, technical, marketing and public relations resources than we do. As a result, they may be in a position to respond more quickly to new or emerging technologies and changes in customer requirements, and to develop and promote their products and services more effectively than we can. We may not be able to adapt to such technological changes or offer new products on a timely basis or establish or maintain competitive positions. If we are unable to develop and introduce new products and services, or enhancements to existing products and services, in a timely and successful manner, our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity could be materially and adversely affected.

We have a substantial amount of indebtedness which could affect our financial condition.

Following the offering, we will have a substantial amount of indebtedness. As of December 31, 2006, after giving effect to the 2007 Financing and this offering, we would have had $ million of indebtedness outstanding. If we cannot generate sufficient cash flow from operations to service our debt, we may need to further refinance our debt, dispose of assets or issue equity to obtain necessary funds. We do not know whether we will be able to do any of this on a timely basis or on terms satisfactory to us or at all.

Our substantial amount of indebtedness could limit our ability to:

- obtain necessary additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures or other purposes in the future;
- plan for, or react to, changes in our business and the industries in which we operate;

- make future acquisitions or pursue other business opportunities; and
- react in an extended economic downturn.

If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow from operations to service our debt, further refinance our debt or raise funds through asset sales, sales of equity or otherwise, then our ability to pay principal and interest on our outstanding indebtedness would also be impaired. In addition, because borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility bear interest at a variable rate, our interest expense could increase, exacerbating these risks.

Additionally, as a holding company, we are dependent on our subsidiaries for our cash flow. If our subsidiaries are unable to distribute cash to us for any reason, including due to restrictions in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility, we would not be able to satisfy our obligations under our credit agreement.

The terms of our Amended and Restated Credit Facility may restrict our current and future operations, which would adversely affect our ability to respond to changes in our business and to manage our operations.

Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility contains, and any future indebtedness of ours would likely contain, a number of restrictive covenants that impose significant operating and financial restrictions on us, including restrictions on our ability to, among other things:

- incur additional debt;
- pay dividends and make other restricted payments;
- create liens;
- make investments and acquisitions;
- engage in sales of assets and subsidiary stock;
- enter into sale-leaseback transactions;
- enter into transactions with affiliates;
- transfer all or substantially all of our assets or enter into merger or consolidation transactions;
- hedge currency and interest rate risk; and
- make capital expenditures.

Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility also requires us to maintain certain financial ratios. A failure by us to comply with the covenants or financial ratios contained in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility could result in an event of default under the facility which could adversely affect our ability to respond to changes in our business and manage our operations. In the event of any default under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility, the lenders under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility will not be required to lend any additional amounts to us. Our lenders also could elect to declare all amounts outstanding to be due and payable and require us to apply all of our available cash to repay these amounts. If the indebtedness under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility were to be accelerated, there can be no assurance that our assets would be sufficient to repay this indebtedness in full.

If we are not able to successfully identify or integrate future acquisitions, including fully integrating the operations of recently acquired eFinancialGroup, our management's attention could be diverted, and our efforts to integrate future acquisitions could consume significant resources.

An important component of our strategy is to expand the geographic markets and the vertical sectors we serve and diversify the products and services we offer through the acquisition of other complementary businesses and technologies. For example, in October 2006, we consummated the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, and, as a result, we are in the process of integrating eFinancialCareers.com and JobsintheMoney.com, each an online career website targeting capital markets and financial services professionals and accounting and finance professionals, respectively. We have also expanded our global reach through our joint venture in India with CyberMedia Limited, which created the largest targeted vertical career website for technology professionals in India. Our further growth may depend in part on our ability to identify additional suitable acquisition candidates and acquire them on terms that are beneficial to us. We may not be able to identify suitable acquisition candidates or acquire them on favorable terms or at all. In addition, the anticipated results or operational benefits of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition or any other businesses we acquire may not be realized and we may not be successful in integrating eFinancialCareers.com and JobsintheMoney.com or any other acquired business into our operations. Failure to manage and successfully integrate acquired businesses could harm our business. Even if we are successful in making an acquisition, we may encounter numerous risks, including the following:

- expenses, delays and difficulties in integrating the operations, technologies and products of acquired companies;
- potential disruption of our ongoing operations;
- diversion of management's attention from normal daily operations of the business;
- inability to maintain key business relationships and the reputations of acquired businesses;
- entry into markets in which we have limited or no prior experience and in which our competitors have stronger market positions;
- dependence on unfamiliar employees, affiliates and partners;
- the amortization of the acquired company's intangible assets;
- insufficient revenues to offset increased expenses associated with the acquisition;
- inability to maintain our internal standards, controls, procedures and policies;
- reduction or replacement of the sales of existing services by sales of products and services from acquired business lines;
- potential loss of key employees of the acquired companies;
- difficulties integrating the personnel and cultures of the acquired companies into our operations; and
- responsibility for the potential liabilities of the acquired businesses.

If any of these risks materialize, they could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity.

Our potential future growth may strain our resources.

As our operations have expanded, we have experienced a rapid growth in our headcount. We grew from 202 employees at December 31, 2005 to 329 employees at December 31, 2006. We expect to continue to increase our headcount in the future. Our rapid growth has demanded and will continue to demand substantial resources and attention from our management, including improving our operational and financial systems and expanding, training, retaining and managing our employee base. If we do not effectively manage our growth and expand, train, retain and manage our employee base, our customer service and responsiveness could suffer and our costs could increase, which could harm our brand, increase our expenses and reduce our profitability.

Misappropriation or misuse of our intellectual property could harm our reputation, affect our competitive position and cost us money.

Our success and ability to compete are dependent in part on the strength of our intellectual property rights, the content included on our websites, the goodwill associated with our trademarks, trade names and service marks and on our ability to use U.S. and foreign laws to protect them. Our intellectual property includes, among other things, the content included on our websites, our logos, brands, domain names, the technology that we use to deliver our products and services, the various databases of information that we maintain and make available and the appearance of our websites. We claim common law protection on certain names and marks that we have used in connection with our business activities and the content included on our websites. We also own a number of registered or applied-for trademarks and service marks that we use in connection with our business, including

DICE, CLEARANCEJOBS.COM and JOBSINTHEMONEY. Although we generally pursue the registration of material service marks and other material intellectual property we own, where applicable, we have copyrights, trademarks and/or service marks that have not been registered in the United States and/or other jurisdictions, including the EFINANCIALCAREERS mark.

We generally enter into confidentiality agreements with our employees, consultants, vendors and customers, and license agreements with third parties to protect our intellectual property rights. We also seek to control access to and distribution of our technology, documentation and other proprietary information as well as proprietary information licensed from third parties. Policing our intellectual property rights worldwide is a difficult task, and we may not be able to identify infringing users. The steps we have taken to protect our proprietary rights may not be adequate, and third parties could infringe, misappropriate or misuse our intellectual property rights. If this were to occur, it could harm our reputation and affect our competitive position. It could also require us to spend significant time and money in litigation.

We have licensed in the past, and expect to license in the future, various elements of our distinctive trademarks, service marks, trade dress, trade secrets, content and similar proprietary rights to third parties. While we attempt to ensure that the quality of our brands is maintained by these licensees, we cannot assure you that third party licensees of our proprietary rights will always take actions to protect the value of our intellectual property and reputation, which could adversely affect our business and reputation.

We could be subject to infringement claims that may result in costly litigation, the payment of damages or the need to revise the way we conduct business.

We cannot be certain that our technology, offerings, services or content do not or will not infringe upon the intellectual property rights of third parties and from time to time we receive notices alleging potential infringement. In seeking to protect our marks, copyrights, domain names and other intellectual property rights, or in defending ourselves against claims of infringement that may or may not be without merit, we could face costly litigation and the diversion of our management's attention and resources. Claims against us could result in the need to develop alternative trademarks, content, technology or other intellectual property or to enter into costly royalty or licensing agreements, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity. If we were found to have infringed on a third party's intellectual property rights, among other things, the value of our brands and our business reputation could be impaired, and our business could suffer.

If we are unable to enforce or defend our ownership or use of intellectual property, our business, competitive position and operating results could be harmed.

The success of our business depends in large part on our intellectual property rights, including existing and future trademarks, trade secrets, and copyrights, which are and will continue to be valuable and important assets of our business. Our business could be harmed if we are not able to protect the content of our databases and our other intellectual property.

We have taken measures to protect our intellectual property, such as requiring our employees and consultants with access to our proprietary information to execute confidentiality agreements. In the future, we may sue competitors or other parties who we believe to be infringing our intellectual property. We may in the future also find it necessary to assert claims regarding our intellectual property. These measures may not be sufficient or effective to protect our intellectual property. We also rely on laws, including those regarding copyrights, trademarks and trade secrets to protect our intellectual property rights. Current laws, or the enforceability of such laws, specifically in foreign jurisdictions, may not adequately protect our intellectual property or our databases and the data contained in them. In addition, legal standards relating to the validity, enforceability and scope of protection of intellectual property rights in Internet-related businesses are uncertain and evolving, and we cannot assure you of the future viability or value of any of our proprietary rights.

Others may develop technologies similar or superior to our technology. A significant impairment of our intellectual property rights could require us to develop alternative intellectual property, incur licensing or other expenses or limit our product and service offerings.

We are controlled by two groups of principal stockholders whose interest in our business may be different than yours.

Together, the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders will beneficially own approximately % of our outstanding common stock after the consummation of this offering. Accordingly, together the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders can exercise significant influence over our business policies and affairs, including the composition of our board of directors, and over any action requiring the approval of our stockholders, including the adoption of amendments to our certificate of incorporation and the approval of mergers or sales of substantially all of our assets. The concentration of ownership of the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders may also delay, defer or even prevent an acquisition by a third party or other change of control of our company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders, even if such events are in the best interests of minority stockholders.

Pursuant to our Amended and Restated Stockholders Agreement, or the "Stockholders Agreement," and our certificate of incorporation, we have agreed that the doctrine of "corporate opportunity" will not apply against our Principal Stockholders in a manner that would prohibit them from investing in competing businesses or doing business with our clients and customers. To the extent they invest in such other businesses, they may have differing interests than our other stockholders.

For additional information regarding the share ownership of, and our relationship with, the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders, you should read the information under the headings "Principal and Selling Stockholders" and "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions."

We will be exempt from certain corporate governance requirements since we will be a "controlled company" within the meaning of the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE") rules and, as a result, our stockholders will not have the protections afforded by these corporate governance requirements.

Together, the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders will continue to control more than 50% of the voting power of our common stock upon completion of this offering. As a result, we will be considered a "controlled company" for the purposes of the NYSE listing requirements and therefore we will be permitted to, and we intend to, opt out of the NYSE listing requirements that would otherwise require our board of directors to have a majority of independent directors and our Compensation and Nominating and Governance Committees to be comprised entirely of independent directors. Accordingly, our stockholders will not have the same protection afforded to stockholders of companies that are subject to all of the NYSE governance requirements and the ability of our independent directors to influence our business policies and affairs may be reduced. See "Management—Corporate Governance—Controlled Company."

We will incur increased costs as a result of being a public company.

As a public company, we will incur significant levels of legal, accounting and other expenses that we did not incur as a privately-owned corporation. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 ("Sarbanes-Oxley") and related rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the "Commission," and the NYSE regulate corporate governance practices of public companies and impose significant requirements relating to disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting. We expect that compliance with these public company requirements will increase our costs, require additional resources and make some activities more time consuming than they have been in the past when we were privately-owned. We will be required to expend considerable time and resources complying with public company regulations.

Failure to establish and maintain effective internal control over financial reporting could have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and stock price.

Maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting is necessary for us to produce reliable financial reports and is important in helping to prevent financial fraud. If we are unable to achieve and maintain adequate internal controls, our business and operating results could be harmed. We are also beginning to evaluate how to document and test our internal control procedures to satisfy the requirements of Section 404 of Sarbanes-Oxley and the related rules of the Commission, which require, among other things, our management to assess annually the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting and our independent registered public accounting firm to issue a report on that assessment beginning with our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ending December 31, 2008. During the course of this documentation and testing, we may identify reportable conditions that we may be unable to remedy before the requisite deadline for those reports. Our auditors have not conducted an audit of our internal control over financial reporting. Any failure to remediate reportable conditions noted by our independent registered public accounting firm or to implement required new or improved controls or difficulties encountered in their implementation could cause us to fail to meet our reporting obligations or result in material misstatements in our financial statements. If our management or our independent registered public accounting firm were to conclude in their reports that our internal control over financial reporting was not effective, investors could lose confidence in our reported financial information, and the trading price of our stock could drop significantly.

We are dependent on the continued service of key executives and technical personnel whose expertise would be difficult to replace and, if we fail to retain key executives and personnel, there could be a material adverse effect on our business.

Our performance is substantially dependent on the performance of senior management and key technical personnel. We have employment agreements, which include non-compete provisions, with all members of senior management and certain key technical personnel. However, we cannot assure you that any of these senior managers or others will remain with us or that they will not compete with us in the event they cease to be employees, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity. In addition, we have not purchased key person life insurance on any members of our senior management.

Our future success also depends upon our continuing ability to identify, attract, hire and retain highly qualified personnel, including skilled technical, management, product and technology, and sales and marketing personnel, all of whom are in high demand and are often subject to competing offers. There has in the past been, and there may in the future be, a shortage of qualified personnel in the career services market. We also compete intensely for qualified personnel with other companies. A loss of a substantial number of qualified employees, or an inability to attract, retain and motivate additional highly skilled employees required for expansion of our business, could have a material adverse effect on our business.

Our business is subject to U.S. and foreign government regulation of the Internet and taxation, which may have a material adverse effect on our business.

Congress and various state and local governments, as well as the European Union, have passed legislation that regulates various aspects of the Internet, including content, copyright infringement, user privacy, taxation, access charges, liability for third-party activities and jurisdiction. In addition, federal, state, local and foreign governmental organizations are also considering legislative and regulatory proposals that would regulate the Internet. Areas of potential regulation include libel, pricing, quality of products and services and intellectual property ownership. A number of proposals have been made at the state and local level that would impose taxes on the sale of goods and services through the Internet. Such proposals, if adopted, could substantially impair the growth of commerce over the Internet and could adversely affect our business, future results of operations, financial condition and liquidity.

A law imposing a three-year moratorium on new taxes on Internet-based transactions was enacted by Congress in October 1998. Although the moratorium was scheduled to expire in 2001, Congress passed legislation extending this moratorium until 2003, and then again extended it until November 1, 2007. This moratorium relates to new taxes on Internet access fees and state taxes on commerce that discriminate against out-of-state websites. Sales or use taxes imposed upon the sale of products or services over the Internet are not affected by this moratorium.

We may be subject to restrictions on our ability to communicate with our customers through email and phone calls. Several jurisdictions have proposed or adopted privacy-related laws that restrict or prohibit unsolicited email or "spam." These laws may impose significant monetary penalties for violations. For example, the CAN-SPAM Act of 2003, or "CAN-SPAM," imposes complex and often burdensome requirements in connection with sending commercial email. Key provisions of CAN-SPAM have yet to be interpreted by the courts. Depending on how it is interpreted, CAN-SPAM may impose burdens on our email marketing practices or services we offer or may offer. Although CAN-SPAM is thought to have pre-empted state laws governing unsolicited email, the effectiveness of that preemption is likely to be tested in court challenges. If any of those challenges are successful, our business may be subject to state laws and regulations that may further restrict our email marketing practices and the services we may offer. The scope of those regulations is unpredictable.

Because a number of these laws are relatively new and still in the process of being implemented, we do not know how courts will interpret these laws. Therefore, we are uncertain as to how new laws or the application of existing laws will affect our business. Increased regulation of the Internet may therefore reduce the use of the Internet, which could decrease demand for our services, increase our cost of doing business or otherwise have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and liquidity.

We face risks relating to our foreign operations.

As a result of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, we now operate an additional 14 websites around the world. As of December 31, 2006, on a pro forma basis, approximately 16% of our total revenues were generated outside of the United States. Such amounts are collected in local currency. As a result of operating outside the United States, we are at risk for exchange rate fluctuations between such local currencies and the United States dollar, which could affect our results of operations. To date, we have not engaged in exchange rate hedging activities and our Amended and Restated Credit Facility contains a restrictive covenant which limits our ability to hedge currency risk. Even were we to implement hedging strategies to mitigate this risk, these strategies might not eliminate our exposure to foreign exchange rate fluctuations and would involve costs and risks of their own, such as ongoing management time and expertise, external costs to implement the strategies and potential accounting implications.

We are also subject to taxation in foreign jurisdictions. In addition, transactions between our foreign subsidiaries and us may be subject to United States and foreign withholding taxes. Applicable tax rates in foreign jurisdictions differ from those of the United States, and change periodically. The extent, if any, to which we will receive credit in the United States for taxes we pay in foreign jurisdictions will depend upon the application of limitations set forth in the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, or the "Code," as well as the provisions of any tax treaties that may exist between the United States and such foreign jurisdictions.

Our current or future international operations might not succeed for a number of reasons including:

- difficulties in staffing and managing foreign operations;
- competition from local recruiting services or employment advertising agencies;
- operational issues such as longer customer payment cycles and greater difficulties in collecting accounts receivable;
- language and cultural differences;

- taxation issues;
- foreign exchange controls that might prevent us from repatriating income earned in countries outside the United States;
- multiple and conflicting laws and regulations, including complications due to unexpected changes in these laws and regulations;
- the burdens of complying with a wide variety of foreign laws and regulations;
- difficulties in enforcing intellectual property rights in countries other than the United States; and
- general political and economic trends.

A write-off of all or a part of our goodwill would hurt our operating results and reduce our net worth.

We have significant intangible assets related to goodwill, which represents the excess of the total purchase price of our acquisitions over the estimated fair value of the net assets acquired. As of December 31, 2006, we had $156 million of unamortized goodwill on our balance sheet, which represented approximately 52% of our total assets. We are not permitted to amortize goodwill under U.S. accounting standards and instead are required to review goodwill at least annually for impairment. In the event impairment is identified, a charge to earnings would be recorded. Although it does not affect our cash flow, a write-off in future periods of all or a part of our goodwill would hurt our operating results and net worth. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Critical Accounting Policies—Goodwill and Intangible Assets."

Risks Related to this Offering and Our Common Stock

Because the initial public offering price per common share is substantially higher than our book value per common share, purchasers in this offering will immediately experience a substantial dilution in net tangible book value.

Purchasers of our common stock will experience immediate and substantial dilution in net tangible book value per share from the initial public offering price per share. After giving effect to the sale of the shares of common stock we have offered hereby and after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us, and the application of the net proceeds therefrom, our pro forma net tangible book value as of December 31, 2006, would have been $ million, or $ per share of common stock. This represents an immediate dilution in pro forma net tangible book value of $ per share to new investors purchasing shares of our common stock in this offering. A calculation of the dilution purchasers will incur is provided under "Dilution."

Substantial future sales of shares of our common stock in the public market could cause our stock price to fall.

Upon consummation of this offering, we will have outstanding shares of common stock (approximately if the underwriters exercise their over-allotment option in full). Of these shares, the shares of common stock offered hereby will be freely tradable without restriction in the public market, unless purchased by our affiliates. Upon completion of this offering, our existing stockholders will beneficially own shares of our common stock, which will represent approximately % of our outstanding common stock (approximately % if the underwriters exercise their over-allotment option in full). Immediately following the consummation of this offering, the holders of approximately shares of common stock will be entitled to dispose of their shares pursuant to the holding period, volume and other restrictions of Rule 144 under the Securities Act, subject to the 180-day lock-up under our Stockholders Agreement, and the holders of approximately shares of common stock, representing approximately % of our outstanding common stock, will be entitled to dispose of their shares following the expiration of an initial 180-day underwriter "lock-up" period pursuant to the holding period, volume and other restrictions of Rule 144. The underwriters are entitled to waive the underwriter lock-up provisions at their discretion prior to the expiration dates of such lock-up agreements. In addition, we have granted the holders of these shares certain registration rights. Beginning upon the earlier of 180 days after the consummation of this offering or the earlier termination of the initial 180-day underwriter lock-up period, each of the General Atlantic Stockholders and Quadrangle Stockholders are entitled to certain demand and piggyback registration rights. Certain of our officers and employees, which we refer to as the "Management Stockholders," and the eFG Stockholders are entitled to piggyback registration rights with respect to any registration request made by a Principal Stockholder. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions —Stockholders Agreement—Registration Rights."

Following this offering, we intend to file a registration statement under the Securities Act registering shares of our common stock reserved for issuance under our 2005 Stock Plan and our 2007 Equity Plan.

See the information under the heading "Shares Available for Future Sale" for a more detailed description of the shares that will be available for future sale upon completion of this offering.

We do not intend to pay dividends in the foreseeable future, and, because we are a holding company, we may be unable to pay dividends.

For the foreseeable future, we intend to retain any earnings to finance the development and expansion of our business, and we do not anticipate paying any cash dividends on our common stock. Any future determination to pay dividends will be at the discretion of our board of directors and will be dependent on then-existing conditions, including our financial condition and results of operations, capital requirements, contractual restrictions, including restrictions under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility, business prospects and other factors that our board of directors considers relevant. Furthermore, because we are a holding company, any dividend payments would depend on the cash flow of our subsidiaries. Accordingly, we may not be able to pay dividends even if our board of directors would otherwise deem it appropriate. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources" and "Description of Capital Stock—Common Stock." For the foregoing reasons, you will not be able to rely on dividends to receive a return on your investment.

Provisions in our charter documents and Delaware law may delay or prevent our acquisition by a third party.

Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and by-laws, which we intend to adopt prior to the completion of this offering, will contain several provisions that may make it more difficult or expensive for a third party to acquire control of us without the approval of our board of directors. These provisions also may delay, prevent or deter a merger, acquisition, tender offer, proxy contest or other transaction that might otherwise result in our stockholders receiving a premium over the market price for their common stock. The provisions include, among others:

- provisions relating to creating a board of directors that is divided into three classes with staggered terms;
- provisions relating to the number and election of directors, the appointment of directors upon an increase in the number of directors or vacancy and provisions permitting the removal of directors only for cause and with a 66 ^{2}/3% stockholder vote;
- provisions requiring a 66 ^{2}/3% stockholder vote for the amendment of certain provisions of our certificate of incorporation and for the adoption, amendment and repeal of our by-laws;
- provisions barring stockholders from calling a special meeting of stockholders or requiring one to be called;

- elimination of the right of our stockholders to act by written consent; and
- provisions that set forth advance notice procedures for stockholders' nominations of directors and proposals for consideration at meetings of stockholders.

Additionally, because we are incorporated in Delaware, we are subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. In general, Section 203 prevents an interested stockholder (defined generally as a person owning 15% or more of the corporation's outstanding voting stock) of a Delaware corporation from engaging in a business combination (as defined) for three years following the date that person became an interested stockholder unless various conditions are satisfied. For more information, see "Description of Capital Stock." These provisions of our amended and restated certificate of incorporation, by-laws and Delaware law could discourage potential takeover attempts and reduce the price that investors might be willing to pay for shares of our common stock in the future which could reduce the market price of our stock.

Our stock price may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell your shares at or above the offering price or at all.

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for our common stock, and an active trading market may not develop or be sustained upon the completion of this offering. The initial public offering price of the common stock offered hereby was determined through our negotiations with the underwriters and may not be indicative of the market price of the common stock after this offering. The market price of our common stock after this offering will be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results and market conditions specific to the recruiting and career development industry.

Forward-looking Statements

This prospectus contains forward-looking statements. You should not place undue reliance on those statements because they are subject to numerous uncertainties and factors relating to our operations and business environment, all of which are difficult to predict and many of which are beyond our control. Forward-looking statements include information concerning our possible or assumed future results of operations, including descriptions of our business strategy. These statements often include words such as "may," "will," "should," "believe," "expect," "anticipate," "intend," "plan," "estimate" or similar expressions. These statements are based on assumptions that we have made in light of our experience in the industry as well as our perceptions of historical trends, current conditions, expected future developments and other factors we believe are appropriate under the circumstances. As you read and consider this prospectus, you should understand that these statements are not guarantees of performance or results. They involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Although we believe that these forward-looking statements are based on reasonable assumptions, you should be aware that many factors could affect our actual financial results or results of operations and could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements. These factors include but are not limited to:

- competition from existing and future competitors;
- failure to maintain and develop our reputation and brand recognition;
- failure to increase or maintain the number of customers who purchase recruitment packages;
- increases in the unemployment rate, cyclicality or downturns in the United States or worldwide economy or the industries we serve, labor shortages or job shortages;
- failure to attract qualified professionals or grow the number of qualified professionals who use our websites;
- capacity constraints, systems failures or breaches of network security;
- compliance with laws and regulations concerning collection, storage and use of professionals' personal information;
- changes in the recruiting and career services business and technologies, and the development of new products and services;
- our substantial indebtedness;
- covenants in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility;
- inability to successfully identify or integrate future acquisitions, including the eFinancialGroup Acquisition;
- strain on our resources due to future growth;
- misappropriation or misuse of our intellectual property, claims against us for intellectual property infringement or the failure to enforce our ownership or use of intellectual property;
- control by our principal stockholders;
- compliance with certain corporate governance requirements and costs incurred in connection with becoming a public company;
- failure to establish and maintain internal controls over financial reporting;
- loss of key executives and technical personnel;
- U.S. and foreign government regulation of the Internet and taxation;
- our foreign operations; and
- write-offs of goodwill.

These and other factors are more fully discussed in the "Risk Factors" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" sections and elsewhere in this prospectus. These risks could cause actual results to differ materially from those implied by forward-looking statements in this prospectus.

All information contained in this prospectus is materially accurate and complete as of the date of this prospectus. You should keep in mind, however, that any forward-looking statement made by us in this prospectus, or elsewhere, speaks only as of the date on which we make it. New risks and uncertainties come up from time to time, and it is impossible for us to predict these events or how they may affect us. We have no obligation to update any forward-looking statements in this prospectus after the date of this prospectus, except as required by federal securities laws. In light of these risks and uncertainties, you should keep in mind that any event described in a forward-looking statement made in this prospectus or elsewhere might not occur.

Use of Proceeds

We estimate that our net proceeds from this offering will be approximately $ million, after deducting underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses of approximately $ million.

We intend to use the proceeds from this offering:

- to repay a portion of the outstanding indebtedness under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility; and
- for working capital and general corporate purposes.

Borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility bear interest, at our option, at either a LIBOR rate plus 3.25% or a reference rate plus 1.75%. Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility matures on March 21, 2012. We used a portion of the proceeds from our Amended and Restated Credit Facility to pay the 2007 Dividend.

We have broad discretion as to the application of these proceeds. Prior to application, we may hold any net proceeds in cash or invest them in liquid short and medium term securities. You will not have an opportunity to evaluate the economic, financial or other information on which we base our decisions regarding the use of these proceeds.

A $1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of $ per share would increase (decrease) the amount of proceeds from this offering available for working capital and general corporate purposes by $ million, assuming the number of shares offered by us, as set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, remains the same, and after deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us.

We will not receive any proceeds from the sale of our common stock by the selling stockholders, including any proceeds resulting from the underwriters' exercise of their option to purchase additional shares from the selling stockholders.

Dividend Policy

On October 27, 2006, we paid a cash dividend of approximately $11.2 million in the aggregate, or $100 per share, to holders of our Series A convertible preferred stock. On March 23, 2007, we paid a cash dividend of approximately $107.9 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per share, to holders of our common stock and Series A convertible preferred stock and made a payment of $4.6 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per vested option, to holders of vested stock options in lieu of a dividend. We have not declared or paid any other dividends.

For the foreseeable future, we intend to retain any earnings to finance the development and expansion of our business, and we do not anticipate paying any cash dividends on our common stock. Any future determination to pay dividends will be at the discretion of our board of directors and will be dependent upon then-existing conditions, including our financial condition and results of operations, capital requirements, contractual restrictions, including restrictions contained in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility, business prospects and other factors that our board of directors considers relevant.

Table of Contents

Capitalization

The following table sets forth our cash and cash equivalents and capitalization as of December 31, 2006:

- on an actual basis, and
- on an as-adjusted basis, giving effect to:
  - the 2007 Financing,
  - the Conversion and the Stock Split,
  - the sale of shares of our common stock in this offering at an assumed public offering price of $, after deducting the underwriters' discount and the estimated offering expenses and
  - the application of the net proceeds of this offering as described under "Use of Proceeds."

	As of December 31, 2006
	Actual	As Adjusted
	(in thousands except share and per share data)
Cash and cash equivalents	$5,945	$
Long-term debt, including current portion(1)	$89,000	$
Stockholders' equity:
Series A convertible preferred stock, $0.01 par value per share (actual, authorized 125,000 shares, 119,672 shares issued and outstanding; as adjusted, authorized shares, shares issued and outstanding)	1
Common stock, $0.01 par value per share (actual, authorized 150,000 shares, 200 shares issued and outstanding; as adjusted, authorized shares, shares issued and outstanding)	—
Additional paid-in capital	138,629
Accumulated other comprehensive income	1,829
Accumulated deficit	(6,124)
Total stockholders' equity	134,335
Total capitalization	$223,335	$

(1) Reflects amounts outstanding under our prior credit facility. On March 21, 2007, we entered into our Amended and Restated Credit Facility. Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility provides for a $125 million term loan and a $75 million revolving credit facility, each with a five year maturity. Borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility bear interest, at our option, at a LIBOR rate plus 3.25% or a reference rate plus 1.75%. As of March 21, 2007, borrowings of $194 million were outstanding under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility.

Dilution

If you invest in our common stock, you will be diluted to the extent the initial public offering price per share of our common stock exceeds the net tangible book value per share of our common stock immediately after this offering.

Our pro forma net tangible book value as of December 31, 2006 was approximately $ million, or $ per share of common stock (after giving effect to the 2007 Financing, the Conversion and the Stock Split). The net tangible book value per share represents the amount of our tangible net worth, or total tangible assets less pro forma total liabilities, divided by shares of our common stock outstanding as of that date (after giving effect to the 2007 Financing, the Conversion and the Stock Split).

After giving effect to the 2007 Financing, the Conversion and the Stock Split, issuance and sale of shares of our common stock sold by us in this offering and our receipt of approximately $ million in net proceeds from such sale, based on an assumed public offering price of $ per share (the midpoint of the range set forth on the cover page of this prospectus), and after deducting the underwriting discount and commission and the estimated expenses of the offering, our pro forma as adjusted net tangible book value per share as of December 31, 2006 would have been approximately $ million, or $ per share. This amount represents an immediate increase in pro forma net tangible book value of $ to existing stockholders and an immediate dilution in pro forma net tangible book value of $ per share to new investors purchasing shares of our common stock in this offering. Dilution per share is determined by subtracting the pro forma net tangible book value per share as adjusted for this offering from the amount of cash paid by a new investor for a share of our common stock. Pro forma net tangible book value is not affected by the sale of shares of our common stock offered by the selling stockholders. The following table illustrates the per share dilution:

Assumed initial public offering price per share	$
Pro forma net tangible book value per share as of December 31, 2006 (adjusted for the 2007 Financing, the Conversion and the Stock Split but excluding this offering)	$
Increase in net tangible book value per share attributable to new investors	$
Pro forma adjusted net tangible book value per share after this offering	$
Dilution per share to new investors	$

A $1.00 increase (decrease) in the assumed initial public offering price of $ per share would increase (decrease) our pro forma net tangible book value by $, the pro forma net tangible book value per share after this offering by $ and the dilution per share to new investors by $ (each after giving effect to the 2007 Financing, the Conversion and the Stock Split), assuming the number of shares offered by us, as set forth on the cover page of this prospectus, remains the same, and after deducting the estimated underwriting discounts and commissions and estimated offering expenses payable by us.

The following table summarizes as of December 31, 2006 after giving effect to the 2007 Financing, the Conversion, the Stock Split and this offering as described above:

- the total number of shares of common stock purchased from us;

- the total consideration paid to us before deducting underwriting discounts and commissions of $ and estimated offering expenses of approximately $; and
- the average price per share paid by existing stockholders and by new investors who purchase shares of common stock in this offering at the assumed initial public offering price of $ per share.

	Shares Purchased		Total Consideration		Average Price Per Share
	Number	Percent	Amount	Percent
Existing stockholders		%	$[1]	%	$
New investors
Total		100.0%		$100.0%	$

(1) After giving effect to the 2007 Dividend.

The foregoing tables do not include options to purchase an aggregate of shares of common stock that are currently outstanding under the 2005 Stock Plan or that are to be granted upon consummation of this offering under the 2007 Equity Plan. See “Executive Compensation—Incentive Plans.”

Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Consolidated Statement of Operations

The unaudited pro forma combined consolidated statement of operations data for the year ended December 31, 2006 gives effect to the eFinancialGroup Acquisition as if it had occurred on January 1, 2006. The presentation of the unaudited pro forma combined consolidated statement of operations is prepared in conformity with U.S. GAAP.

The unaudited pro forma combined consolidated statement of operations has been prepared by our management and is based on our historical financial statements, the historical financial statements of eFinancialGroup and the assumptions and adjustments described in the notes to the unaudited pro forma combined consolidated statement of operations below.

Our historical financial information for the year ended December 31, 2006 has been derived from our audited consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes included elsewhere in this prospectus. Notes to Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Consolidated Statement of Operations

Basis of Presentation

On October 31, 2006, we acquired all of the outstanding shares of eFinancialGroup which operates a global recruiting and career development network of websites for professionals. At the time of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, eFinancialGroup was the parent of eFinancialCareers.com, a global recruiting and career development network of websites for capital markets and financial services professionals, JobsintheMoney.com, a recruiting and career development website for accounting and finance professionals in the United States, and eFinancialNews, which publishes financial news periodicals.

We acquired all of the outstanding stock of eFinancialGroup in exchange for a total of £56.5 million (or $106.3 million at the exchange rate in effect on October 31, 2006) in cash and 7,872 shares of our Series A convertible preferred stock valued at $25.2 million, net of cash acquired of $3.9 million. Immediately after the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, eFinancialNews was sold to a company controlled by a group of former eFinancialGroup stockholders for total consideration of £22.0 million (or $41.6 million at the exchange rate in effect on October 31, 2006), resulting in a net purchase price for eFinancialCareers Limited, or "eFinancialCareers," and JobsintheMoney.com, Inc., or "JobsintheMoney," of $89.9 million. The cash portion of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, including transaction costs of approximately $2.3 million, was financed by borrowings of $67.0 million under our prior credit facility plus cash on hand.

The purchase price allocation is substantially complete and material changes to goodwill are not expected. The initial purchase price allocation of eFinancialGroup based upon management's estimates on October 31, 2006, the date of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, was as follows (in millions):

Assets:
Cash and cash equivalents	$3.9
Accounts receivable	4.7
Prepaid and other current assets	0.2
Fixed assets	0.3
Acquired intangible assets	27.1
Goodwill	71.4
Other assets	41.6
Assets acquired	$149.2
Liabilities:
Accounts payable and accrued expenses	$5.0
Deferred income taxes	9.2

Deferred revenue	1.2
Liabilities assumed	$15.4

The portion of the purchase price allocated to eFinancialNews is included above in "Other assets." We received $41.6 million in cash immediately subsequent to the closing of the disposition of eFinancialNews on October 31, 2006. See note 4 to our consolidated financial statements for more information.

Pro Forma Adjustments

(1)	The amounts in this column represent our reported results for the year ended December 31, 2006. These results include the results of operations of eFinancialCareers and JobsintheMoney since October 31, 2006, the date of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition.

(2)	The amounts in this column represent the reported results of eFinancialGroup (including eFinancialNews) for the period of January 1, 2006 to October 31, 2006. The consolidated results for eFinancialGroup are derived from its financial statements and accompanying notes included elsewhere in this prospectus and are reported in British Pounds, which is eFinancialGroup's operating currency, translated at a rate of £1=$1.825, the average rate for the ten month period ended October 31, 2006.
(3)	The amounts in this column represent the results of operations of eFinancialNews. Immediately after we acquired eFinancialGroup, we sold eFinancialNews back to certain of eFinancialGroup's former stockholders. Therefore, the results of operations of eFinancialNews are not included in our pro forma results.
(4)	The amounts in this column represent adjustments to reflect the pro forma impact of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition as follows:
(a)	Adjusted to reflect twelve months of straight-line amortization of intangible assets from the eFinancialGroup Acquisition.
(b)	Adjusted to reflect twelve months of interest expense on $67.0 million borrowed under our prior revolving credit facility to finance the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, calculated at LIBOR of 5.35% (the rate in effect on December 31, 2006) plus a margin of 3.5%. If interest rates were one eighth of one percentage point higher or lower, our pro forma interest expense would have increased or decreased, respectively, by $70,000 in 2006.
(c)	Adjusted to reflect twelve months of amortization of deferred financing costs related to the $855,000 of additional deferred financing costs incurred as part of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition.
(d)	Adjusted to reflect the effects of the pro forma adjustments 4(a) through 4(c) above on income tax expense. The income tax effects of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition adjustments are calculated with reference to the enacted tax rates of the jurisdictions in which the assets and liabilities to which the individual acquisition adjustments relate are owned. An estimated statutory rate of 30.0% and 40.0% were used for the United Kingdom and the United States, respectively. This estimate could change based on changes in the applicable tax rates and finalization of the combined company's tax position.

Selected Consolidated Financial Data

The information set forth below should be read in conjunction with "Capitalization," "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations," "Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Consolidated Statement of Operations" and our consolidated financial statements and related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus.

The following consolidated statements of operations data for the year ended December 31, 2002 and the consolidated balance sheet data as of December 31, 2002 have been derived from the audited consolidated financial statements and related notes of our predecessor company, Dice Inc. ("Pre-reorganization"), that do not appear in this prospectus. The consolidated statements of operations data for the six months ended December 31, 2003 and the consolidated balance sheet data as of December 31, 2003 have been derived from the audited consolidated financial statements and related notes of Dice Inc. ("Predecessor") that do not appear in this prospectus. The consolidated statements of operations data for the year ended December 31, 2004, and the eight months ended August 31, 2005, and the consolidated balance sheet data as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 have been derived from the audited consolidated financial statements and related notes of Dice Inc. ("Predecessor"), which are included elsewhere in this prospectus. The consolidated statements of operations data for the four months ended December 31, 2005 and the year ended December 31, 2006 and the consolidated balance sheet data as of December 31, 2005 and 2006 have been derived from the audited consolidated financial statements and related notes of Dice Holdings, Inc. ("Successor"), which are included elsewhere in this prospectus.

The consolidated statement of operations data for the six months ended June 30, 2003 and the consolidated balance sheet data as of June 30, 2003 have been derived from our unaudited consolidated financial statements that do not appear in this prospectus. We have prepared these unaudited consolidated financial statements on the same basis as our audited financial statements. In the opinion of management, our unaudited consolidated financial statement includes all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the information.

The financial data gives effect to various acquisitions from the date of acquisition.

(1) On February 14, 2003, our Predecessor, Dice Inc., filed a voluntary petition for bankruptcy under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. Its Joint Plan of Reorganization became effective on June 30, 2003. The periods presented prior to July 1, 2003 have been designated "Predecessor," and reflect our Predecessor's accounts prior to the effectiveness of its Joint Plan of Reorganization under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code and the periods subsequent to June 30, 2003 have been designated "reorganized," and reflect our Predecessor's accounts after the effectiveness of its Joint Plan of Reorganization. The periods on or after September 1, 2005 reflect our accounts after the 2005 Acquisition. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Our Company" for additional information.

(2) Reflects reorganization adjustments and the net impact of the adoption of Fresh Start Accounting.

(3) Reflects the acquisition of ClearanceJobs in September 2004.

(4) Reflects the acquisition of Targeted Job Fairs in January 2005.

(5) Reflects the eFinancialGroup Acquisition on October 31, 2006.

(6) Cumulative effect of change in accounting principle of $6.4 million is related to the adoption of FAS 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets."

(7) Basic and diluted net income (loss) per share is computed by dividing the net income (loss) applicable to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of shares outstanding for the period.

(8) Unaudited pro forma net income (loss) per share and pro forma weighted average shares outstanding reflects the Conversion and the Stock Split, which will occur immediately prior to the closing of this offering. See "Certain Relationships and Related Transactions—Conversion and Stock Split."

(9) Deferred revenue is a key metric of our business as it indicates a level of sales already made that will be recognized as revenue in the future. Deferred revenue reflects our increased ability to sign customers to long-term contracts. We recorded deferred revenue of $16.1 million on our consolidated balance sheet, as of August 31, 2005, prior to purchase accounting adjustments related to the 2005 Acquisition. As required by U.S. GAAP, in determining the fair value of the liabilities assumed under purchase accounting, the acquired deferred revenue is to be recorded at fair value to the extent it represents an assumed legal obligation. We estimated our obligation related to deferred revenue as a result of the 2005 Acquisition using the cost build-up approach which determines fair value by estimating the costs related to fulfilling the obligation plus a normal profit margin. The estimated costs to fulfill our deferred revenue obligation in connection with the 2005 Acquisition were based on our expected future costs to fulfill our obligation to our customers. As a result, we recorded an adjustment to reduce the carrying value of deferred revenue by $6.0 million, to $10.1 million. The reduction negatively impacted revenues by $3.9 million and $2.1 million for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively.

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our historical financial statements and the related notes included elsewhere in this prospectus. This discussion contains forward-looking statements that are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties. Actual results and the timing of events may differ significantly from those expressed or implied in such forward-looking statements due to a number of factors, including those set forth in the section entitled "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this prospectus.

Our historical financial data discussed below reflects the historical results of operations and financial position of Dice Holdings, Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries. Accordingly, the historical financial data does not give effect to the completion of this offering and the 2007 Financing. See "–Amended and Restated Credit Facility" and "Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Consolidated Statement of Operations" included elsewhere in this prospectus. The following discussion and analysis of our results of operations includes periods prior to the 2005 Acquisition, the eFinancialGroup Acquisition and certain other acquisitions. Accordingly, our historical results of operations are not indicative of what our future results of operations will be.

Overview

We are a leading provider of specialized career websites for select professional communities. We target employment categories in which there is a scarcity of highly skilled, highly qualified professionals relative to market demand. Our career websites serve as online marketplaces where employers and recruiters find and recruit prospective employees, and where professionals find relevant job opportunities and information to further their careers. Each of our career websites offers job listings, content, career development and recruiting services tailored to the specific needs of the professional community that it serves. Our largest websites by revenue are Dice.com, the leading career website in the United States for technology professionals, and eFinancialCareers.com, the leading global career website for capital markets and financial services professionals, based in the United Kingdom.

Our Company

Through our predecessors, we have been in the technology recruiting and career development business for 16 years. In 1999, the Dice service was acquired by Earthweb Inc., an Internet technology content provider. During 2000, Earthweb Inc. (which subsequently changed its name to Dice Inc.) made a strategic decision to focus on technology recruiting and career development and exited the technology content-based business.

On February 14, 2003, Dice Inc. filed a voluntary petition under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. The Joint Plan of Reorganization was confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court on June 24, 2003, and became effective on June 30, 2003. Upon Dice Inc.'s emergence from bankruptcy it was owned primarily by the holders of its pre-bankruptcy debt securities, which were cancelled upon its emergence, and certain of its pre-bankruptcy stockholders.

In September 2004, Dice Inc. acquired substantially all of the assets of ClearanceJobs.com, the leading recruiting and career development website for professionals with active U.S. Government security clearances, and in January 2005, acquired substantially all of the assets of Targeted Job Fairs, a leading producer and host of career fairs and open houses for technology and engineering and security-cleared candidates.

Dice Holdings, Inc. was incorporated on June 28, 2005 by investment funds organized by the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders. On August 31, 2005, Dice Holdings, Inc. purchased all of the outstanding common stock of Dice Inc. from its stockholders, and Dice Inc. became its wholly-owned subsidiary. Dice Holdings, Inc. is a holding company and its assets consist substantially of the capital stock of its three operating subsidiaries, Dice, eFinancialGroup and JobsintheMoney.

On October 31, 2006, Dice Holdings, Inc. acquired all of the outstanding capital stock of eFinancialGroup. eFinancialGroup operated the career websites eFinancialCareers.com, which targets capital markets and financial services professionals and employers worldwide, and JobsintheMoney.com, which targets the financial and accounting job market in the United States, and a financial publishing business, eFinancialNews. As consideration for the acquisition, Dice Holdings, Inc. paid the stockholders of eFinancialGroup £56.5 million (or approximately $106.3 million at the exchange rate in effect on October 31, 2006) in cash and issued 7,872 shares of its Series A convertible preferred stock valued at $25.2 million. Immediately after the acquisition, Dice Holdings, Inc. sold eFinancialNews back to certain of eFinancialGroup's former stockholders for approximately $41.6 million in cash. Operating results of eFinancialGroup and JobsintheMoney occurring subsequent to the eFinancialGroup Acquisition are included in the consolidated operating results of Dice Holdings, Inc. Total consideration for eFinancialGroup, excluding eFinancialNews, was $89.9 million (which amount includes the value of 7,872 shares of the Series A convertible preferred stock of Dice Holdings, Inc. issued as partial consideration for the eFinancialGroup Acquisition).

We have provided certification test preparation and assessment products for technology professionals through our subsidiary, MeasureUp. In February 2007, we decided to abandon the MeasureUp business after assessing the long-term economic viability of MeasureUp in light of its projected operating losses and the lack of an operational or strategic fit with our core business, and after attempting to sell the business due to its poor operating results. We expect to complete the wind down of MeasureUp's operations by June 30, 2007. As we had ceased all significant business activities of MeasureUp by the end of the first quarter of 2007, we will reclassify our historical financial statements to present MeasureUp as a discontinued operation. Revenue for MeasureUp totaled $3.5 million, $1.0 million, $2.2 million and $3.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2006, four months ended December 31, 2005, eight months ended August 31, 2005 and for the year ended December 31, 2004, respectively. MeasureUp experienced net losses of $1.5 million, $208,000 and $221,000 for the year ended December 31, 2006, the four months ended December 31, 2005, and the eight months ended August 31, 2005, respectively. MeasureUp had net income for the year ended December 31, 2004 of $265,000.

We have identified three reportable segments under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards, or "SFAS," No. 131, Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information, based on our operating structure. Our reportable segments include Dice (which includes Dice.com and ClearanceJobs.com), eFinancialCareers' international business and MeasureUp. Targeted Job Fairs, CyberMedia Dice Careers Limited, or "CyberMedia Dice," and JobsintheMoney do not meet certain quantitative thresholds, and therefore are reported in the aggregate.

Our Revenues and Expenses

We derive the substantial majority of our revenues from customers who pay fees, either annually, quarterly or monthly, to post jobs on our websites and to access our searchable databases of resumes. Our fees vary by customer based on the number of individual users of our databases of resumes, the number and type of job postings purchased and the terms of the package purchased. In the United States, we sell recruitment packages that include both access to our databases of resumes and job posting capabilities. Internationally, our job postings and access to our resume databases are often sold separately and not as a single package. We believe the key metrics that are material to an analysis of our U.S. businesses are our total number of recruitment package customers and the revenue, on average, that these customers generate. Similar metrics are important to our international businesses. At December 31, 2006, Dice.com had 7,600 total recruitment package customers and our other websites collectively served approximately 1,700 customers, including some customers who are also customers of Dice.com, as of the same date. Our revenues have grown significantly in the past three years from $35.8 million in 2004 to $87.1 million in 2006, an increase of 143%.

The key factors influencing our revenue growth over this period are:

- the increased adoption of our services by direct employers, staffing companies and recruiting firms that seek to recruit, place, or hire professionals in the communities we serve, which contributed to an increase in revenues of approximately $48.0 million; and
- the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, which contributed to an increase in revenues of $3.3 million in 2006.

Our ability to continue to grow our revenues will largely depend on our ability to grow our customer bases in the markets in which we operate by acquiring new recruitment package customers while retaining a high proportion of the customers we currently serve, and to expand the breadth of services our customers purchase from us. We continue to make investments in our business and infrastructure to help us achieve our long-term growth objectives.

The largest components of our expenses are personnel costs and marketing and sales expenditures. Personnel costs consist of salaries, benefits, and incentive compensation for our employees, including commissions for salespeople. Personnel costs are categorized in our statements of operations based on each employee's principal function. Marketing and sales expenditures primarily consist of online advertising and direct mailing programs.

Critical Accounting Policies

This discussion of our financial condition and results of operations is based upon our consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates, judgments and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and related disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. On an ongoing basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to revenue, goodwill and intangible assets, stock-based compensation and income taxes. We based our estimates of the carrying value of certain assets and liabilities on historical experience and on various other assumptions that we believe are reasonable. In many cases, we could reasonably have used different accounting policies and estimates. In some cases, changes in the accounting estimates are reasonably likely to occur from period to period. Our actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

We believe the following critical accounting policies affect our more significant judgments used in the preparation of our consolidated financial statements. See the notes to our consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this prospectus for further information about these critical accounting policies as well as a description of our other accounting policies.

Revenue Recognition

We recognize revenues, under the provisions of the Commission's Staff Accounting Bulletin, or "SAB," No. 104, Revenue Recognition, when persuasive evidence of an agreement exists, delivery has occurred, the sales price is fixed or determinable and collectibility is reasonably assured. Payments received in advance of services being rendered are recorded as deferred revenue and recognized on a straight-line basis over the service period. We generate a majority of our revenue from the sale of recruitment packages.

Recruitment package revenues are derived from the sale to customers of a combination of job postings and access to our databases of resumes on our specialized career websites. Revenue from recruitment package customers is recognized ratably over the length of the underlying contract, typically from one to 12 months.

Deferred revenue is a key metric of our business as it indicates a level of sales already made that will be recognized as revenue in the future. Deferred revenue reflects our increased ability to sign customers to long-term contracts. We recorded deferred revenue of $16.1 million on our consolidated balance sheet, as of August 31, 2005, prior to purchase accounting adjustments related to the 2005 Acquisition. As required by U.S. GAAP, in determining the fair value of the liabilities assumed under purchase accounting, the acquired deferred revenue is to be recorded at fair value to the extent it represents an assumed legal obligation. We estimated our obligation related to deferred revenue as a result of the 2005 Acquisition using the cost build-up approach which determines fair value by estimating the costs related to fulfilling the obligation plus a normal profit margin. The estimated costs to fulfill our deferred revenue obligation in connection with the 2005 Acquisition were based on our expected future costs to fulfill our obligation to our customers. As a result, we recorded an adjustment to reduce the carrying value of deferred revenue by $6.0 million, to $10.1 million. The reduction negatively impacted revenues by $3.9 million and $2.1 million for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets

As a result of our various acquisitions, we have recorded charges related to goodwill and other intangible assets. We record charges for goodwill when the purchase price paid for an acquisition exceeds the estimated fair value of the net identified tangible and intangible assets acquired. The intangible assets include both finite-lived and indefinite-lived assets. Our indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets include the Dice trademark and brand name. The amount assigned to intangible assets is subjective and based on our estimates of the future benefit of the intangible assets using accepted valuation techniques, such as discounted cash flow and royalty savings method.

We determine whether the carrying value of recorded goodwill and indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets are impaired on an annual basis, or more frequently if indicators of potential impairment exist. The impairment review process compares the fair value of the reporting segment in which the goodwill or indefinite-lived acquired intangible asset resides to its carrying value. The determination of whether or not goodwill or indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets have become impaired involves a significant level of judgment in the assumptions underlying the approach used to determine the value of our reporting segment. If a one percent increase in the discount rate were used, we would not realize an impairment charge to goodwill or indefinite-lived intangible assets. Changes in our strategy and/or market conditions could significantly impact these judgments and require adjustments to recorded amounts of intangible assets.

Website Development Costs

We account for website development costs in accordance with the guidance set forth in Financial Accounting Standards Board Emerging Issues Task Force, or "EITF," Issue No. 00-2, Accounting for Website Development Costs. We capitalize costs of materials, consultants and compensation and related expenses of employees who devote time to designing, developing, testing and implementing enhancements to our websites. However, we expense, as incurred, website development costs for new features and functionalities since it is unlikely that they will result in additional functionality until they are both developed and tested with confirmation that they are more effective than the current set of features and functionalities on our websites. Our judgment is required in determining the point at which various projects may be capitalized, in assessing the ongoing value of the capitalized costs and in determining the estimated useful lives over which the costs are amortized, which is generally two years. To the extent that we change the manner in which we develop and test new features and functionalities related to our websites, assess the ongoing value of capitalized assets or determine the estimated useful lives over which the costs are amortized, the amount of website development costs that we capitalize and amortize in future periods would be impacted. We capitalized website development costs of $494,000, $547,000 and $434,000 for the years ended December 31, 2004, 2005 and 2006, respectively.

Stock and Stock-Based Compensation

We have granted stock options to certain of our employees and directors under our 2005 Stock Plan. We adopted SFAS No. 123 (Revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, or "SFAS 123(R)," upon inception of Dice Holdings, Inc. Prior to September 1, 2005, we accounted for our stock-based awards using the intrinsic value method prescribed in Accounting Principles Board, or "APB," Opinion No. 25 and related interpretations. Under the intrinsic value method, compensation expense is measured on the date of the grant as the difference between the deemed fair value of our common stock and the exercise or purchase price multiplied by the number of stock options or restricted stock awards granted. Compensation expense is recorded for stock options awarded to employees in return for employee service. The expense is measured at the fair value of the award on the date of grant and recognized as compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the employee service period, which is the vesting period. We do not expect forfeitures to occur and record expense based upon the number of awards expected to vest.

The fair value of options granted during the periods ended December 31, 2006 and 2005, was estimated on the grant date using Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the weighted average assumptions in the table below. Because our stock was not publicly traded during these periods, the average historical volatility rate for a similar entity was used. The expected life of the options granted is derived from historical exercise behavior. The risk-free rate for periods within the expected life of the option is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant.

The weighted average fair value of options granted	$701	$277
Dividend yield	0.00%	0.00%
Weighted average risk-free interest rate	4.64%	4.52%
Weighted average expected volatility	36.84%	38.80%

Expected life (in years)	4	4

The derived fair value of our common stock underlying the options was determined based on an internal valuation prepared by management with the appropriate level of competency, using generally accepted valuation methodologies, including the discounted cash flow method, which is a method within the income approach whereby the present value of future expected net cash flows is calculated using a discount rate, and the guideline companies approach, which incorporates certain assumptions including the market performance of comparable listed companies as well as the financial results and growth trends of the group, to derive the total equity value of the group. The valuation model allocated the equity value between our common stock and our Series A convertible preferred stock and determined the fair value of common stock based on the option-pricing method under the enterprise value allocation method. Under this method, common stock has value only if the funds available for distribution to stockholders exceed the value of the liquidation preference at the time of a liquidity event, such as a merger or sale.

Members of our management possessing the requisite valuation experience estimated the fair value of our capital stock. We did not obtain contemporaneous valuations prepared by an unrelated valuation specialist at the time of each stock option issuance because we believe our management possessed the requisite valuation expertise to prepare a reasonable estimate of fair value of the interests at the time of each issuance since inception.

The determination of fair value of our common stock requires us to make judgments that are complex and inherently subjective. We used the market approach to estimate the value of our enterprise at each date options were granted and at each reporting date. Under the market approach, a transaction-based method is used to estimate the value of our enterprise based on transactions involving capital stock with unrelated investors and other third parties. This approach assumes that such transactions constitute the best evidence as to the fair value of our common stock.

Cyclicality

The labor market and certain of the industries that we serve have historically experienced short-term cyclicality. However, we believe that the economic and strategic value provided by online career websites has led to overall growth in the use of these services during the most recent labor market cycle, and has somewhat lessened the impact of cyclicality on our businesses as compared to traditional offline competitors.

Results of Operations

Our results of operations for the twelve month period ended December 31, 2005 in the discussion below represent a combination of the results of operations for Dice Inc. when it was owned by our prior stockholders and the results of operations for Dice Holdings, Inc. for the four months ended December 31, 2005. These results have been combined to provide investors with information related to our operating results for the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 on the same basis our management uses to analyze our business results and to provide a basis for comparing our results of operations in 2006 with 2005 and 2005 with 2004.

The results of operations for Dice Holdings, Inc. after the 2005 Acquisition include the effects of purchase accounting related to the 2005 Acquisition and, therefore, are not directly comparable to the results of operations for Dice Inc. in prior periods. Adjustments that have a material impact on our consolidated statements of operations are deferred revenue, interest expense and amortization.

Dice Inc. had $16.1 million of deferred revenue on its consolidated balance sheet as of August 31, 2005 prior to purchase accounting adjustments related to the 2005 Acquisition. As required by U.S. GAAP, in determining the fair value of the liabilities assumed under purchase accounting, the acquired deferred revenue is to be recorded at fair value to the extent it represents an assumption of a legal obligation. We estimated our deferred revenue obligation related to the 2005 Acquisition using the cost build-up approach. The cost build-up approach determines fair value by estimating the costs related to fulfilling the obligation plus a normal profit margin. The estimated costs to fulfill our deferred revenue obligation were based on our expected future costs to fulfill our obligation to our customers. As a result, we recorded an adjustment to reduce the carrying value of deferred revenue by $6.0 million, to $10.1 million. The reduction negatively impacted revenues by $3.9 million and $2.1 million for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively.

Interest expense of approximately $3.2 million was incurred in 2006 as a result of borrowings incurred to fund the 2005 Acquisition. Additional amortization expense of $12.1 million was incurred on the acquired intangible assets as a result of the 2005 Acquisition. Other than the corresponding effect on income from continuing operations before provision for income taxes and net income (loss), the 2005 Acquisition did not materially impact any of the other line items in our consolidated statement of operations.

We have included a reconciliation of our combined twelve months ended December 31, 2005 results to our consolidated statements of operations prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP in the table below (in thousands):

	Dice Inc.	Dice Holdings, Inc.	Combined

Table of Contents

Our historical financial information discussed in this prospectus has been derived from the financial statements and accounting records of Dice Holdings, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2006 and for the four months ended December 31, 2005. The eight months ended August 31, 2005 and the year ended December 31, 2004 have been derived from the financial statements and accounting records of Dice Inc. The following table presents these results in thousands of dollars and as a percentage of revenues:

Revenues

	Combined 2005	2006	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Revenues
Dice	$48,784	$77,285	$28,501	58%
eFinancialCareers	—	2,923	2,923	—
Other	5,102	6,926	1,824	36%
Total revenues	$53,886	$87,134	$33,248	62%

Our revenues were $87.1 million in 2006 compared to $53.9 million in 2005, an increase of $33.2 million, or 62%. This increase can be attributed to a combination of organic growth and the eFinancialGroup Acquisition. We experienced organic growth in the Dice business of $28.5 million, or 58%, as a result of successful marketing efforts leading to new customers, as well as an increase in sales to existing customers both in the number of job postings and individual users of our databases as well as an increase in the price of our products. The increase in revenues resulting from the eFinancialGroup Acquisition was $3.3 million, of which $2.9 million relates to the international business and $400,000 relates to the U.S. business. The reduction in the carrying value of deferred revenue resulting from the 2005 Acquisition purchase accounting adjustments reduced revenue in 2005 and 2006 by $3.9 million and $2.1 million, respectively.

We expect revenues to continue to grow as we continue to grow the organic Dice business and expand the eFinancialGroup business that we acquired in 2006.

Cost of Revenues

	Combined 2005	2006	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Cost of revenues	$4,038	$5,345	$1,307	32%
Percentage of revenues	7.5%	6.1%

Cost of revenues consists primarily of employee salaries and related expenses for customer support personnel, system support costs and Internet connectivity and hosting costs. Our cost of revenues for the year ended December 31, 2006 were $5.3 million compared to $4.0 million in 2005, an increase of $1.3 million, or 32%. The increase was primarily due to an increase in salaries and benefits as a result of an increase in the number of network operations and customer support personnel we employed, which was needed in order to support an increase in the number of job postings and user activity. The inclusion of the results of operations of eFinancialGroup in 2006 led to a $271,000 increase.

We expect cost of revenues to increase in absolute dollar amounts as we continue to expand our business, but to remain relatively consistent as a percentage of revenues.

Product Development Expenses

	Combined 2005	2006	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Product development	$2,730	$3,640	$910	33%
Percentage of revenues	5.1%	4.2%

Product development expenses consist primarily of employee salaries and related expenses, consulting fees and computer systems related expenses required to improve or enhance our existing service offerings, but do not include the capitalization of major site and other product development efforts. These capitalized costs totaled $434,000 in 2006 and $547,000 in 2005 and are reflected in depreciation expense when amortized over future periods. Product development expenses for the year ended December 31, 2006 were $3.6 million compared to $2.7 million in 2005, an increase of $910,000, or 33%. An increase in product development research, salaries and related expenses and consulting expenses for Dice led to $426,000 of this increase. The inclusion of the results of operations of eFinancialGroup in 2006 led to $315,000 of this increase. The remainder of the increase was primarily due to an increase in product development costs for MeasureUp of $196,000.

We expect product development to increase in absolute dollar amounts as we continue to develop new site features and functionality, particularly in the businesses we acquired during 2006. Product development expenses do not necessarily increase in proportion to revenues, but instead are affected by the enhancements that we choose to make to our websites each year.

Sales and Marketing Expenses

	Combined 2005	2006	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Sales and marketing	$23,039	$35,419	$12,380	54%
Percentage of revenues	42.8%	40.6%

Sales and marketing expenses consist primarily of advertising, employee salaries, sales commissions and other costs related to our sales force and marketing personnel and promotional materials. Sales and marketing expenses for the year ended December 31, 2006 were $35.4 million compared to $23.0 million in 2005, an increase of $12.4 million, or 54%. The increase was primarily due to an increase in advertising and sales expenses for Dice. The inclusion of the results of operations of eFinancialGroup in 2006 led to $1.9 million of this increase.

Advertising costs for Dice were $18.8 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 compared to $12.3 million in 2005, an increase of $6.5 million, or 53%. This increase was primarily due to an increase in our online advertising spending and the number of email campaigns in 2006. We focus the majority of our marketing dollars on growing the number of professionals who visit our websites, which increases the attractiveness of our websites to our customers. We primarily use targeted marketing, rather than broad-based advertising, to increase our brand awareness, and to increase usage of our products and services among professionals. For instance, in the case of Dice.com, we have launched substantial advertising campaigns on technology-focused websites and search engines.

The salaries and benefits component of sales and marketing expense for Dice amounted to $6.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 compared to $4.3 million in 2005, an increase of $1.8 million, or 42%. This increase was primarily due to an increase in the number of sales personnel during the year ended December 31, 2006. Commissions and other incentive compensation paid to the Dice sales force was $6.2 million for the year ended December 31, 2006 compared to $4.5 million in 2005, an increase of $1.7 million, or 38%. These increased commissions were paid as a result of our revenue growth. The Dice sales force headcount increased from 53 at December 31, 2005 to 67 at December 31, 2006.

We expect sales and marketing expenses to increase in absolute dollar amounts, and potentially as a percentage of revenues, as we continue to expand our marketing programs to attract both highly qualified professionals in the occupational categories we serve as well as to attract new and retain current customers seeking to reach these professionals.

General and Administrative Expenses

	Combined 2005	2006	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
General and administrative	$8,319	$10,980	$2,661	32%
Percentage of revenues	15.4%	12.6%

General and administrative expenses consist primarily of employee salaries and related expenses for executive, administrative and accounting personnel, provision for uncollectible accounts, facilities costs, insurance costs and professional fees. General and administrative expenses for the year ended December 31, 2006 were $11.0 million compared to $8.3 million in 2005, an increase of $2.7 million, or 32%. The inclusion of the results of operations of eFinancialGroup in 2006 led to $828,000 of this increase. The remainder of this increase was primarily due to an increase in stock-based compensation of $1.2 million.

We expect general and administrative expenses to increase in absolute dollar amounts and to increase as a percentage of revenues. Operating as a public company will present additional management and reporting requirements that will significantly increase our directors' and officers' liability insurance premiums and professional fees both in absolute dollars and as a percentage of revenues. We also anticipate hiring additional personnel to help manage future growth and our operations as a public company.

Depreciation Expenses

	Combined 2005	2006	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Depreciation	$1,630	$1,913	$283	17%
Percentage of revenues	3.0%	2.2%

Depreciation expense for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $1.9 million compared to $1.6 million in 2005, an increase of $283,000, or 17%. The increase was due to an increase in depreciable fixed assets capitalized during 2006 compared to 2005.

Amortization Expenses

	Combined 2005	2006	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Amortization	$5,606	$13,662	$8,056	144%
Percentage of revenues	10.4%	15.7%

Amortization expense in the combined 2005 period consisted of amortization of finite-lived acquired intangible assets realized as part of the 2005 Acquisition. Amortization expense for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $13.7 million compared to $5.6 million in 2005, an increase of $8.1 million, or 144%. Amortization expense in 2006 consists of amortization of finite-lived acquired intangible assets acquired as part of the 2005 Acquisition of $12.1 million and the inclusion in our results of operations of $1.6 million of amortization on the finite-lived acquired intangible assets realized as part of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition.

Impairment of intangible assets

In the fourth quarter of 2006, we determined that the intangible assets of MeasureUp were impaired based on the results of our 2007 budgeting process and a projection of its future cash flows. We had been assessing the long-term economic viability of MeasureUp in light of its projected cash flow and operating losses and have attempted to sell the business. The impairment was due to MeasureUp's current operating results and expectations that its future results would fall significantly below previously expected results. The unamortized intangible assets for MeasureUp were reduced to zero which resulted in an impairment charge of $1.0 million during the year ended December 31, 2006.

Operating income

Operating income for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $15.1 million compared to $8.5 million in 2005, an increase of $6.6 million, or 78%. This increase is a direct result of increased revenues from 2005 to 2006. The reduction in the carrying value of deferred revenue resulting from the 2005 Acquisition purchase accounting adjustments reduced operating income in 2005 and 2006 by $3.9 million and $2.1 million, respectively.

Interest expense

Interest expense relates primarily to the interest on our prior revolving credit facility. Interest expense for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $4.7 million compared to $2.0 million in 2005, an increase of $2.7 million, or 135%. The increase in interest expense was due to a larger amount of borrowings outstanding in 2006, on average, as compared to 2005 primarily to finance the 2005 Acquisition and the eFinancialGroup Acquisition.

We expect an increase in interest expense over the short-term as a result of borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility in the 2007 Financing.

Income taxes

	Combined 2005	2006
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Income from continuing operations before income taxes and minority interest	$6,848	$10,583
Income tax expense	3,017	4,101
Effective tax rate	44.1%	38.8%

Income tax expense for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $4.1 million compared to $3.0 million in 2005, an increase of $1.1 million, or 37%. The increase in income tax expense was due to an increase in income before tax based upon recent positive operating results. The effective tax rate decreased from 44.1% in 2005 to 38.8% in 2006 mainly due to the effect of alternative minimum tax credits and lower taxable income. As of December 31, 2006 and 2005, we had net operating loss carryforwards for federal income tax purposes of $49.6 million and $60.2 million, respectively. The carryforwards will begin to expire in 2011 if not used. As of December 31, 2006, we expect that all carryforwards will be utilized and therefore we released the valuation allowance on deferred tax assets related to these carryforwards that was recorded in 2005. The increase in taxable income and the determination of limits under Section 382 of the Code contributed to the release of the valuation allowance in 2006.

Minority interest in the net loss of subsidiary

Minority interest represents the minority investor's percentage share of losses from our subsidiary, CyberMedia Dice, which is consolidated in our financial statements. CyberMedia Dice is our joint venture with CyberMedia (India) Limited, a leading publisher of content for technology professionals in India. We own 51% of CyberMedia Dice. The joint venture was formed in September 2004 to launch an online technology job board for the posting of technology-related jobs based in India.

Revenues

	2004	Combined 2005	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Dice	$32,232	$48,784	$16,552	51%
Other	3,602	5,102	1,500	42%
Total revenues	$35,834	$53,886	$18,052	50%

Our revenues for the year ended December 31, 2005 were $53.9 million compared to $35.8 million in 2004, an increase of $18.1 million, or 50%. This increase in revenues was due to growth in all of our businesses. The Dice business generated $16.6 million of the increase. Due to our successful marketing efforts, we had an increase in new customers as well as an increase in sales to existing customers. We saw an increase in both the number of job postings and individual users of our databases as well as an increase in the price of our products. Other revenues consist of revenues from Targeted Job Fairs, which we acquired in January 2005, and MeasureUp. The reduction in the carrying value of deferred revenue resulting from the 2005 Acquisition purchase accounting adjustments reduced revenue in 2005 by $3.9 million.

Cost of Revenues

	2004	Combined 2005	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Cost of revenues	$2,819	$4,038	$1,219	43%
Percentage of revenues	7.9%	7.5%

Our cost of revenues for the year ended December 31, 2005 was $4.0 million compared to $2.8 million in 2004, an increase of $1.2 million, or 43%. The increase in cost of revenues was due to an increase in salaries and benefits costs resulting from an increase in personnel, which was required to support our increase in customers. Cost of revenues remained fairly consistent as a percentage of revenue from 2004 to 2005.

Product Development Expenses

	2004	Combined 2005	Decrease	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Product development	$2,770	$2,730	$(40)	(1)%
Percentage of revenues	7.7%	5.1%

Our product development expenses for the year ended December 31, 2005 were $2.7 million compared to $2.8 million in 2004, a decrease of $40,000, or 1%. Product development expenses from 2004 to 2005 were relatively flat because our projects to improve or enhance existing service offerings were not significantly different from 2004 to 2005. Product development expenses do not include required capitalization of major website and other product development efforts. These capitalized costs totaled $547,000 and $494,000 in 2005 and 2004, respectively, and are reflected in depreciation expense when amortized in future periods.

Sales and Marketing Expenses

	2004	Combined 2005	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Sales and marketing	$15,993	$23,039	$7,046	44%
Percentage of revenues	44.6%	42.8%

Our sales and marketing expenses for the year ended December 31, 2005 were $23.0 million compared to $16.0 million in 2004, an increase of $7.0 million, or 44%. The increase in sales and marketing expenses from 2004 to 2005 was due to an increase in advertising costs and sales costs. Advertising costs for Dice were $12.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2005 compared to $8.4 million in 2004, an increase of $3.9 million, or 46%. This increase was primarily due to an increase in search engine marketing and other online advertising. Commissions and other incentive compensation paid to Dice sales personnel was $4.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2005 compared to $2.8 million in 2004, an increase of $1.7 million, or 61%. Salaries and related benefits for sales and marketing personnel for Dice were $4.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2005 compared to $3.6 million in 2004, an increase of $704,000, or 19%. These increases were due to an increase in the number of sales and marketing personnel added during the year ended December 31, 2005, and increased commissions paid as a result of growing our customer base.

General and Administrative Expenses

	2004	Combined 2005	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
General and administrative	$6,722	$8,319	$1,597	24%
Percentage of revenues	18.8%	15.4%

Our general and administrative expenses for the year ended December 31, 2005 were $8.3 million compared to $6.7 million in 2004, an increase of $1.6 million, or 24%. The increase in general and administrative expenses from 2004 to 2005 was primarily due to an increase in salaries and benefits of $624,000 due to additional personnel. The remainder of the increase is due to small increases in insurance, facilities rental and professional fees.

Depreciation Expenses

	2004	Combined 2005	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)

Depreciation expense	$2,258	$1,630	$(628)	(28)%
Percentage of revenues	6.3%	3.0%

Our depreciation expense for the year ended December 31, 2005 was $1.6 million compared to $2.3 million in 2004, a decrease of $628,000, or 28%. This decrease resulted from average lower depreciable fixed asset balances during 2005 as compared to 2004, resulting in part from the 2005 Acquisition.

Amortization Expenses

	2004	Combined 2005	Increase	Percent Change
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Amortization expense	$1,378	$5,606	$4,228	307%
Percentage of revenues	3.8%	10.4%

Our amortization expense for the year ended December 31, 2005 was $5.6 million compared to $1.4 million in 2004, an increase of $4.2 million, or 307%. The increase is due to $52.4 million of finite-lived acquired intangible assets realized in the 2005 Acquisition, including intangibles for existing technology, trade name/trademark, customer contracts and job seeker relationships.

Operating income

Our operating income for the year ended December 31, 2005 was $8.5 million compared to $3.9 million in 2004, an increase of $4.6 million, or 118%. This increase is a direct result of increased revenues from 2004 to 2005. The reduction in deferred revenue resulting from the 2005 Acquisition purchase accounting adjustments reduced operating income in 2005 by $3.9 million.

Income taxes

	Dice Inc.		Dice Holdings, Inc.
	Year ended December 31, 2004	Period ended August 31, 2005	Period ended December 31, 2005
	(in thousands, except percentages)
Income from continuing operations before income taxes	$4,070	$9,708	$(2,860)
Income tax expense	2,268	4,067	(1,050)
Effective Tax Rate	55.7%	41.9%	36.7%

The 2005 Acquisition affects the comparability of the effective tax rates in 2004 and 2005. The effect of alternative minimum tax credits and lower taxable income affected our tax rates. As of December 31, 2004, August 31, 2005 (the date of the 2005 Acquisition) and December 31, 2005, we had net operating loss carryforwards for federal income tax purposes of $69.1 million, $56.3 million and $60.2 million, respectively. We recorded a valuation allowance on the deferred tax assets related to the carryforwards as of each period due to the uncertainty that these assets would be realized in the future.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our cash flows for the twelve months ended December 31, 2005 represent the cash flows for Dice Inc. from January 1, 2005 to August 31, 2005, when it was owned by our prior stockholders, and the cash flows for Dice Holdings, Inc. from June 28, 2005 (inception) to December 31, 2005. For the period from inception to August 31, 2005, the date of the 2005 Acquisition, Dice Holdings, Inc. did not generate any cash flows. We have shown our cash flows for the periods ended December 31, 2004, August 31, 2005, December 31, 2005 and 2006 in the table below.

	Dice Inc.		Dice Holdings, Inc.
	Year Ended December 31, 2004	Eight months ended August 31, 2005	Four months ended December 31, 2005	Year Ended December 31, 2006
	(in thousands)
Cash provided by operating activities	$14,138	$16,919	$7,949	$40,953
Cash provided by (used in) investing activities	(10,121)	4,882	(164,794)	(66,599)
Cash provided by (used in) financing activities	(411)	(61)	160,381	27,964

We have financed our operations primarily through cash provided by operating activities, private sales of our Series A convertible preferred stock and the use of our prior credit facility. At December 31, 2006, we had $6.9 million of cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities, compared to $4.9 million, $35.8 million and $23.1 million at December 31, 2005, August 31, 2005 and December 31, 2004, respectively. Marketable securities are comprised of highly liquid debt instruments of the U.S. government and government agencies and corporate debt securities.

Our principal sources of liquidity are cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities, as well as the cash flow that we generate from our operations. At December 31, 2006, we had $21.0 million of borrowing capacity under our prior credit facility. At March 21, 2007 we had $6.0 million in borrowing capacity under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility. We believe that our existing cash, cash equivalents, marketable securities, cash generated from operations and available borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility will be sufficient to satisfy our currently anticipated cash requirements through at least the next 12 months and the foreseeable future thereafter. Our liquidity could be negatively affected by a decrease in demand for our products and services. In addition, we may make acquisitions and may need to raise additional capital through future debt financings or equity offerings to the extent necessary to fund such acquisitions.

Operating Activities

Net cash provided by operating activities primarily consists of net income adjusted for certain non-cash items, including depreciation, amortization, changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities, stock-based compensation and the effect of changes in working capital. Net cash provided by operating activities was $14.1 million, $16.9 million, $7.9 million and $41.0 million for the periods ended December 31, 2004, August 31, 2005, December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2006, respectively. The increase in cash provided by operating activities during these periods was primarily due to increased sales generated by us. The increase in net income is primarily related to higher revenue, due to an increase in the number of customers and an increase in the price charged for recruitment packages and job postings. Cash provided by working capital changes was $6.3 million, $4.5 million, $5.3 million and $11.7 million for the periods ended December 31, 2004, August 31, 2005, December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2006, respectively. The trend of increasing cash provided by working capital primarily results from the increase in deferred revenue.

Investing Activities

Cash used in investing activities during the year ended December 31, 2006 of $66.6 million was primarily attributable to $63.2 million of cash used, net of cash received from the sale of eFinancialNews to consummate the eFinancialGroup Acquisition.

Cash used in investing activities during the four months ended December 31, 2005 of $164.8 million was primarily attributable to cash used by Dice Holdings, Inc. in connection with the 2005 Acquisition.

Cash provided by investing activities during the eight months ended August 31, 2005 totaled $4.9 million, which was attributable to sales of marketable securities of $13.9 million offset by purchases of marketable securities of $4.8 million, capital expenditures of $2.3 million and cash paid for ClearanceJobs.com and Targeted Job Fairs of $1.9 million.

Cash used in investing activities during the year ended December 31, 2004 totaled $10.1 million, which was primarily attributable to purchases of marketable securities of $10.7 million and capital expenditures of $1.6 million offset by sales of marketable securities of $2.6 million.

Capital expenditures are generally comprised of computer hardware, software, and website development costs. Capital expenditures were $2.9 million, $612,000, $2.3 million and $1.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2006, the four months ended December 31, 2005, the eight months ended August 31, 2005 and the year ended December 31, 2004, respectively. Capital expenditures are expected to be approximately $4.0 million in 2007 for computer hardware, software and website development costs.

Financing Activities

Cash provided by financing activities during the year ended December 31, 2006 of $28.0 million was attributable to borrowings of $77.0 million under our prior credit facility less repayments made under the revolving credit facility of $37.0 million and dividends paid of $11.2 million.

Cash provided by financing activities during the four months ended December 31, 2005 of $160.4 million was attributable to the issuance of shares of Series A convertible preferred stock of $111.8 million in connection with the 2005 Acquisition, borrowings under our prior credit facility of $60.0 million, partially offset by payments under our revolving credit facility of $11.0 million.

We do not have any special purpose entities and other than operating leases for office space, as described below, we do not engage in off-balance sheet financing arrangements.

`Financings and Capital Requirements`

In connection with the 2005 Acquisition, we issued 111,800 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock and 200 shares of common stock for consideration of $111.8 million and borrowed $60.0 million under our prior credit facility. In October 2006, in connection with the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, we issued 7,872 shares of our Series A convertible preferred stock valued at $25.2 million and borrowed $67.0 million under our prior credit facility. In March 2007, we borrowed $113.0 million to pay dividends to our stockholders and make payments to holders of vested options.

Amended and Restated Credit Facility

On March 21, 2007, we entered into our Amended and Restated Credit Facility. Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility provides for a revolving facility of $75 million and a term loan facility of $125 million, which mature on March 21, 2012. Quarterly payments of $250,000 on the term loan are due beginning on October 1, 2007. We may prepay our revolving facility or the term loan facility at any time without penalty. Payments of principal on the term loan facility result in permanent reductions to that facility.

Immediately prior to entering into the Amended and Restated Credit Facility, we had $81.0 million outstanding under our prior facility. On March 21, 2007, we borrowed an additional $113.0 million under the Amended and Restated Credit Facility, resulting in total borrowings of $194.0 million. Borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility bear interest, at our option, at either a LIBOR rate plus 3.25% or a reference rate plus 1.75%.

Our existing and future domestic subsidiaries unconditionally guaranteed our borrowings under the Amended and Restated Credit Facility. The obligations under the Amended and Restated Credit Facility and the guarantees are secured by substantially all of the personal assets of each of the borrowers and guarantors.

Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility also contains certain financial covenants, including a senior leverage ratio, fixed charge coverage ratio, minimum Adjusted EBITDA and excess cash flow requirements and we are also subject to a cap on annual capital expenditures and are limited in our ability to make certain acquisitions and to hedge currency and interest rate risks.

Our Amended and Restated Credit Facility contains customary events of default, including, but not limited to, non-payment of principal, interest, fees, or other amounts when due; violation of certain covenants; failure of any representation or warranty to be true in all material respects when made or deemed made; cross-default and cross-acceleration to certain indebtedness; certain ERISA events; change of control, including if our Principal Stockholders collective ownership in us is less than 20%; dissolution, insolvency and bankruptcy events; material judgments; and actual or asserted invalidity of the guarantees or security documents. Some of these events of default allow for grace periods and materiality qualifiers.

Commitments and Contingencies

The following table presents certain minimum payments due under contractual obligations with minimum firm commitments as of December 31, 2006, after giving effect to the 2007 Financing:

	Payments by period
	Total	2007	2008 -2009	2010 -2011	Thereafter
	(in thousands)
Term loan facility	$125,000	$250	$2,000	$2,000	$120,750
Revolving credit facility	69,000	—	—	—	69,000
Operating lease obligations	2,608	824	1,095	689	—
Equipment lease	12	12	—	—	—
Total contractual obligations	$196,620	$1,086	$3,095	$2,689	$189,750

We make commitments to purchase advertising from online vendors which we pay for on a monthly basis. We have no long-term obligations to purchase a fixed or minimum amount with these vendors.

Our principal commitments consist of obligations under operating leases for office space and equipment. See note 9 “Commitments and Contingencies” in our consolidated financial statements for additional information related to our operating leases.

As of December 31, 2006, we had borrowings under our prior credit facility of $89.0 million and as of March 21, 2007, after giving effect to the 2007 Financing, we had $194.0 million outstanding under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility. Interest payments are due monthly on a portion of the facility and at varying, specified periods (to a maximum of three months) for the remaining portion. See note 8 “Indebtedness” in our consolidated financial statements for additional information related to our revolving facility.

Future interest payments on our term loan and revolving facilities are variable due to our interest rate being based on LIBOR or a reference rate. Assuming a rate of 8.85%, interest payments on our term loan facility in 2007, 2008-2009, 2010-2011, and 2012 would be $8.3 million, $21.9 million, $21.7 million, and $8.1 million, respectively.

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are metrics used by management to measure operating performance. Management uses EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA as a performance measure for internal monitoring and planning, including preparation of annual budgets, analyzing investment decisions and evaluating profitability and performance comparisons between us and our competitors. We also use these measures to calculate amounts of performance based compensation under the senior management incentive bonus program. EBITDA represents net income (loss) before interest expense, interest income, income tax expense, depreciation and amortization. Adjusted EBITDA, as defined in our prior credit facility, is EBITDA further adjusted to eliminate non-cash stock compensation expense and extraordinary or non-recurring non-cash charges or expenses, and to add back the deferred revenue written off in connection with the 2005 Acquisition purchase accounting adjustments.

We consider EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA, as defined above, to be important indicators to investors because they provide information related to our ability to provide cash flows to meet future debt service, capital expenditures and working capital requirements and fund future growth as well as to monitor compliance with financial covenants. We present EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA as supplemental performance measures because we believe that these measures provide our board of directors, management and investors with additional information to measure our performance, provide comparisons from period to period and company to company by excluding potential differences caused by variations in capital structures (affecting interest expense), tax positions (such as the impact on periods or companies of changes in effective tax rates or net operating losses), the age and book depreciation of fixed assets (affecting relative depreciation expense), acquisitions (affecting amortization expense) and compensation plans (affecting stock compensation expense) and to estimate our value.

We present this discussion of Adjusted EBITDA because covenants in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility contain ratios based on this measure. If our Adjusted EBITDA were to decline below certain levels, covenants in our Amended and Restated Credit Facility that are based on Adjusted EBITDA may be violated and could cause, among other things, an inability to incur further indebtedness and in certain circumstances a default or mandatory prepayment under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility.

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are not measurements of our financial performance under U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income, operating income or any other performance measures derived in accordance with U.S. GAAP or as an alternative to cash flow from operating activities as a measure of our profitability or liquidity.

We understand that although EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are frequently used by securities analysts, lenders and others in their evaluation of companies, EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA have limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider them in isolation, or as a substitute for analysis of our results as reported under U.S. GAAP. Some of these limitations are:

- EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect our cash expenditures, or future requirements for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs;
- EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect the significant interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments, on our debt;
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized often will have to be replaced in the future, and EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA do not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements; and
- Other companies in our industry may calculate EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA differently than we do, limiting their usefulness as a comparative measure.

See footnote 9 in “Summary Historical and Pro Forma Combined Consolidated Financial and Other Data.”

Foreign Exchange Risk

As a result of the eFinancialGroup Acquisition on October 31, 2006, we conduct business through an additional 14 websites around the world, with the majority of our foreign operations conducted in the United Kingdom. For the year ended December 31, 2006, less than 5% of our revenues (approximately 16% on a pro forma basis) were earned outside the United States and collected in local currency. In the future, the percentage of our revenues earned outside the United States will increase due to having a full year of eFinancialGroup operating results included in our results of operations. Accordingly, we will be subject to risk for exchange rate fluctuations between such local currencies and the dollar. We currently do not hedge currency risk, but we expect to do so in the future. However, our Amended and Restated Credit Facility limits our ability to hedge currency risk.

The financial statements of our non-U.S. subsidiaries are translated into U.S. dollars using current exchange rates, with gains or losses included in the cumulative translation adjustment account, which is a component of stockholders’ equity. During the year ended December 31, 2006 our cumulative translation adjustment totaled $1.8 million, primarily attributable to the weakening of the U.S. Dollar against the British Pound.

Interest Rate Risk

We have interest rate risk primarily related to borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility. Borrowings under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility bear interest, at our option, at either a LIBOR rate plus 3.25% or a reference rate plus 1.75%. As of March 21, 2007, we borrowed $194.0 million under our Amended and Restated Credit Facility. If interest rates increased by 1.0%, our annual interest expense on our current borrowings would increase by approximately $1.9 million, as of March 21, 2007. We also have interest rate risk related to our portfolio of marketable securities. Our marketable securities will produce less income than expected if market interest rates fall.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements (“SFAS 157”). SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS 157 does not impose fair value measurements on items not already accounted for at fair value; rather it applies, with certain exceptions, to other accounting pronouncements that either require or permit fair value measurements. SFAS 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 157 on our consolidated financial statements.

In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes–An Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 ("FIN 48"). FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in accordance with SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes" ("SFAS 109"), and prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a return. Guidance is also provided on de-recognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure and transition. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting FIN 48 on our consolidated financial statements.

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities ("SFAS 159"). SFAS 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value and establishes presentation and disclosure requirements designed to facilitate comparisons between entities that choose different measurement attributes for similar types of assets and liabilities. Unrealized gains and losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected are reported in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. SFAS 159 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2007. We are currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 159 on our consolidated financial statements.

Business

Overview

We are a leading provider of specialized career websites for select professional communities. We target employment categories in which there is a scarcity of highly skilled, highly qualified professionals relative to market demand. Our career websites serve as online marketplaces where employers and recruiters find and recruit prospective employees, and where professionals find relevant job opportunities and information to further their careers. Each of our career websites offers job listings, content, career development and recruiting services tailored to the specific needs of the professional community that it serves. Our largest websites by revenue are Dice.com, the leading career website in the United States for technology professionals, and eFinancialCareers.com, the leading global career website for capital markets and financial services professionals.

The Dice service has operated for 16 years, and recently we acquired eFinancialCareers.com, which has been in operation for almost seven years. Through this strategic acquisition, we have been able to extend our operations into additional specialized career websites serving the financial and accounting sectors, expand our presence internationally into Europe and Asia, and broaden our expertise in content and community features. eFinancialCareers.com operates 14 career websites in five languages for capital markets and financial services professionals in the United Kingdom, Continental Europe, North America, the Persian Gulf States, Southeast Asia and Australia.

We believe that as recruiting activities migrate online and the global workforce becomes increasingly specialized, both professionals and employers are demanding access to industry and occupation-specific online recruiting services and career content. Professionals use our websites at no cost to manage their careers by posting their resumes and searching our large and growing collections of job postings. Employers, recruiters and staffing firms pay us to post job listings and to access our databases of resumes of highly experienced and qualified professionals. The majority of our revenues are derived from customers who purchase our recruitment packages, which are available through monthly or longer-term contractual arrangements and allow customers to both post job listings and search our databases of resumes.

We believe that our long operating history has enabled us to build brand recognition and a critical mass of both customers and professionals, which has given us a distinct competitive advantage in our employment categories. As the breadth and number of job listings and skilled professionals using our websites has grown, the increase of each has fostered the growth of the other, further enhancing the value and scale of our marketplaces.

We operate the following websites, each of which focuses on different career sectors or geographic regions:

- Dice.com, the leading recruiting and career development website for technology and engineering professionals in the United States. During January 2007, Dice.com had approximately 2.3 million unique visitors, an increase of 29% since January 2006, and as of March 15, 2007, approximately 96,000 job postings.

- eFinancialCareers.com, the leading global recruiting and career development network of websites for capital markets and financial services professionals, based in the United Kingdom. During January 2007, eFinancialCareers.com had approximately 1.3 million unique visitors worldwide, including visitors who came to more than one site in the network during the month, an increase of over 75% since January 2006, and as of March 15, 2007, approximately 10,000 job postings.

- JobsintheMoney.com, a leading recruiting and career development website for accounting and finance professionals in the United States. During January 2007, JobsintheMoney.com had approximately 250,000 unique visitors, an increase of 7% since January 2006, and as of March 15, 2007, approximately 2,000 job postings.

- ClearanceJobs.com, the leading recruiting and career development website for professionals with active U.S. government security clearances. During January 2007, ClearanceJobs.com had approximately 100,000 unique visitors, an increase of over 85% since January 2006, and as of March 15, 2007, approximately 3,000 job postings.

- CybermediaDice.com, the largest targeted vertical career website for technology professionals in India. During January 2007, CybermediaDice.com had approximately 140,000 unique visitors, and as of March 15, 2007, approximately 12,000 job postings. We own 51% of CybermediaDice.com, a joint venture with CyberMedia Limited, one of South Asia's largest specialist media publishers.

We also operate Targeted Job Fairs, a leading producer and host of career fairs and open houses focused primarily on technology and security-cleared candidates in the United States. Generally, these career fairs are co-marketed in conjunction with our specialized websites to target the professionals in the communities we serve.

We have experienced significant revenue growth since 2004. We generated revenues of $87.1 million in 2006, up from $35.8 million in 2004, representing a CAGR of 56%, and we grew our operating income and cash flow from operations from $3.9 million and $14.1 million to $15.1 million and $41.0 million, representing a CAGR of 97% and 70%, respectively, over the same period.

Our Industry

We operate in the online employment advertising segment of the broader market for staffing and employment services. The worldwide market for staffing and employment advertising is large and shifting online at a rapid pace. IDC estimates that employment advertising spending, comprising online job boards and recruitment classified ads, in the U.S. market was $8.6 billion in 2006, and forecasts an increasing share of that spending to be garnered by online recruitment advertising.

We believe that the overall demand for employment advertising and recruiting and career development products and services has significant growth potential. Over the next several years, the aging labor force of the United States is expected to lead to a labor supply-demand imbalance as baby-boomers retire. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, a shortfall of over two million workers in the labor force is forecast by 2014. We believe that international economies show similar trends, with an aging labor force in Europe and shortages of skilled professionals to meet the demand of growing economies in Asia.

We also believe that certain industries that employ highly skilled and highly paid professionals will experience particularly strong demand for effective recruiting solutions due to the scarcity of such professionals. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, for instance, five of the 12 fastest-growing occupations in the United States during the period from 2004 to 2014 are expected to be in technology fields. In addition, the current labor market for both the finance sector and computer-related occupations is significantly tighter than the overall employment market in the U.S.

We believe that the market for employment advertising is shifting online due to:

- Expansion in the size of the Internet population and increased broadband access. The Internet population continues to grow and, according to IDC, the number of global Internet users is projected to grow from 968 million in 2005 to over 1.7 billion in 2010. Gartner projects that broadband penetration will increase from 35% of U.S. households in 2005 to 58% in 2010. This trend is bringing online large groups of professional workers from diverse industry segments and enabling employers to target them through online classified advertisements.

- Shift in media consumption and spending from offline to online media. Increased penetration of broadband Internet connections is fueling not only the growth in the number of Internet users but also the amount of time consumers are spending online (on an absolute basis and relative to using other media). In 2005, Forrester Research, US, or "Forrester," found that consumers spent 34% of their media consumption hours online. While U.S. online advertising budgets are large and growing, online marketing spend represents only a small fraction of total advertising spending. According to Forrester, online advertising budgets were estimated to be approximately $14.7 billion in 2005, which was just 6% of total U.S. advertising expenditures. We believe that over time, advertisers will follow consumer behavior and invest a growing share of their marketing budgets in online advertising. Forrester projects that U.S. online advertising will reach $26.0 billion in 2010, representing a CAGR of approximately 12% from 2005. IDC estimates indicate that a similar shift in focus from offline to online employment advertising is already occurring in our industry.

- Online job boards offer inherent benefits compared to offline methods. The Internet has revolutionized the hiring process for professionals as well as for recruiters and employers. Professionals experience multiple benefits from performing searches online. They are able to search for open positions that fit their qualifications and career objectives and immediately upload their resumes to apply for open positions. Prior to online offerings, recruiters and employers had a limited and relatively inflexible set of options to find employees, including newspaper classifieds and other print advertisements, traditional job fairs, on campus recruiting, internal referral programs and recruiting firms. With online solutions, recruiters and employers are able to immediately upload and update a list of open positions and can provide detailed job descriptions, along with links to relevant information for potential candidates. They can also efficiently search through online databases of resumes for candidates that fit their hiring needs.

- Relative cost advantages of online versus print employment advertising. Recruiters and employers using online recruiting methods can realize substantially lower cost per hire and overall sourcing costs in comparison to traditional print classified advertisements. Not only is the typical price to post a job listing lower online than in print for a comparable period of time, but we also believe that online advertising is more effective and contributes to a higher return on investment for our customers because online job postings are generally more accessible to a wider audience given the limitless geographic boundaries and 24/7 access the Internet affords. Moreover, online job postings can more easily be filtered for relevancy than print listings, allowing customers access to a more targeted audience. Further, searchable database access allows customers access to a broad and unique talent pool, immediately and cost effectively, connecting employers with highly qualified professionals.

While generalist job boards have improved the recruiting process compared to traditional offline alternatives, specialized career websites offer job listings, content and services tailored to the specific needs of the communities they serve. Generalist sites often do not provide as simple and rapid an ability to match specific skills and requirements between candidates and available positions. Specialist career websites, however, not only can provide an experience relevant to candidates' specific needs, but also can remain relevant for professionals who are not currently seeking a job, but who nonetheless wish to remain apprised of market trends. We believe this leads to a better recruitment experience for both customers and professionals.

Our Value Proposition

We have become a leading provider of specialized career websites for select professional communities by providing unique benefits to professionals and our customers. Our specialized career websites provide professionals with quick and easy access to job listings that are relevant and meet their industry-specific criteria, and provide our customers with pools of hard-to-find, highly qualified professional talent. By providing deep databases of professionals to our customers and a large number of employment opportunities for professionals, we encourage the use of our websites and continue to attract customers to our services. We believe these factors have helped us to achieve a critical mass of both customers and professionals, contributing to the attractiveness and efficiency of our online marketplaces.

Benefits to Professionals

Access to a large number of relevant job postings. Our career websites provide a large number of job postings for technology and engineering, accounting and finance, capital markets and financial services and U.S. government security-clearance positions. For example, as of March 15, 2007, Dice.com had 96,000 individual job postings for technology and engineering professionals, which we believe to be the most in the United States in these verticals, and eFinancialCareers.com had 10,000 job postings for capital markets and financial services professionals. In addition, the specialized focus of our career websites benefits professionals by helping to ensure that the job opportunities posted by our customers are relevant and attractive to them.

Compelling user experience. We have designed each of our career websites with the specific needs of our target audiences of professionals in mind. Each of our specialized career websites permits professionals to search for jobs based on location and other specific variables, such as type of employment and skill set. We also offer tools such as our "search agents," which provide for powerful, detailed searches of job opportunities that match desired criteria, the results of which are delivered by email. We believe this makes it easy for professionals to quickly find job opportunities that match their qualifications and expectations. Additionally, we tailor the "look and feel" and content of each of our websites to its intended target audience of professionals, which makes the experience more useful and relevant in their day-to-day worklives. We believe that our customized search engines and audience-tailored websites are efficient and relevant, easy to use and valuable to our users, helping us build a loyal and engaged audience.

Targeted career development services and tools. We provide professionals with targeted career development services and tools including content, decision support tools and relevant industry news. For example, Dice.com and ClearanceJobs.com provide professionals with market and salary information and local market trends. eFinancialCareers.com provides industry-specialized online career content, as well as print and online career guides targeted to college and graduate students. We believe our career development services and tools benefit the professionals who use our career websites by providing them with relevant information to manage and enhance their careers, and also increase the engagement of professionals with our sites.

Benefits to our Customers

Unique pools of qualified professionals. We seek to improve the efficiency of the recruiting process for our customers by providing quick and easy access to large and up-to-date pools of highly qualified and hard-to-reach professionals. On Dice.com, we ensure our resumes are up-to-date by removing resumes from our databases after a period of inactivity. The professionals who post their resumes on Dice.com are highly educated, with approximately 70% having a bachelor's degree or higher, as of March 2007. Our online surveys indicate that 75% of professionals who use Dice.com have more than five years of experience, almost half have more than 10 years of experience, and most are currently employed. We believe the high number of employed, or "passive," job seekers that use our websites makes our online career websites more attractive to our customers because actively employed professionals often make for more attractive candidates. Moreover, because the communities of professionals who visit our websites are highly skilled and specialized within specific industries, we believe our customers reach a more targeted and qualified pool of candidates than through generalist sites. Additionally, the size and geographic scope of the eFinancialCareers network, which operates 14 career websites around the world, provides customers with access to highly targeted capital markets and financial services professionals around the world.

Efficient and targeted candidate searches. Our career websites are easy to use and our search engines are designed so that our customers can search our resume databases quickly to find professionals who meet specified criteria. The search criteria allow our customers to quickly search for and find the most relevant and qualified professionals meeting their needs. We believe that this approach results in a faster and more efficient search for candidates, helps our customers improve the efficiency of their recruiting efforts and increases customer preference for our recruiting solutions relative to those of our competitors.

High-quality customer support. We are able to differentiate ourselves from our competitors by providing extensive ongoing support to our customers. Our customer support representatives focus on building customer loyalty, customer training, proactive follow-up support, reactive troubleshooting, maintenance and expansion of customer relationships and compliance. We personalize our customer support efforts by providing our customers with representatives that are knowledgeable about the professional communities we serve and the skill sets of professionals in those communities. For example, we help our customers draft job postings and build specific candidate searches, improving the relevancy of job postings for professionals, and helping our customers find and attract qualified candidates.

Our Strategy

Our goal is to be the leading global network of specialized career websites for select professional communities. Our primary objective is to maximize the potential of our career websites. To achieve these goals, we are pursuing the following strategies:

Continue to grow the size, quality and uniqueness of our professional communities. Continuing to grow the size, quality and uniqueness of our professional communities is a key success factor in maximizing the potential of our career websites. By continually delivering a growing and fresh audience of qualified professionals to our customers, we will be able to satisfy and retain our existing customers as well as to meet the expectations and needs of new customers. We intend to achieve this objective by increasing loyalty and usage among professionals who currently use the site and by reaching new users through targeted marketing and online advertising campaigns.

Continue to execute on customer acquisition. Our ability to achieve our growth objective depends, in part, on our ability to expand our customer base and deepen the relationships we have with our existing customers. Our customer acquisition efforts are focused primarily on direct marketing combined with a targeted sales approach. We believe there are significant opportunities to sell our services to companies with whom we do not currently have a relationship and to expand the level of services we sell to our existing customers.

Further build brand awareness. Brand recognition is a key differentiating factor among providers of traditional and online recruiting and career services. We believe that during the 16 years we have operated Dice.com and the almost seven years that eFinancialCareers has been in operation, we have each fostered brands that are closely associated with ease of use and high quality sector-specific career and recruiting services within their professional communities. We will continue to invest in increasing brand awareness through targeted marketing and advertising campaigns in order to attract new customers and professionals.

Historically, eFinancialCareers.com has built its brand awareness through strategic alliances but without significant spending on marketing and advertising. We intend to increase our direct marketing spend for eFinancialCareers.com in order to build brand awareness.

Enhance content and community features across our websites. We believe that both active and passive job seekers find value in the free information and services we provide, and we intend to enhance, expand and develop additional content and community features across our websites. For example, Dice.com has recently launched a discussion board where technology professionals come together to discuss career advice and network with each other, and eFinancialCareers.com has invested in producing significant online and offline content tailored to each of its websites and audiences. In addition, by powering the job boards of an additional 40 websites in the finance sector, including well-known, worldwide financial publications, eFinancialCareers.com is able to position its job postings next to high quality, third party content. We believe enhancing our community features will increase the level of engagement we have with our audience and our audience has with each other.

Further expand our services globally. We believe there are significant global growth opportunities for the online recruitment and employment advertising industry. As in the United States, there is increasing demand for specialized online recruiting in both emerging and established economies worldwide. Consistent with this belief, in October 2006 we completed the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, and, as a result, we now have a strong presence in the United Kingdom, as well as a presence in important capital market centers around the world. We believe the expertise and reach of Dice and eFinancialCareers together will provide a strong position to expand our business and brands into new markets. We will also continue to evaluate and selectively pursue other growth opportunities that will allow us to further expand our business outside of the United States.

Selectively expand into new verticals. We believe other professional communities have characteristics that would support specialized career websites. We will consider entering into new verticals that meet specific criteria, primarily focusing on hard-to-find, highly skilled and highly paid professionals. We believe we can leverage our experience serving unique vertical markets as we pursue opportunities in other vertical industries. For example, we have been able to increase ClearanceJobs.com's revenues more than ten-fold since we acquired it in 2004, which demonstrates our ability to successfully leverage our experience in serving high growth communities as we expand into new verticals.

Products and Services

We provide leading recruiting and career development websites for direct employers, recruiters, staffing companies and technology and engineering, accounting and finance, capital markets and security-cleared professionals. We provide our customers with access to unique pools of experienced and highly qualified professionals, and professionals seeking jobs and career information with access to collections of full-time, part-time and contract positions. Both customers and professionals provide content for our career websites by posting descriptions of available jobs and resumes. Our search technology and specialized focus enable us to provide professionals with the ability to perform highly targeted job searches based on specific criteria, including location, type of employment, skills and keyword. Our vertical focus allows users to find the information they are looking for faster and easier than general job boards. Our career websites also offer career resources, such as specialized content and industry news.

We offer our recruiting and career development services and tools through the following five websites, each of which focuses on different career sectors or geographic regions:

Dice.com is the leading career site for technology and engineering professionals and the companies that seek to employ them. The job postings available in the Dice.com database, from both technology and non-technology companies across many industries, include a wide variety of technology positions for software engineers, systems administrators, database specialists and project managers, and a variety of other technology and engineering professionals.

Customers have access to specific tools and resources that Dice.com provides to help recruiters and human resources managers improve the effectiveness of their recruitment processes. Through our resume database offerings, Dice.com provides customers with the ability to conduct powerful, detailed searches of candidate resumes that match desired criteria, the results of which are delivered by email to our customers. Dice.com also provides professionals with job search tools, resume posting and career-related content. In January 2007, Dice.com had approximately 2.3 million unique visitors and ended the month with 374,000 searchable resumes.

Customers can purchase recruitment packages, classified postings or advertisements. Approximately 88% of Dice.com revenue is derived from recruitment packages. Recruitment packages offer our customers the ability to access the candidate resume database and post jobs in job slots. Job slots allow our customers to rotate an unlimited number of jobs through the same slots during the contract period. Our typical monthly recruitment package gives our customers a single license to search our candidate resume database and post positions in up to five job slots. Customers are incented to purchase our recruitment packages on a long-term basis. Our classified postings allow our customers to post a single job for a period of 30 days. General website advertising does not generate a significant portion of our revenue, but may be purchased separately or as part of a recruitment package.

eFinancialCareers.com is the leading global recruiting and career development network of websites for capital markets and financial services professionals, including investment banking, asset management, private equity, hedge fund and other securities professionals. eFinancialCareers was launched in the United Kingdom in 2000, and now operates 14 websites in five languages across Europe, Asia and North America using the eFinancialCareers name. eFinancialCareers.com has expanded its career site network through distribution agreements by which it powers the job boards of an additional 40 websites in the finance sector, including well- known worldwide capital markets publications and organizations, such as Institutional Investor (U.S.), The Securities & Investment Institute (U.K.), La Tribune (France), Milano Finanza (Italy), Finanztreff (Germany),

Finance Asia (Southeast Asia) and Financial Standard (Australia). As a result, eFinancialCareers is able to greatly enhance the reach and visibility of its job listings and has attracted an audience of cross-border customers and professionals willing to seek jobs in markets other than their own.

eFinancialCareers' customers post jobs targeting specific sectors within the capital markets and financial services industry, and can also search the resume database of highly qualified and specialized professionals in these sectors. In addition to allowing professionals to post resumes and apply for listed positions, eFinancialCareers also provides professionals with career enhancement tools and resources, such as employer profiles, newsletters and salary surveys. eFinancialCareers also provides both professionals and graduating students with professional education and training materials.

Although eFinancialCareers has recently begun offering its customers a resume database product, most of eFinancialCareers' revenues are currently generated from job posting packages. As we integrate eFinancialCareers over the coming months, we intend to focus on growing eFinancialCareers' resume database product to expand the range of services for our customers.

JobsintheMoney.com is a leading targeted career site for accounting and finance professionals in the United States. JobsintheMoney.com offers professionals and its customers many of the same tools offered on our other websites. JobsintheMoney.com has partnerships with many of the leading industry websites used by accounting and finance professionals, including Big4.com and Audit-Net.com.

ClearanceJobs.com is the leading secure job board dedicated to matching technology candidates with active or current U.S. government security clearances to the best hiring companies searching for security-cleared employees. ClearanceJobs.com provides professionals with many of the career development tools, such as resume writing tips and salary surveys, offered on Dice.com. We believe ClearanceJobs.com has the largest and fastest-growing database of active security-cleared candidates available online, with approximately 59,000 resumes as of January 31, 2007. The majority of candidates with resumes in our database have high-level clearances.

CybermediaDice.com is the largest targeted vertical career website for technology professionals in India, a market with a compound annual technology employment growth rate of 29% over the past 5 years according to the National Association of Software and Service Companies. CyberMedia Dice is a joint venture of Dice and CyberMedia Limited, one of South Asia's largest specialty media publishers. CyberMedia Dice's mission is to deliver unique candidates that help employers, recruiters and staffing firms reduce their time-to-hire and cost-per-hire in India's rapidly growing technology sector.

We also operate Targeted Job Fairs, a leading producer and host of career fairs and open houses focused primarily on technology and security-cleared candidates in the United States. In 2006, Targeted Job Fairs produced more than 90 job fairs, at which it hosted a wide range of locally and nationally recognized companies and recruiters, offering them the opportunity to screen and hire highly qualified candidates face-to-face. A typical job fair hosts between 15 and 20 companies and between 250 and 300 professionals. In addition, Targeted Job Fairs coordinates private job fairs for individual companies desiring exclusive access to top quality candidates.

Marketing and Sales

Success in the highly competitive online recruiting business requires the creation of a marketplace attractive to both customers and professionals. We focus our marketing efforts on growing the number of professionals who visit our websites, which we believe increases the attractiveness of our websites to our customers. We primarily use targeted marketing, rather than broad-based advertising, to increase our brand awareness among professionals. For instance, in the case of Dice.com, we have launched substantial advertising campaigns on technology-focused websites, such as TechRepublic, SourceForge and eWeek, and on search engines. We also market our websites to professionals through the use of newsletters and industry pieces, such as The Dice Advisor and The ClearanceJobs Report, and through the use of products, such as daily "Job Alert" emails. Our job seeker marketing programs have helped us produce strong results in traffic and user activity.

Our customer marketing efforts are directed at targeted customer acquisition and have been effective in producing strong customer growth. We also employ marketing efforts directed at retaining our existing customers. eFinancialCareers has built its brand awareness through strategic relationships, but without significant spending on marketing and advertising. We intend to increase our direct marketing spend for eFinancialCareers.com in order to increase its brand awareness. In addition to our sales efforts described below, our customer marketing efforts are conducted through direct mail and email campaigns, marketing and trade shows. For instance, we send over 800,000 emails and 100,000 pieces of direct mail to our existing and potential customers on a monthly basis. We also reach our customers through the use of direct marketing educational campaigns, which keeps them aware of recruiting developments and practices.

Our sales efforts focus on further penetrating the market for recruiting and career development services. Our field sales group targets Fortune 1000 companies, large staffing and recruiting firms and other large and mid-size businesses. Our in-house sales organization focuses on generating new business from recruiters and small and mid-size companies, renewing customer contracts and increasing the service levels that customers purchase, as well as servicing the needs of our largest clients. As of December 31, 2006, our sales organization employed 83 sales personnel in the United States and 47 in the rest of the world.

Customer Support

We believe we have differentiated ourselves from our competitors by providing extensive ongoing support to our customers. Our customers are assigned a customer support representative, who is the first point of contact after a sale is made. Our customer support efforts focus on training our customers on our products and services, because we believe customers will have a more compelling user experience if they are more familiar with our products and services. Our customer support representatives also assist customers, upon request, by building candidate searches and writing and editing customers' job postings. Additionally, our customer support efforts focus on ensuring that the professionals who use our websites have positive experiences. For instance, our customer support department constantly reviews our websites for false or inaccurate job listings and performs other similar compliance-type functions. As of December 31, 2006, we had 47 customer support employees in the United States and 14 customer support employees in the rest of the world. We believe customers view our customer support functions as a strong, attractive attribute of our websites, with, as of September 2006, 92% satisfied with the customer support they have received, according to internal surveys.

Customers

We serve a diversified customer base consisting of over 9,000 customers. No customer for our career website services accounted for more than 0.5% of our revenues in 2006. Our customers include small, mid-sized and large direct employers and staffing companies, recruiting agencies and consulting firms. As of February 28, 2007, significant customers of Dice.com and ClearanceJobs.com included Accenture, Adecco, IBM, Lockheed Martin, Raytheon, Robert Half and Time Warner, and significant customers of eFinancialCareers.com included Bloomberg, Credit Suisse, Genworth Financial, McGregor Boyall, Merrill Lynch, Michael Page, Société Générale and Thomson Financial.

Technology

We use a variety of technologies to support our websites. Each system is designed so that it can be scaled by adding additional hardware and network capacity. We host our applications whenever possible on clustered, high availability hardware. All applications and data connections are monitored 24/7 for performance, responsiveness and stability.

Our primary operations facility is located within our Urbandale, Iowa office facilities in a limited access, temperature-controlled data center with emergency power generation capability. We maintain a backup system for website operations at our co-location center. We replicate website data at various times throughout the day to the co-location facility. Additionally, we have business resumption hardware and software in place at the co-location facility to ensure a smooth transition for the business in case of loss of our Urbandale operations center, and offsite data storage capabilities. We have robust firewalls and switchgear to help insure network security, and have sought substantial expert assistance in their configuration and testing.

Competition

The market for recruiting services and employment advertising is highly competitive with multiple online and offline competitors. With the evolution of the online recruiting model, there has been an increasing need to provide ease of use and relevance to professionals, as well as an efficient and cost-effective recruitment method for direct employers, recruiters and staffing companies. Additionally, the further development of the Internet has made it easier for new competitors to emerge with minimal barriers to entry. Our ability to maintain our existing customer base and generate new customers depends to a significant degree on the quality of our candidate base, the quality of our services, our pricing and value-added products and services and our reputation among our customers and potential customers. Our competitors include:

- generalist job boards, some of which have substantially greater resources and brand recognition than we do, such as Monster.com, Hotjobs.com (owned by Yahoo!), and CareerBuilder (owned by Gannett, Tribune and McClatchy), which, unlike specialized job boards, permit customers to enter into a single contract to find professionals across multiple occupational categories and attempt to fill all their hiring needs through a single website;
- newspaper and magazine publishers, national and regional advertising agencies, executive search firms and search and selection firms that carry classified advertising, many of whom have developed, begun developing or acquired new media capabilities such as recruitment websites, or have recently partnered with generalist job boards;
- specialized job boards focused specifically on the industries we service, such as ComputerJobs.com, JustTechJobs.com and CareerBank.com; and
- new and emerging competitors, such as aggregators of classified advertising, including SimplyHired, Indeed and Google; Craigslist; and social networking sites, such as LinkedIn.

Intellectual Property

We seek to protect our intellectual property through a combination of license agreements, service marks, copyrights, trade secret laws and other methods of restricting disclosure of our proprietary or confidential information. We have no patents or patent applications pending for our current services and we do not anticipate that patents will become a significant part of our intellectual property in the foreseeable future. We generally enter into confidentiality agreements with our employees, consultants, vendors and customers, and license agreements with third parties. We also seek to control access to and distribution of our technology, documentation and other proprietary information. We generally pursue the registration of the material service marks we own in the United States and internationally, as applicable. We own a number of registered, applied for and/or unregistered trademarks and service marks that we use in connection with our businesses, including DICE, CLEARANCEJOBS.COM and JOBSINTHEMONEY. Although we generally pursue the registration of our material service marks and other material intellectual property we own, where applicable, we have copyrights, trademarks and/or service marks that have not been registered in the United States and/or other jurisdictions, including the EFINANCIALCAREERS mark.

Regulation and Legislation

User Privacy

We collect, store and use a variety of information about both professionals and customers on our website properties. Within the websites, the information that is collected, stored and used has been provided by the professionals or customers with the intent of making it publicly available. We do not store credit card numbers on our websites, and we do not ask professionals or customers to supply social security numbers. Our business data is separated from website operations by a variety of security layers including network segmentation, access controls, and physical separation.

We post our privacy policies on our websites so that our users can access and understand the terms and conditions applicable to the collection, storage and use of information collected from users. Our privacy policies also disclose the types of information we gather, how we use it and how a user can correct or change their information. Our privacy policies also explain the circumstances under which we share this information and with whom. Professionals who register for our websites have the option of indicating specific areas of interest in which they are willing to receive offers via email or postal mail. These offers contain content created either by us or our third-party partners.

To protect confidential information and to comply with our obligations to our users, we impose constraints on our customers to whom we provide user data, which are consistent with our commitments to our users. Additionally, when we provide lists to third parties, including to our advertiser customers, it is under contractual terms that are consistent with our obligations to our users and with applicable laws and regulations.

U.S. and Foreign Government Regulation

Congress has passed legislation that regulates certain aspects of the Internet, including content, copyright infringement, user privacy, advertising and promotional activities, taxation, access charges, liability for third- party activities and jurisdiction. In addition, federal, state, local and foreign governmental organizations have enacted and also are considering, and may consider in the future, other legislative and regulatory proposals that would regulate the Internet. Areas of potential regulation include, but are not limited to, libel, electronic contracting, pricing, quality of products and services and intellectual property ownership.

CAN-SPAM Act. As of January 1, 2004, the Controlling the Assault of Non-Solicited Pornography and Marketing Act of 2003, or the "CAN-SPAM Act," became effective. The CAN-SPAM Act regulates commercial emails and provides a right on the part of the recipient to request the sender to stop sending messages, and establishes penalties for the sending of email messages that are intended to deceive the recipient as to source or content. Under the CAN-SPAM Act, senders of commercial emails (and other persons who initiate those emails) are required to make sure that those emails do not contain false or misleading transmission information. Commercial emails are required to include a valid return email address and other subject heading information so that the sender and the Internet location from which the message has been sent are accurately identified. Recipients must be furnished with an electronic method of informing the sender of the recipient's decision not to receive further commercial emails. In addition, the email must include a postal address of the sender and notice that the email is an advertisement. The CAN-SPAM Act may apply to the marketing materials and newsletters that we distribute to our audience. At this time, we are applying the CAN-SPAM Act to our email communications, and believe that our email practices comply with the requirements of the CAN-SPAM Act.

The European Union also has enacted several directives relating to the Internet and various EU member states have implemented them with national legislation. In order to safeguard against the spread of certain illegal and socially harmful materials on the Internet, the European Commission has drafted the "Action Plan on Promoting the Safe Use of the Internet." Other European Commission directives and national laws of several foreign governments address the regulation of privacy, e-commerce, security, commercial piracy, consumer protection and taxation of transactions completed over the Internet.

Employees

As of December 31, 2006, we had approximately 329 employees. Our employees are not represented by any union and are not the subject of a collective bargaining agreement. We believe that we have a good relationship with our employees.

Properties

We do not own any properties. Our corporate headquarters are located at 3 Park Avenue, New York, New York. We currently lease approximately 5,000 square feet at our corporate headquarters, under a lease expiring in March 2009. We lease approximately 37,000 square feet of office space in two facilities in Urbandale, Iowa under two separate lease arrangements. We also lease small business and sales offices in London, England; Cincinnati, Ohio; New York, New York; Singapore; and Sydney, Australia.

We believe that our facilities are generally adequate for current and anticipated future use, although we may from time to time lease additional facilities as operations require.

Legal Proceedings

From time to time we may be involved in disputes or litigation relating to claims arising out of our operations. We are currently not a party to any material legal proceedings.

Corporate Governance

Controlled Company

We intend to list the shares offered in this offering on the NYSE. For purposes of the NYSE rules, we expect to be a "controlled company." "Controlled companies" under those rules are companies of which more than 50 percent of the voting power is held by an individual, a group or another company. Together, the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders will continue to control more than 50% of the voting power of our common stock upon completion of this offering and are able to elect our entire board of directors. Accordingly, we are eligible to, and we intend to, take advantage of certain exemptions from NYSE governance requirements provided in the NYSE rules. Specifically, as a controlled company under NYSE rules, we are not required to have (1) a majority of independent directors, (2) a Nominating and Governance Committee composed entirely of independent directors or (3) a Compensation Committee composed entirely of independent directors.

Board Structure

Composition of our Board of Directors

Our board of directors currently consists of seven directors. Our amended and restated by-laws will provide that our board of directors will consist of no less than or more than persons. The exact number of members on our board of directors will be determined from time to time by resolution of a majority of our full board of directors. Upon consummation of this offering, our board will be divided into three classes as described below, with each director serving a three-year term and one class being elected at each year's annual meeting of stockholders. Messrs. , and will serve initially as Class I directors (with a term expiring in 2008). Messrs. , and will serve initially as Class II directors (with a term expiring in 2009). Messrs. , and will serve initially as Class III directors (with a term expiring in 2010).

Committees of the Board

Upon consummation of this offering, our board of directors will have three standing committees: an Audit Committee, a Compensation Committee and a Nominating and Governance Committee. We will be required to have one independent director on our Audit Committee during the 90-day period beginning on the date of effectiveness of the registration statement filed with the Commission in connection with this offering and of which this prospectus is a part. After such 90-day period and until one year from the date of effectiveness of the registration statement, we are required to have a majority of independent directors on our Audit Committee. Thereafter, our Audit Committee is required to be comprised entirely of independent directors. As a controlled company, we are not required to have independent Nominating and Governance and Compensation Committees. The following is a brief description of our committees.

Audit Committee. Our Audit Committee assists the board in monitoring the audit of our financial statements, our independent auditors' qualifications and independence, the performance of our audit function and independent auditors, and our compliance with legal and regulatory requirements. The Audit Committee has direct responsibility for the appointment, compensation, retention (including termination) and oversight of our independent auditors, and our independent auditors report directly to the Audit Committee. The Audit Committee will also review and approve related-party transactions as required by the rules of the New York Stock Exchange.

Messrs. , and are expected to be the members of our Audit Committee upon consummation of this offering. qualifies as an Audit Committee financial expert under the rules of the Commission implementing Section 407 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. Messrs. and are expected to meet the independence and the experience requirements of the New York Stock Exchange and the federal securities laws.

Compensation Committee. Our Compensation Committee reviews and recommends policies relating to compensation and benefits of our directors and employees and is responsible for approving the compensation of our Chief Executive Officer and other executive officers. Our Compensation Committee also administers the issuance of awards under our equity incentive plans. Messrs. and are expected to be the members of our Compensation Committee upon consummation of this offering.

Nominating and Governance Committee. Our Nominating and Governance Committee selects or recommends that the board select candidates for election to our board of directors and develops and recommends to the board of directors corporate governance guidelines that are applicable to us and oversees board of directors and management evaluations. Messrs. and are expected to be the members of our Nominating and Governance Committee upon consummation of this offering.

Director Independence

We have determined that Messrs. , and are independent as such term is defined by the applicable rules and regulations of the New York Stock Exchange and the federal securities laws. Additionally, each of these directors meets the categorical standards for independence established by our board, as set forth in our Corporate Governance Policy. A copy of our Corporate Governance Policy will be available on our website upon the consummation of this offering.

Executive Compensation

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Compensation Program Philosophy and Objectives

Our primary objective with respect to executive compensation is to provide competitive compensation and benefits to attract, retain, motivate and reward the highest quality executive officers, while supporting our core values and strategic initiatives. A further key objective is to create a pay-for-performance culture such that a substantial portion of each executive officer's compensation is contingent on, and variable with, achievement of objective corporate and individual performance goals and other objective measures of success.

In addition, we aim to establish compensation plans that align the performance of our executive officers with our business plan and strategic objectives and promote the interests of long-term stockholders by focusing management on achieving strong short-term (annual) performance in a manner that supports and ensures our long-term success and profitability.

Finally, it is a key objective to ensure that compensation provided to executive officers remains reasonable and responsible yet competitive relative to the compensation paid to similarly situated executives at comparable companies. It is essential that our overall compensation levels be sufficiently competitive to attract talented leaders and motivate those leaders to achieve superior results. At the same time, our executive compensation programs are intended to be consistent with our focus on controlling costs.

In addition to rewarding corporate and individual performance, our compensation program is designed to reward the level of responsibility of, and the position undertaken by, an executive. Total compensation and accountability should generally increase with position and responsibility. As a result, total compensation is higher for individuals with greater responsibility and greater ability to influence our achievement of targeted results and strategic initiatives. Additionally, as position and responsibility increases, a greater portion of the executive officer's total compensation is performance-based pay contingent on the achievement of performance objectives. In the same way, equity-based compensation is higher for persons with higher levels of responsibility, making a significant portion of their total compensation dependent on long-term stock appreciation.

The Process of Setting Executive Compensation

Our Compensation Committee meets in executive session each year to evaluate the performance of our named executive officers, to determine their bonuses for the prior fiscal year, to establish the individual and corporate performance objectives for each executive for the current fiscal year, to set their base salaries for the next fiscal year, to determine the portion of total compensation that will be contingent, performance-based pay, and to consider and approve any grants of equity incentive compensation. Our Compensation Committee also reviews the appropriateness of the financial measures used in incentive plans and the degree of difficulty in achieving specific performance targets. Our Compensation Committee engages in an active dialogue with our Chief Executive Officer concerning strategic objectives and performance targets and has not utilized a compensation consultant to date.

Together with the performance objectives, our Compensation Committee establishes targeted total compensation levels (i.e. maximum achievable compensation) for each of the named executive officers. In making this determination, the Compensation Committee is guided by the compensation philosophy described above. The Compensation Committee also considers historical compensation levels, competitive pay practices at the companies in the Radford Studies, an analysis of past pay practices across different industries and executive positions, and the relative compensation levels among our senior executive officers. The Compensation Committee may also consider industry conditions, corporate performance versus a peer group of companies and the overall effectiveness of our compensation program in achieving desired performance levels. The size of one individual element of compensation does not affect the size of another.

We believe that internal equity is an important factor to be considered in establishing compensation for our officers. The Compensation Committee has not established a policy regarding the ratio of total compensation of the Chief Executive Officer to that of the other officers, but it does review compensation levels to ensure that appropriate equity exists. The Compensation Committee intends to continue to review internal compensation equity and may adopt a formal policy in the future if we deem such a policy to be appropriate.

It is our policy that the Compensation Committee will, to the extent permitted by governing law, have the sole and absolute authority to make retroactive adjustments to any cash or equity based incentive compensation paid to executive officers and certain other officers where the payment was predicated upon the achievement of certain financial results that were subsequently the subject of a restatement. Where applicable, we will seek to recover any amount determined to have been inappropriately received by the individual executive.

Benchmarking

The Compensation Committee does not believe that it is appropriate to establish compensation levels primarily based on benchmarking. While we recognize that our compensation practices must be competitive in the marketplace, such marketplace information is one of the many factors that we consider in assessing the reasonableness of compensation. When a named executive officer is scheduled to receive his or her annual raise, the Compensation Committee sometimes reviews the Radford Studies in order to compare the compensation received by comparable executives in similar-sized companies to ensure that the compensation we award is competitive in the market place. During 2006, the Compensation Committee used the Radford Studies in part to determine the annual raises for Mr. Melland, Mr. Durney and Mr. Campbell.

Management's Role in the Compensation-Setting Process

Our Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Melland, plays a significant role in the compensation-setting process. Mr. Melland evaluates the performance of the other named executive officers, establishes business performance targets and objectives for the other named executive officers and recommends salary and bonus levels and option awards for other executive officers. Mr. Durney recommends salary and bonus levels and option awards for Mr. Campbell and Ms. Melrose. All recommendations of Mr. Melland and Mr. Durney are subject to Compensation Committee approval. Mr. Melland may ask the Compensation Committee for the right to exercise discretion in awarding executive compensation in exceptional circumstances, but our general practice is that all decisions of the Compensation Committee are considered final.

Mr. Melland helps the Compensation Committee set its agenda for meetings and participates in committee meetings at the committee's request. He provides background information regarding our strategic objectives, evaluates the performance of the senior executive officers, and makes compensation recommendations for senior executive officers (other than himself). Other executives also prepare information for each Compensation Committee meeting.

Elements of Executive Compensation

Base Salary

Base pay provides executives with a base level of regular income. In determining base salaries, we consider the executive's qualifications, experience and industry knowledge, the quality and effectiveness of their leadership at our company, the scope of their responsibilities and future potential, the goals and objectives established for the executive, the executive's past performance, the base salary paid to officers in comparable positions at companies who are reflected in the Radford Studies, internal pay equity and the tax deductibility of base salary. In addition, we consider the other components of executive compensation and the mix of performance pay to total compensation. The Compensation Committee does not apply any specific weighting to these factors. On each executive's annual anniversary date of hiring, his or her past salary and performance are considered and the Compensation Committee decides whether or not to adjust the salary. Subject to the limitations found in each executive's employment agreement we entered into with each of the executives, the Compensation Committee can increase or decrease an executive's base salary at its discretion.

In 2006, the Compensation Committee approved increases in the annual base salary of each of the named executive officers: Mr. Melland from $360,000 to $385,000; Mr. Durney from $273,000 to $293,000; Mr. Silver from $260,000 to $276,000; Mr. Campbell from $239,200 to $251,200 and Ms. Melrose from $200,000 to $208,000.

Senior Bonus Plan

We award annual cash bonuses under our Senior Bonus Plan for achievement of specified performance objectives with a time horizon of one year or less. We make awards from an established bonus pool. The Compensation Committee determines the total size of our bonus pool by taking into account our qualitative and financial performance. The Compensation Committee determines the size of an award that we make to a particular executive by considering his individual performance as measured against pre-set performance targets and objectives and his or her individual impact on our overall performance. Each of those pieces is equally weighted. We believe this pool-based bonus system helps to foster teamwork and ensures that all executives work together as one in the interest of our performance.

The total pool available to all executives is funded in the following way:

- 30% of the pool is funded automatically;
- 35% is funded according to attainment of the revenue target; and
- 35% is funded according to attainment of the Adjusted EBITDA target.

In 2006, for purposes of the bonus pool (which excluded the impact of the results of eFinancialGroup), the revenue target was $76,176,000 and actual revenue was $82,131,000. The Adjusted EBITDA target for 2006 was $31,262,000 and the actual amount was $36,185,000 for purposes of the pool. The total bonus pool for the Senior Bonus Plan was $1,657,000.

We calculate our bonus pool as follows: We take a percentage of each executive's base pay and contribute that amount to the total bonus pool for our executives. In 2006, this percentage was 75% for Mr. Melland as Chief Executive Officer, 50% for each of Mr. Silver and Mr. Durney as Senior Vice Presidents, and 30% for each of Mr. Campbell and Ms. Melrose as Vice Presidents. We multiply this percentage by the executive's annual pay. The result is the amount we contributed with respect to that executive for the bonus pool for 2006.

The size of our bonus pool increases if our actual revenue in a year exceeds our budget target. The contribution we make to the bonus pool in respect of each executive's pay can be expanded so that each individual's "pay contribution" to the bonus pool can be as much as two times their target rate. In 2006, our actual revenues for bonus pool purposes exceeded our budget target by an amount that increased the pool by 58.6%. We multiplied each executive officer's target bonus amount by 158.6% to determine how much would be contributed to the bonus pool with respect to his or her pay. We may increase the percentage for any particular executive if that executive has had a distinct role in helping us achieve our objectives. We think this ensures that executives whose performance is outstanding receive proportionately larger bonuses as a reward. It was possible that any single executive officer could have been awarded up to a maximum of two times his or her base contribution to the bonus pool, if his or her performance warranted such a payout.

The 2006 performance goals and objectives for Mr. Melland included:

- achieving 2006 financial and operating targets, including: revenue, EBITDA, operating cash flow and customer growth;
- continuing to improve product line performance and customer satisfaction with our services;
- growing our development stage businesses: Targeted Job Fairs, ClearanceJobs.com, CyberMedia Dice;
- continuing to improve our management and organizational capabilities;
- developing a long-term strategic plan for our company; and
- executing against our strategic growth opportunities.

The 2006 performance goals and objectives for Mr. Durney included:

- ensuring timely, accurate and informative financial reporting;
- delivering 2006 targeted performance for our new lines of business;
- leading corporate development activities;
- running a successful disposition process for MeasureUp;
- fostering the growth of the CyberMedia Dice joint venture; and
- coordinating execution of our 2006 strategic expansion initiatives.

The 2006 performance goals and objectives for Mr. Silver included:

- improving customer acquisition and lead generation activities;
- improving the size, quality and uniqueness of our various user segments by building the loyalty and usage of 'passive' professionals and improving the geographic and skills balance of our professional communities;
- achieving inside sales targets for 2006;
- successfully implementing product improvements, including our new search engine, and upgrading the look and feel of the websites;
- maintaining and increasing customer and job seeker satisfaction; and
- supporting our new businesses: Targeted Job Fairs, ClearanceJobs.com, advertising, and CyberMedia Dice.

The 2006 performance goals and objectives for Mr. Campbell included:

- maintaining our legal files and endeavoring to ensure compliance with all laws and regulations;
- reviewing our agreements and other legal documents to determine whether any modifications should be made;
- monitoring spam and ensuring our compliance with privacy legislation;
- managing the legal issues surrounding the disposition of MeasureUp;
- providing legal and deal-related support to sales negotiations; and
- helping support strategic expansion initiatives.

The 2006 performance goals and objectives for Ms. Melrose included:

- building the profitability of the CyberMedia Dice joint venture;
- finalizing our position on expansion opportunities;
- identifying acquisition opportunities and tracking the progression of our competitors;
- monitoring our performance against our 2006 strategic initiatives;
- building a more detailed 3 to 5 year business plan; and
- enhancing the function of the treasury.

In December 2006, our proposed 2007 bonus plan was presented to the board and approved.

2005 Omnibus Stock Plan

We believe that equity compensation is the most effective means of creating a long-term link between the compensation provided to executives and gains realized by our stockholders, as the value of stock-based compensation is dependent upon long-term appreciation in stock price. Accordingly, we believe stock options should be a significant part of the total mix of executive compensation. Under our 2005 Omnibus Stock Plan, all stock options incorporate the following features:

- the term of the grant does not exceed 10 years;
- the grant price is not less than the fair market value of our common stock on the date of grant; and
- options typically vest over four years, with the first 25% typically vesting on the first anniversary of the vesting commencement date, and 6.25% vesting quarterly thereafter.

In 2006, the Compensation Committee granted no options to our executive officers. In determining the number of options to be granted to our executives, the Compensation Committee takes into account the individual's position, scope of responsibility, ability to affect profits and stockholder value, the individual's historic and recent performance, the number of options currently held by the individual, the level of options granted to them in prior years and the value of stock options in relation to other elements of total compensation.

We continue to use stock options as a long-term incentive vehicle because:

- Stock options align the interests of executives with those of the stockholders, support a pay-for-performance culture, foster employee stock ownership, and focus the management team on increasing value for the stockholders.
- Stock options are performance based: all the value received by the recipient from a stock option is based on the growth of the stock price above the option price.
- Stock options help to provide a balance to the overall compensation program: while salary and cash bonuses focus on the achievement of annual performance targets, the four year vesting for stock options creates incentive for increases in stockholder value over a longer term.
- The vesting period encourages executive retention and the preservation of stockholder value.

Additional Benefits

Executive officers participate in other employee benefit plans generally available to all employees on the same terms, such as a 401(k) matching plan. In addition, certain executive officers participate in a Supplemental Disability Plan.

Severance and Change-in-Control Arrangements

Each named executive officer is entitled to receive severance benefits under to the terms of his or her employment agreement upon either termination by us without cause or resignation by the executive for good reason. For details on our change of control severance plan, see "—Potential Post-Employment Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control." We award severance payments in the event of a termination related to a change of control to ensure that each executive is focused on our best interests, even if that means working himself or herself out of a job.

Reasonableness of Compensation

After considering all components of the compensation paid to the named executive officers in 2006, we considered the total compensation reasonable because:

- Management has consistently led us to record levels of performance in recent years.
- The total compensation levels for the named executive officers are comparable with those of similarly situated executives in comparable companies.

Tax and Accounting Considerations

We generally seek to maximize the deductibility for tax purposes of all elements of compensation. For example, we have consistently issued nonqualified stock options that will result in a tax deduction to us upon exercise. Section 162(m) of the Code generally disallows a tax deduction to public corporations for non-qualifying compensation in excess of $1.0 million paid to any such persons in any fiscal year. The Compensation Committee reviews compensation plans in light of applicable tax provisions, including Section 162(m), and may revise compensation plans from time to time to maximize deductibility. However, the Compensation Committee may approve compensation that does not qualify for deductibility when we deem it to be in our best interests.

Summary Compensation Table For Fiscal Year 2006

The following table sets forth the cash and non-cash compensation paid by us or incurred on our behalf to our named executive officers during 2006, our last completed fiscal year.

Name and Principal Position	Year	Salary ($)	Non-Equity Incentive Plan Compensation ($)(1)	Option Awards ($)(2)	All Other Compensation ($)(3)	Total ($)

Employment Agreements

We have entered into an employment agreement with each of our named executive officers. Each agreement contains confidentiality provisions and a representation and warranty that performance of the executive's employment obligations under the agreement will not cause him or her to breach any non-disclosure agreement by which he or she is bound.

Scot Melland

Mr. Melland's employment agreement provides that Mr. Melland will continue to serve as our President and Chief Executive Officer until his employment is terminated by us or by Mr. Melland, which may be at any time, with or without cause, subject to the provisions of his employment agreement. The agreement contains a covenant not to engage in any business that competes with us during the term of his employment and for a period of nine months thereafter, and a covenant not to solicit employees during the term of his employment and for a period of 12 months thereafter.

Mr. Melland is entitled to receive an annual base salary of $385,000, and in accordance with the terms of his employment agreement, the Senior Bonus Plan and our benefit policies, is eligible for an annual discretionary target bonus of 75% of his base salary, determined by the Compensation Committee and subject to the performance of both Mr. Melland and us. Mr. Melland participates in our long-term incentive plan, and all employee benefit plans including a 401(k) plan. Mr. Melland is entitled to four weeks of vacation per year.

Michael Durney

Mr. Durney's employment agreement provides that Mr. Durney will continue to serve as our Senior Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer until his employment is terminated by us or by Mr. Durney, which may be at any time, with or without cause, subject to the provisions of his employment agreement. The agreement contains a covenant not to engage in any business that competes with us or to solicit employees during the term of his employment and for a period of 12 months thereafter.

Mr. Durney is entitled to receive an annual base salary of $293,000, and in accordance with the terms of his employment agreement, the Senior Bonus Plan and our benefit policies, is eligible for an annual discretionary target bonus of 50% of his base salary. Mr. Durney participates in our long-term incentive plan, and all employee benefit plans including a 401(k) plan. Mr. Durney is entitled to four weeks of vacation per year.

(1) These options were awarded pursuant to the Nonqualified Stock Option Agreements entered into by each of our named executive officers on November 7, 2005 under our 2005 Omnibus Stock Plan. Under these agreements, 25% of the total options granted are exercisable on the first anniversary of the vesting commencement date, August 31, 2005, and in installments of 6.25% quarterly thereafter. If Mr. Melland's employment is terminated by us without cause prior to a change of control, 25% of his then unvested stock options will become immediately vested and exercisable. If Mr. Melland's employment is terminated at any time following a change of control, all of his outstanding stock options will immediately become vested and exercisable. If any of the other named executive officers is terminated within 12 months following a change of control, all of their outstanding stock options will immediately become vested and exercisable.

(2) On October 27, 2006, the option exercise price was adjusted from $1,000 (as stated in the Nonqualified Stock Option Agreement entered into by each of our named executive officers) to $911 to reflect a non-recurring dividend to our preferred stockholders of $100 per share.

(3) On March 23, 2007, the option exercise price on the then unvested options was further reduced from $911 to $91 to reflect a non-recurring dividend to our stockholders of $900.11 per share. In lieu of a dividend, each holder of vested options received a payment of $900.11 per vested option.

Potential Post-Employment Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control

The employment of each named executive officer may be terminated by us or by the executive at any time, with or without cause, subject to the provisions of his or her employment agreement. Each named executive officer is entitled to receive severance benefits pursuant to the terms of his or her employment agreement upon either termination by us without cause or resignation by the executive for good reason. A named executive officer is not eligible for benefits if his or her termination is due to death or permanent disability.

A termination for "good reason" includes any of the following company actions:

- a diminution in the executive's responsibilities, title, duties and reporting lines compared to those existing immediately prior to a change of control;
- a reduction in the executive's salary, incentive compensation and other employee benefits compared to those existing immediately prior to a change of control;
- relocation of the executive to an office more than 40 miles from the executive's principal office immediately prior to a change of control;
- breach by us of the executive's employment agreement;
- failure of any successor to assume, in writing, all obligations under the executive's employment agreement.

A termination for "cause" includes any of the following actions by the executive: embezzlement; misappropriation of our funds; conviction of a felony; any act of fraud, deceit, or dishonesty causing us material economic harm; material breach of the executive's employment agreement; willful failure to substantially perform his or her duties; willful breach of fiduciary duty to us involving personal profit; significant violation of our policies or other contractual, statutory or common law duties to us.

A "change of control" for these purposes consists of any of the following:

- an acquisition of more than 50 percent of our voting securities (other than acquisitions from or by us);
- any stockholder-approved transfer or disposition of all or substantially all of our assets;
- any plan of liquidation providing for the distribution of all or substantially all of our assets;
- the consummation of a reorganization, merger or consolidation or sale or disposition of all or substantially all our assets or the acquisition of assets or stock of another corporation or other business combination, unless following such business combination (1) all or substantially all of the beneficial owners of our securities before the business combination beneficially own more than 60% of the voting securities of the resulting corporation in substantially the same proportions as their ownership before the transaction; (2) no person owns 20% or more of the voting securities of the resulting corporation except to the extent that such ownership existed before the business combination; and (3) the members of our board of directors prior to such business combination constitute at least a majority of the board of directors of the resulting corporation; or
- a change in the composition of our board over a period of 36 months or less such that a majority of the board members cease to be continuing directors.

Under each named executive officer's employment agreement, the executive may become entitled to certain "Severance Payments" upon termination of employment without cause or by the employee for good reason after a change in control. These Severance Payments are described more specifically below, but generally include a lump sum payment tied to salary and bonus level and accelerated vesting of stock options. In the event that any Severance Payments would be subject to the excise tax imposed by Section 4999 of the Code, we will "gross up", on an after-tax basis, the executive officer's compensation so as to put him in the same after-tax position he would have enjoyed had the Section 4999 excise tax not applied to the Severance Payments. These make-whole provisions include certain computational assumptions and conventions, for example: (1) any other payments or benefits received in connection with a change in ownership or control will be treated as parachute payments, and all excess parachute payments are treated as subject to the excise tax, both as defined by Section 280G of the Code, and (2) the amount of the severance payments which will be treated as subject to the excise tax will be the lesser of the total amount of the severance payments or the amount of the excess parachute payments.

Upon any termination, each named executive officer, his or her spouse and eligible dependents will be entitled to continued medical and dental benefits at active-employee rates for a period of 12 months following termination, and such benefits will not be reduced by benefits obtained from a subsequent employer.

Any named executive officer who voluntarily resigns for any reason other than good reason during the 12 month period following a change of control, will not be entitled to any severance payment or acceleration of the vesting of any unvested stock options.

According to the terms of each named executive officer's Nonqualified Stock Option Agreements, if their employment is terminated due to their death or disability or for any other reason except by us for cause, the unvested portion of their stock option will expire on the date they are terminated. The vested portion will remain exercisable until the earlier of either the expiration of the option period or 12 months after such termination in the case of termination due to death or disability, or 90 days after any other termination other than termination by us for cause.

However, if such termination, including termination by the named executive officer for good reason, occurs before our initial public offering, then the vested portion will remain exercisable until the earlier of either 90 days following such offering or immediately prior to the occurrence of a liquidity event (as defined in the Stockholders Agreement).

If we terminate any named executive officer's employment for cause, both the unvested and vested portions of the stock option will terminate on the same date their employment is terminated.

`Scot Melland`

If Mr. Melland's employment is terminated by us without cause prior to a change of control, he will be entitled to a lump sum severance payment of one times the sum of his then current annual salary plus his then current target bonus, and accelerated vesting of 25% of his then unvested stock options.

If Mr. Melland's employment is terminated following a change of control, either by us without cause or by him for good reason, he will be entitled to a lump sum severance payment of 117 percent of his then current annual salary plus his then current target bonus, and all of his outstanding stock options will immediately become vested and exercisable.

Mr. Melland will be entitled to an additional lump sum payment equal to 50 percent of his then current annual salary if, within 60 days after any termination, he enters into a written separation agreement containing a covenant not to engage in any business that competes with us, solicit our employees, or disparage us for a period of 18 months following such termination. Mr. Melland will also be entitled to this lump sum payment if we do not negotiate such a separation agreement with him within 60 days following his termination.

In accordance with the terms of the Nonqualified Stock Option Agreements entered into by Mr. Melland, the stock options granted to him will immediately become fully vested and exercisable on the date of any change of control and will remain exercisable until expiration of the relevant option periods.

`Michael Durney`

If Mr. Durney's employment is terminated by us without cause prior to a change of control, we will provide him with a severance payment in an amount equal to his then current annual salary, provided he executes and delivers a release form prepared by us. In the event of such termination, all of Mr. Durney's outstanding options will immediately become vested.

If Mr. Durney's employment is terminated either by us without cause or by him for good reason within 12 months following a change of control, he will be entitled to a lump sum severance payment of one times the sum of his then current annual salary plus his then current target bonus (or, if higher, the amount of bonus attributable to a calendar year's service paid to the executive immediately prior to the change of control), and all outstanding stock options will immediately become vested and exercisable.

`Thomas Silver`

If Mr. Silver's employment is terminated by us without cause prior to a change of control, he will be entitled to a lump sum severance payment of one times his then current annual base salary.

If Mr. Silver's employment is terminated either by us without cause or by him for good reason following a change of control, he will be entitled to a lump sum severance payment of one times the sum of his then current annual salary plus his then current target bonus, and all outstanding stock options will immediately become vested.

Brian Campbell

If Mr. Campbell's employment is terminated by us without cause before a change of control, he will be entitled to a lump sum severance payment of 75 percent of his then current annual salary. If Mr. Campbell's employment is terminated either by us without cause or by him for good reason within 12 months following a change of control, he will be entitled to receive a lump sum severance payment equal to one times his then current annual salary plus the amount of his most recently paid regular annual bonus, excluding special bonuses (or, if higher, the amount of bonus attributable to a calendar year's service paid to him immediately prior to the change of control), and all outstanding stock options will immediately become vested and exercisable.

Constance Melrose

If Ms. Melrose's employment is terminated either by us without cause or by her for good reason within 12 months following a change of control, she will be entitled to a lump sum severance payment equal to the sum of 50 percent of her then current annual salary plus 50 percent of her then current target bonus (or, if higher, the amount of bonus attributable to a calendar year's service paid to her immediately prior to the change of control), and all outstanding stock options will immediately become vested and exercisable.

If Ms. Melrose's employment is terminated by us without cause, she will be entitled to a severance payment equal to 50 percent of her then current annual salary.

Termination Payments

The following table sets forth the payments each of our named executive officers would have received if their employment had been terminated by us without cause on December 31, 2006 and there was no change of control.

(1) Mr. Gordon, Mr. Treacy and Mr. Wyman each receive a flat fee of $10,000 per annum for serving on our board of Directors.

(2) Represents the compensation cost of stock options recognized for financial statement reporting purposes with respect to the last fiscal year in accordance with FAS123R. See note 2 to our consolidated financial statements and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Critical Accounting Policies—Stock and Stock-Based Compensation" for the assumptions made in determining these values.

(3) Mr. Lanning resigned as a director of our company effective as of March 28, 2007.

(4) Mr. Rattner resigned as a director of our company effective as of March 30, 2007.

(5) The FAS 123R grant date fair value was $115,324. These options were awarded pursuant to the Nonqualified Stock Option Agreement entered into by Mr. Treacy on May 2, 2006 under our 2005 Omnibus Stock Plan. Under this agreement, 25% of the total options granted are exercisable on the first anniversary of the vesting commencement date, May 2, 2006, and in installments of 6.25% quarterly after that. Upon the occurrence of a change of control, the entire option will immediately become fully vested and exercisable as of the date of such change of control. At December 31, 2006, Mr. Treacy held no other Company options. If Mr. Treacy's employment is terminated due to his death or disability or for any other reason except by us for cause the unvested portion of his stock option will expire on the date he is terminated. The vested portion will remain exercisable until the earlier of either the expiration of the option period, May 2, 2016, or 12 months after such termination in the case of termination due to death or disability, or 90 days after such termination in the case of any other termination other than by us for cause. If Mr. Treacy is terminated for cause, both the vested and unvested portions of the option will immediately terminate.

Mr. Treacy resigned as a director of our company effective as of March 28, 2007. We accelerated the vesting of a portion of his options so that options to purchase 127 shares of common stock immediately became fully vested and exercisable and the remaining 127 options expired. Mr. Treacy has until December 31, 2007 to exercise the vested options.

(6) The FAS 123R grant date fair value was $185,445. At December 31, 2006, Mr. Wyman held no other Company options. Mr. Wyman's option awards have the same terms as Mr. Treacy's awards described in the first paragraph of footnote 5 above.

Compensation Committee lnterlocks and Insider Participation

None of our executive officers serves as a member of the board of directors or Compensation Committee of any entity that has one or more executive officers who serve on our board of directors or compensation committee.

Incentive Plans

Cash Incentive Plan

Prior to the consummation of this offering, we expect to adopt a Cash Incentive Plan for certain of our executives. The purpose of the Cash Incentive Plan is to promote the success of the Company by (i) compensating and rewarding participating executives with cash bonuses for the achievement of performance targets with respect to a specified performance period and (ii) motivating such executives by giving them opportunities to receive bonuses directly related to such performance. The Cash Incentive Plan is generally intended to provide bonuses that qualify as performance-based compensation within the meaning of Section 162(m) of the Code. The following description is a summary of certain provisions thereof and is qualified in its entirety by the reference to the Cash Incentive Plan that was filed as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part and which we incorporate by reference into this document.

Section 162(m) of the Code generally provides that we may not take a federal income tax deduction for compensation in excess of $1,000,000 paid to certain executive officers in any one year. Certain performance-based compensation is exempt from this limit. Specifically, Section 162(m) of the Code does not preclude us from taking a federal income tax deduction for certain qualifying performance-based compensation paid to an executive officer in a year even if that compensation exceeds $1,000,000. The Cash Incentive Plan is structured to satisfy the requirements for performance-based compensation within the meaning of Section 162(m) of the Code and related IRS regulations. Section 162(m) requires that certain material terms of the Cash Incentive Plan, including the performance criteria of the Company and maximum amounts payable, be approved by our stockholders.

Administration. The Cash Incentive Plan will be administered by a committee (which may be the board of directors of our Compensation Committee or a subcommitee of our Compensation Committee). It is intended that our Compensation Committee will be selected by our board of directors and will be composed of two or more members of our board, each of whom will be required to be an "outside director" within the meaning of Section 162(m) of the Code. The committee will have all the authority that may be necessary or helpful to enable it to discharge its responsibilities with respect to the Cash Incentive Plan, including authority to determine eligibility for participation, establish the maximum award that may be earned by each participant, which may be expressed in terms of dollar amount, percentage of salary or any other measurement, establish goals for each participant, establish the applicable performance period, calculate and determine each participant's level of attainment of these goals and calculate an award for each participant based upon such level of attainment. Except as otherwise specifically stated in the Cash Incentive Plan, the committee will have full power and authority to construe, interpret and administer the Cash Incentive Plan.

Eligibility. The Cash Incentive Plan provides that the committee will designate the officers and other key executives who will be eligible for awards for the "performance period" during which performance is measured. A performance period is any period of at least 12 months as determined by our compensation committee.

Bonus Awards and Performance Goals. For each performance period, the committee will establish a maximum award (and, if our compensation committee so determines, a target and/or threshold award) and goals for each participant ("performance goals"). Performance goals may relate to our performance, the performance of one or more of our subsidiaries, divisions or departments and/or performance specific to the participant's function. The committee will communicate these performance goals to each participant prior to or during the applicable performance period. Participants will earn awards only upon the attainment of the applicable performance goals during the applicable performance period as and to the extent established by the committee.

The performance goals for participants will be based on attainment of specific levels of our performance and/or the performance of our subsidiaries, divisions or departments and/or functional performance, as applicable, with reference to one or more of the following performance criteria:

- net earnings or net income (before or after taxes);
- basic or diluted earnings per share (before or after taxes);
- revenue;
- gross profit or gross profit growth;
- net operating profit (before or after taxes);
- return measures (including, but not limited to, return on assets, capital, invested capital, equity or sales);
- cash flow (including, but not limited to, operating cash flow, free cash flow and cash flow return on capital);
- earnings before or after taxes, interest, depreciation and amortization;
- gross or operating margins;
- productivity ratios;
- share price (including, but not limited to, growth measures and total stockholder return);

- expense targets;
- margins;
- operating efficiency;
- objective measures of customer satisfaction;
- working capital targets; and
- measures of economic value added.

As soon as practicable following the end of the applicable performance period, the committee will certify the attainment of the performance goals and will calculate the award, if any, payable to each participant. Bonus awards will be paid in a lump sum cash payment as soon as practicable following the determination of the applicable amount by the committee. The committee retains the right to reduce any award in its discretion. The maximum amount payable to a participant in respect of an annual bonus award that is intended to qualify for the "performance-based compensation" exception to Section 162(m) of the Code is $ million.

Termination or Amendment of Plan. The committee may amend, suspend or terminate the Cash Incentive Plan at any time, provided that no amendment may be made without the approval of our stockholders if the effect of any amendment would be to cause outstanding or pending awards that are intended to qualify for the "performance-based compensation" exception to Section 162(m) of the Code to cease to qualify for this exception.

2005 Omnibus Stock Plan

We adopted the 2005 Omnibus Stock Plan (the "2005 Plan") effective upon the closing of the 2005 Acquisition. The purpose of the 2005 Plan is to provide incentives to persons or entities in a position to contribute to our long-term success, to increase their interest in our welfare and to aid in attracting, retaining and motivating persons of outstanding ability. As of March 30, 2007, there were nonqualified options outstanding under the 2005 Plan to acquire an aggregate of 17,938 shares of our common stock that were granted at an exercise price per share equal to the fair market value of a share on the date of grant. As of March 30, 2007, there were 135 shares of our common stock that remain available for grants of options under the 2005 Plan. The 2005 Plan is administered by our board or such other committee as may be appointed by our board with responsibility for the administration of the 2005 Plan. We expect that the Compensation Committee will administer the 2005 Plan following the completion of the offering. The Compensation Committee will have full and final authority to adopt, amend, suspend, waive and rescind such rules and regulations and appoint such agents as it may deem necessary or advisable to administer the 2005 Plan, to correct any defect or supply any omission or reconcile any inconsistency in the 2005 Plan and to construe and interpret the 2005 Plan and any option, grant letter or other instrument under the 2005 Plan and make all other decisions and determinations as may be required under the terms of the 2005 Plan or as it may deem necessary or advisable for the administration of the 2005 Plan.

Unless otherwise determined by the Compensation Committee and set forth in a grant letter, options granted under the 2005 Plan shall terminate on the 10th anniversary of the date of grant, subject to earlier termination in the event of termination of employment. Upon vesting, options granted under the 2005 Plan may be exercised in accordance with their terms. In the event of any reorganization, merger, exchange or issuance of shares of our common stock or other securities or other similar transactions or events involving a change in our capitalization, the Compensation Committee may in its discretion make equitable adjustment in, among other things, the number and kind of shares of our common stock that may be available for option grants, delivered or deliverable in respect of outstanding options and the exercise price. The Compensation Committee may, at any time, alter, amend, suspend, discontinue or terminate the 2005 Plan; provided, however, that except as provided above in connection with certain changes in our capitalization, no such action shall adversely affect the rights of grantees with respect to options previously granted under the 2005 Plan.

2007 Equity Award Plan

Prior to the consummation of this offering, we expect to adopt the 2007 Equity Plan for grants to be made to participants immediately prior to and following the consummation of this offering. The purpose of our 2007 Equity Plan is to give us a competitive edge in attracting, retaining and motivating employees, directors and consultants and to provide us with a stock plan providing incentives directly related to increases in our stockholder value.

Administration. A committee (which may be the board of directors, our Compensation Committee, or a subcommittee of our Compensation Committee) will administer our 2007 Equity Plan. The committee will have the authority to determine the terms and conditions of any agreements evidencing any awards granted under our 2007 Equity Plan and to adopt, alter and repeal rules, guidelines and practices relating to our 2007 Equity Plan. The committee will have full discretion to administer and interpret the 2007 Equity Plan and to adopt such rules, regulations and procedures as it deems necessary or advisable and to determine, among other things, the time or times at which the awards may be exercised and whether and under what circumstances an award may be exercised.

Eligibility. Any of our employees, directors, officers or consultants or of our subsidiaries or their respective affiliates will be eligible for awards under our 2007 Equity Plan. The committee has the sole and complete authority to determine who will be granted an award under the 2007 Equity Plan.

Number of Shares Authorized. The 2007 Equity Plan provides for an aggregate of shares of our common stock to be available for awards. No more than shares of our common stock may be issued in respect of incentive stock options under our 2007 Equity Plan. No participant may be granted awards of options and stock appreciation rights with respect to more than shares of our common stock in any one year. No more than shares of our common stock may be granted under our 2007 Equity Plan with respect to performance compensation awards in any one year. If any award is forfeited or if any option terminates, expires or lapses without being exercised, shares of our common stock subject to such award will again be made available for future grant. If there is any change in our corporate capitalization, the committee in its sole discretion may make substitutions or adjustments to the number of shares reserved for issuance under our 2007 Equity Plan, the number of shares covered by awards then outstanding under our 2007 Equity Plan, the limitations on awards under our 2007 Equity Plan, the exercise price of outstanding options and such other equitable substitution or adjustments as it may determine appropriate.

The 2007 Equity Plan will have a term of ten years and no further awards may be granted after that date.

Awards Available for Grant. The committee may grant awards of nonqualified stock options, incentive (qualified) stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock awards, restricted stock units, stock bonus awards, performance compensation awards or any combination of the foregoing.

Options. The committee will be authorized to grant options to purchase shares of common stock that are either "qualified," meaning they are intended to satisfy the requirements of Section 422 of Code for incentive stock options, or "nonqualified," meaning they are not intended to satisfy the requirements of Section 422 of the Code. Options granted under our 2007 Equity Plan will be subject to the terms and conditions established by the committee. Under the terms of our 2007 Equity Plan, unless the committee determines otherwise, the exercise price of the options will not be less than the fair market value of our common stock at the time of grant. Options granted under the 2007 Equity Plan will be subject to such terms, including the exercise price and the conditions and timing of exercise, as may be determined by committee and specified in the applicable award agreement. The maximum term of an option granted under the 2007 Equity Plan will be ten years from the date of grant (or five years in the case of a qualified option granted to a 10% stockholder). Payment in respect of the exercise of an option may be made in cash or by check, by surrender of unrestricted shares (at their fair market value on the date of exercise) that have been held by the participant for at least six months or have been purchased on the open market, or the committee may, in its discretion and to the extent permitted by law, allow such payment to be made through a broker-assisted cashless exercise mechanism or by such other method as the committee may determine to be appropriate.

Stock Appreciation Rights. The committee will be authorized to award stock appreciation rights (referred to in this prospectus as SARs) under the 2007 Equity Plan. SARs will be subject to the terms and conditions established by the committee. A SAR is a contractual right that allows a participant to receive, either in the form of cash, shares or any combination of cash and shares, the appreciation, if any, in the value of a share over a certain period of time. An option granted under the 2007 Equity Plan may include SARs and SARs may also be awarded to a participant independent of the grant of an option. SARs granted in connection with an option shall be subject to terms similar to the option corresponding to such SARs. The terms of the SARs shall be subject to terms established by the committee and reflected in the award agreement.

Restricted Stock. The committee will be authorized to award restricted stock under the 2007 Equity Plan. Awards of restricted stock will be subject to the terms and conditions established by the committee. Restricted stock is common stock that generally is non-transferable and is subject to other restrictions determined by the committee for a specified period. Unless the committee determines otherwise or specifies otherwise in an award agreement, if the participant terminates employment or services during the restricted period, then any unvested restricted stock is forfeited.

Restricted Stock Unit Awards. The committee will be authorized to award restricted stock unit awards. Restricted stock unit awards will be subject to the terms and conditions established by the committee. Unless the committee determines otherwise, or specifies otherwise in an award agreement, if the participant terminates employment or services during the period of time over which all or a portion of the units are to be earned, then any unvested units will be forfeited. At the election of the committee, the participant will receive a number of shares of common stock equal to the number of units earned or an amount in cash equal to the fair market value of that number of shares at the expiration of the period over which the units are to be earned or at a later date selected by the committee.

Stock Bonus Awards. The committee will be authorized to grant awards of unrestricted shares of our common stock, either alone or in tandem with other awards, under such terms and conditions as the committee may determine.

Performance Compensation Awards. The committee may grant any award under the 2007 Equity Plan in the form of a performance compensation award by conditioning the vesting of the award on the satisfaction of certain performance goals. The committee may establish these performance goals with reference to one or more of the following:

- net earnings or net income (before or after taxes);
- basic or diluted earnings per share (before or after taxes);
- net revenue or net revenue growth;
- gross profit or gross profit growth;
- net operating profit (before or after taxes);
- return measures (including, but not limited to, return on assets, capital, invested capital, equity or sales);

- cash flow (including, but not limited to, operating cash flow, free cash flow and cash flow return on capital);
- earnings before or after taxes, interest, depreciation, and amortization;
- gross or operating margins;
- productivity ratios;
- share price (including, but not limited to, growth measures and total stockholder return);
- expense targets;
- margins;
- operating efficiency;
- objective measures of customer satisfaction;
- working capital targets; and
- measures of economic value added.

Transferability. Each award may be exercised during the participant's lifetime only by the participant or, if permissible under applicable law, by the participant's guardian or legal representative and may not be otherwise transferred or encumbered by a participant other than by will or by the laws of descent and distribution.

Amendment. Our 2007 Equity Plan will have a term of 10 years. Our board of directors may amend, suspend or terminate our 2007 Equity Plan at any time; however, stockholder approval to amend our 2007 Equity Plan may be necessary if the law so requires. No amendment, suspension or termination will impair the rights of any participant or recipient of any award without the consent of the participant or recipient.

Change in Control. In the event of a change in control (as defined in the 2007 Equity Plan), all outstanding options and equity awards (other than performance compensation awards) issued under the 2007 Equity Plan may, in the discretion of the committee, become fully vested and performance compensation awards will vest, as determined by the committee, based on the level of attainment of the specified performance goals. The committee may, in its discretion, cancel outstanding awards and pay the value of such awards to the participants in connection with a change in control.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences

The following is a general summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the grant and exercise and vesting of awards under our plans and the disposition of shares acquired pursuant to the exercise of such awards and is intended to reflect the current provisions of the Code and the regulations thereunder. This summary is not intended to be a complete statement of applicable law, nor does it address foreign, state, local and payroll tax considerations. Moreover, the U.S. federal income tax consequences to any particular participant may differ from those described herein by reason of, among other things, the particular circumstances of such participant.

Options. The Code requires that, for treatment of an option as a qualified option, shares of our common stock acquired through the exercise of a qualified option cannot be disposed of before the later of (i) two years from the date of grant of the option, or (ii) one year from the date of exercise. Holders of qualified options will generally incur no federal income tax liability at the time of grant or upon exercise of those options. However, the spread at exercise will be an "item of tax preference," which may give rise to "alternative minimum tax" liability for the taxable year in which the exercise occurs. If the holder does not dispose of the shares before two years following the date of grant and one year following the date of exercise, the difference between the exercise price and the amount realized upon disposition of the shares will constitute long-term capital gain or loss, as the case may be. Assuming both holding periods are satisfied, no deduction will be allowed to us for federal income tax purposes in connection with the grant or exercise of the qualified option. If, within two years following the date of grant or within one year following the date of exercise, the holder of shares acquired through the exercise of a qualified option disposes of those shares, the participant will generally realize taxable compensation at the time of such disposition equal to the difference between the exercise price and the lesser of the fair market value of the shares on the date of exercise or the amount realized on the subsequent disposition of the shares, and that amount will generally be deductible by us for federal income tax purposes, subject to the possible limitations on deductibility under Sections 280G and 162(m) of the Code for compensation paid to executives designated in those Sections. Finally, if an otherwise qualified option becomes first exercisable in any one year for shares having an aggregate value in excess of $100,000 (based on the grant date value), the portion of the qualified option in respect of those excess shares will be treated as a non-qualified stock option for federal income tax purposes. No income will be realized by a participant upon grant of a non-qualified stock option. Upon the exercise of a non-qualified stock option, the participant will recognize ordinary compensation income in an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the fair market value of the underlying exercised shares over the option exercise price paid at the time of exercise. We will be able to deduct this same amount for U.S. federal income tax purposes, but such deduction may be limited under Sections 280G and 162(m) of the Code for compensation paid to certain executives designated in those Sections.

Restricted Stock. A participant will not be subject to tax upon the grant of an award of restricted stock unless the participant otherwise elects to be taxed at the time of grant pursuant to Section 83(b) of the Code. On the date an award of restricted stock becomes transferable or is no longer subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture, the participant will have taxable compensation equal to the difference between the fair market value of the shares on that date over the amount the participant paid for such shares, if any, unless the participant made an election under Section 83(b) of the Code to be taxed at the time of grant. If the participant made an election under Section 83(b), the participant will have taxable compensation at the time of grant equal to the difference between the fair market value of the shares on the date of grant over the amount the participant paid for such shares, if any. (Special rules apply to the receipt and disposition of restricted shares received by officers and directors who are subject to Section 16(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act")). We will be able to deduct, at the same time as it is recognized by the participant, the amount of taxable compensation to the participant for U.S. federal income tax purposes, but such deduction may be limited under Sections 280G and 162(m) of the Code for compensation paid to certain executives designated in those Sections.

Restricted Stock Units. A participant will not be subject to tax upon the grant of a restricted stock unit award. Rather, upon the delivery of shares or cash pursuant to a restricted stock unit award, the participant will have taxable compensation equal to the fair market value of the number of shares (or the amount of cash) he actually receives with respect to the award. We will be able to deduct the amount of taxable compensation to the participant for U.S. federal income tax purposes, but the deduction may be limited under Sections 280G and 162(m) of the Code for compensation paid to certain executives designated in those Sections.

SARs. No income will be realized by a participant upon grant of a SAR. Upon the exercise of a SAR, the participant will recognize ordinary compensation income in an amount equal to the fair market value of the payment received in respect of the SAR. We will be able to deduct this same amount for U.S. federal income tax purposes, but such deduction may be limited under Sections 280G and 162(m) of the Code for compensation paid to certain executives designated in those Sections.

Stock Bonus Awards. A participant will have taxable compensation equal to the difference between the fair market value of the shares on the date the award is made over the amount the participant paid for such shares, if any. We will be able to deduct, at the same time as it is recognized by the participant, the amount of taxable compensation to the participant for U.S. federal income tax purposes, but such deduction may be limited under Sections 280G and 162(m) of the Code for compensation paid to certain executives designated in those Sections.

Section 162(m). In general, Section 162(m) of the Code denies a publicly held corporation a deduction for U.S. federal income tax purposes for compensation in excess of $1,000,000 per year per person to its chief executive officer and the four other officers whose compensation is required by the Exchange Act to be disclosed in its proxy statement, subject to certain exceptions. The 2007 Equity Plan is intended to satisfy either an exception or applicable transitional rule requirements with respect to grants of options to covered employees. In addition, the 2007 Equity Plan is designed to permit certain awards of restricted stock, restricted stock units and other awards to be awarded as performance compensation awards intended to qualify under either the "performance-based compensation" exception to Section 162(m) of the Code or applicable transitional rule requirements.

Principal and Selling Stockholders

The table below sets forth, as of March 15, 2007, information with respect to the beneficial ownership of our common stock by:

- each of our directors and each of the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table under "Executive Compensation,"
- each of the selling stockholders;
- each person who is known to be the beneficial owner of more than 5% of any class or series of our capital stock, and
- all of our directors and executive officers as a group.

The amounts and percentages of common stock beneficially owned are reported on the basis of the regulations of the Commission governing the determination of beneficial ownership of securities. Under these rules, a person is deemed to be a beneficial owner of a security if that person has or shares voting power, which includes the power to vote or to direct the voting of such security, or investment power, which includes the power to dispose of or to direct the disposition of such security. A person is also deemed to be a beneficial owner of any securities of which that person has a right to acquire beneficial ownership within 60 days. Under these rules, more than one person may be deemed to be a beneficial owner of the same securities.

Relationship with Selling Stockholders

All of the shares offered by General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders were issued in connection with the 2005 Acquisition. We have entered into a stockholders agreement with the Principal Stockholders and certain of our other stockholders pursuant to which we have granted registration rights to the Principal Stockholders. For additional information with respect to General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders and their relationship with us please see “Certain Relationships and Related Transactions.”

Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

Conversion and Stock Split

Prior to this offering, we had one class of common stock and one class of preferred stock, our common stock and our Series A convertible preferred stock. In accordance with the terms of the certificate of designation for our Series A convertible preferred stock, the holders of 66 2/3% of all outstanding Series A convertible preferred stock have the right at any time to require all the outstanding shares of Series A convertible preferred stock to be converted into an equal number of shares of our common stock. In addition, any holder of Series A convertible preferred stock may at any time convert its shares of Series A convertible preferred stock into an equal number of shares of our common stock. We expect that prior to the consummation of this offering, the Principal Stockholders, who together own more than 66 2/3% of the outstanding Series A convertible preferred stock, will require that all of the outstanding shares of Series A convertible preferred stock be converted into our common stock and, as a result, after this offering, we will only have common stock outstanding. In addition, prior to the consummation of this offering, we will increase our total authorized number of shares of capital stock, make certain changes to our charter documents and effect a to stock split.

After the Conversion, the Stock Split and the consummation of this offering, we will have shares of common stock outstanding and shares of common stock issuable upon the exercise of options to purchase shares of common stock offered hereby.

Dividend

On October 27, 2006, we paid a cash dividend of approximately $11.2 million in the aggregate, or $100 per share, to holders of our Series A convertible preferred stock. On March 23, 2007, we paid a dividend of approximately $107.9 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per share, to holders of our common stock and Series A convertible preferred stock and made a payment of $4.6 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per vested option, to holders of vested stock options in lieu of a dividend.

Stockholders Agreement

We, the Principal Stockholders, the Management Stockholders and the eFG Stockholders are parties to an Amended and Restated Stockholders Agreement dated as of October 31, 2006. The Stockholders Agreement contains certain rights and restrictions with respect to the transfer of shares of our capital stock and contains provisions related to registration rights.

The Stockholders Agreement also contains certain provisions that will terminate automatically upon the consummation of this offering, including provisions related to the structure of our board of directors, corporate governance and the right of the Principal Stockholders to compel participation in a sale of the company and the right of the Management Stockholders and the eFG Stockholders to join in a sale of our company.

Restrictions on Transfer

Under the Stockholders Agreement, neither of the Principal Stockholders may sell or transfer shares of our capital stock (except for transfers to certain permitted transferees) without the consent of the other Principal Stockholder. Additionally, in accordance with the terms of the Stockholders Agreement, for a period of two years following the consummation of this offering, the Management Stockholders and the eFG Stockholders may only sell or transfer their shares of capital stock (except for transfers to certain permitted transferees) on a pro rata basis with the Principal Stockholders, based on their respective initial ownership level of our capital stock. The Stockholders Agreement contemplates that the Principal Stockholders will in good faith consider implementing mutually agreeable identical restrictions on transfer to be in effect following the consummation of this offering.

The Stockholders Agreement also provides that we, or if approved by our board, the Principal Stockholders on a pro rata basis, have the right at any time within 90 days after the later of the date any Management

Stockholder ceases to be employed by us for any reason (excluding a leave of absence approved by us) or the date an involuntary transfer of shares held by such Management Stockholder occurs, including through bankruptcy and abandoned property laws, or the date we receive notice of such termination of employment or involuntary transfer, to purchase from such Management Stockholder all of the shares of our common stock or preferred stock then owned by him or her at a purchase price equal to the lesser of the fair market value or the price paid per share, if the Management Stockholder is terminated for cause and the shares were acquired pursuant to the exercise of options, or the fair market value in all other circumstances.

We also have the right under the Stockholders Agreement to purchase all or a portion of our securities proposed to be transferred by any eFG Stockholder to another eFG Stockholder upon the same terms and conditions as set forth in a written notice delivered by the selling party within the earlier of 30 days after the date we receive notice of the transfer or the date the parties to the transfer have been finally determined, unless the transfer is to certain permitted transferees, in which case this right of first refusal does not apply. If we elect not to purchase all of the securities proposed to be transferred, the Principal Stockholders may elect to purchase all (but not less than all) of the securities not purchased by us. If we and the Principal Stockholders have not collectively elected to purchase all the securities proposed to be transferred within the specified time period, then we are not entitled to purchase any of the securities and the selling party may during the 30 day period immediately following the date the parties to the transfer have been finally determined, transfer all of the securities to the other eFG Stockholder.

Registration Rights

Under the Stockholders Agreement, beginning upon the earlier of 180 days after the consummation of this offering or the early termination of the initial 180-day underwriter lock-up period, each of the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders are entitled to certain demand and piggyback registration rights. Each Principal Stockholder may demand up to four registrations (other than demands registrations to be effected pursuant to a registration statement on Form S-3, for which an unlimited number of demands is allowed). We are not required to comply with a demand for registration if the aggregate proceeds expected to be received from the sale of stock requested to be included in the registration is not expected to exceed $15 million. In accordance with the terms of the Stockholders Agreement, we are not required to effect more than one demand registration during any six-month period.

The non-requesting Principal Stockholders, the Management Stockholders and the eFG Stockholders are entitled to piggyback registration rights with respect to any registration request made by a Principal Stockholder. If the registration requested by a Principal Stockholder is in the form of an underwritten offering, and if the managing underwriter of the offering determines that the number of securities proposed to be offered would have an adverse affect on the offering, the number of shares included in the offering will be determined as follows:

- first, shares offered by the Principal Stockholders, the Management Stockholders (but only to the extent such shares were not acquired pursuant to the exercise of options) and the eFG Stockholders (pro rata, based on the number of their respective shares requested to be included in such offering);
- second, shares offered by any other stockholders (pro rata, based on the number of their respective shares requested to be included in such offering); and
- third, shares offered by us for our own account.

Each Principal Stockholder, Management Stockholder and eFG Stockholder is also entitled to piggyback registration rights with respect to any registration initiated by us after the consummation of this offering. If we initiate a registration in the form of an underwritten offering, and if the managing underwriter of the offering determines that the number of securities proposed to be offered would have an adverse affect on the offering, then the number of shares included in the offering shall be determined as follows:

- first, shares offered by us for our own account;

- second, shares requested to be included by the Principal Stockholders, the Management Stockholders and the eFG Stockholders (pro rata, based on the number of their respective shares requested to be included in such offering);

- third, shares offered by any other stockholders (pro rata, based on the number of their respective shares requested to be included in such offering).

Other Provisions

We have agreed that the doctrine of "corporate opportunity" will not apply against our Principal Stockholders in a manner that would prohibit them from investing in competing businesses or doing business with our clients and customers. See "Risk Factors—We are controlled by two groups of principal stockholders whose interest in our business may be different than yours."

We have also agreed to deliver to each stockholder who owns 5% or more of our stock in the aggregate certain monthly, quarterly and annual financial statements and to deliver to each eFG Stockholder certain quarterly and annual financial statements, in each case, as soon as practicable after they are available. We have also agreed to deliver to each stockholder who owns 5% or more of our stock in the aggregate copies of all financial statements, reports, notices and proxy statements sent or made generally available by us to our securityholders and all reports, registration statements or prospectuses filed by us with the Commission, all press releases and other written statements made generally available by us to the public, and such additional information about our financial position or business as such 5% stockholder may reasonably request.

Related Party Transactions Policies and Procedures

In connection with this offering, we will adopt procedures for the review, approval, ratification and disclosure of all related person transactions by our Audit Committee, which we refer to as the "policy." In accordance with the policy, our Audit Committee will have overall responsibility for the implementation and compliance with this policy.

Our policy will require that notice of a proposed related person transaction be provided to our legal department prior to entering into such transaction. If our legal department determines that such transaction is a related person transaction, the proposed transaction will be submitted to our Audit Committee for consideration at its next meeting. Under the policy, our Audit Committee may only approve those related person transactions that are in, or not inconsistent with, our best interests. In the event we become aware of a related person transaction that has not been previously reviewed, approved or ratified under our policy and that is ongoing or is completed, the transaction will be submitted to the Audit Committee so that it may determine whether to ratify, rescind or terminate the related person transaction.

Our policy will also provide that the Audit Committee review certain previously approved or ratified related person transactions that are ongoing to determine whether the related person transaction remains in our best interests and the best interests of our stockholders. Additionally, we will also make periodic inquiries of directors and executive officers with respect to any potential related person transaction of which they may be a party or of which they may be aware.

Description of Capital Stock

Capital Stock

In connection with this offering, we expect to amend our certificate of incorporation so that our authorized capital stock will consist of shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, and shares of preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share. Immediately following the Conversion and the Stock Split, we will have holders of record of our common stock and of the authorized shares of our capital stock shares of common stock will be issued and outstanding and no shares of preferred stock will be outstanding. After the consummation of this offering, we expect to have shares of common stock and no shares of preferred stock issued and outstanding.

As of March 15, 2007, there were 54 holders of record of our Series A convertible preferred stock and 9 holders of record of our common stock.

Common Stock

The holders of our common stock are entitled to one vote per share on all matters submitted to a vote of stockholders, including the election of directors. Holders of the common stock do not have any preemptive rights or cumulative voting rights, which means that the holders of a majority of the outstanding common stock voting for the election of directors can elect all directors then being elected. The holders of our common stock are entitled to receive dividends when, as, and if declared by our board out of legally available funds. Upon our liquidation or dissolution, the holders of common stock will be entitled to share ratably in those of our assets that are legally available for distribution to stockholders after payment of liabilities and subject to the prior rights of any holders of preferred stock then outstanding. All of the outstanding shares of common stock are, and the shares of common stock to be sold in this offering when issued and paid for will be, fully paid and nonassessable. The rights, preferences and privileges of holders of common stock are subject to the rights of the holders of shares of any series of preferred stock that may be issued in the future.

Preferred Stock

After the consummation of this offering, we will be authorized to issue up to shares of preferred stock. Our board of directors will be authorized, subject to limitations prescribed by Delaware law and our certificate of incorporation, to determine the terms and conditions of the preferred stock, including whether the shares of preferred stock will be issued in one or more series, the number of shares to be included in each series and the powers, designations, preferences and rights of the shares. Our board of directors will also be authorized to designate any qualifications, limitations or restrictions on the shares without any further vote or action by the stockholders. The issuance of preferred stock may have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change in control of our company and may adversely affect the voting and other rights of the holders of our common stock, which could have an adverse impact on the market price of our common stock. We have no current plan to issue any shares of preferred stock following the consummation of this offering.

Directors' Liability; Indemnification of Directors and Officers

Our certificate of incorporation will provide that a director will not be personally liable to us or our stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except:

- for any breach of the duty of loyalty;
- for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violations of law;
- for liability under Section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law (relating to unlawful dividends, stock repurchases or stock redemptions); or
- for any transaction from which the director derived any improper personal benefit.

This provision does not limit or eliminate our rights or those of any stockholder to seek non-monetary relief such as an injunction or rescission in the event of a breach of a director's duty of care. The provisions will not alter the liability of directors under federal securities laws. In addition, our certificate of incorporation and by-laws will provide that we indemnify each director and the officers, employees, and agents determined by our board of directors to the fullest extent provided by the laws of the State of Delaware.

Corporate Opportunity

Our certificate of incorporation also provides that the doctrine of "corporate opportunity" will not apply against our Principal Stockholders in a manner that would prohibit them from investing in competing businesses or doing business with our clients or customers. See "Risk Factors—We are controlled by two groups of principal stockholders whose interest in our business may be different than yours."

Certain Certificate of Incorporation, By-Law and Statutory Provisions

The provisions of our certificate of incorporation and by-laws and of the Delaware General Corporation Law summarized below may have an anti-takeover effect and may delay, defer or prevent a tender offer or takeover attempt that you might consider in your best interest, including an attempt that might result in your receipt of a premium over the market price for your shares.

Special Meetings of Stockholders

Our certificate of incorporation will provide that special meetings of stockholders may be called only by the chairman or by a majority of the members of our board. Stockholders are not permitted to call a special meeting of stockholders, to require that the chairman call such a special meeting, or to require that our board request the calling of a special meeting of stockholders.

Stockholder Action; Advance Notice Requirements for Stockholder Proposals and Director Nominations

Our certificate of incorporation will provide that stockholders may not take action by written consent, but may only take action at duly called annual or special meetings, unless the action to be effected by written consent and the taking of such action by written consent have expressly been approved in advance by the board. In addition, our by-laws will establish advance notice procedures for:

- stockholders to nominate candidates for election as a director; and
- stockholders to propose topics for consideration at stockholders' meetings.

Stockholders must notify our corporate secretary in writing prior to the meeting at which the matters are to be acted upon or directors are to be elected. The notice must contain the information specified in our by-laws. To be timely, the notice must be received at our corporate headquarters not less than 90 days nor more than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the date of the prior year's annual meeting of stockholders. If the annual meeting is advanced by more than 30 days, or delayed by more than 70 days, from the anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, or if no annual meeting was held in the preceding year or for the first annual meeting following this offering, notice by the stockholder, to be timely, must be received not earlier than the 120th day prior to the annual meeting and not later than the later of the 90th day prior to the annual meeting or the 10th day following the day on which we notify stockholders of the date of the annual meeting, either by mail or other public disclosure. In the case of a special meeting of stockholders called to elect directors, the stockholder notice must be received not earlier than 120 days prior to the special meeting and not later than the later of the 90th day prior to the special meeting or 10th day following the day on which we notify stockholders of the date of the special meeting, either by mail or other public disclosure. Notwithstanding the above, in the event that the number of directors to be elected to the board at an annual meeting is increased and we do not make any public announcement naming the nominees for the additional directorships at least 100 days before the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, a stockholder notice of nomination shall also be considered timely, but only with respect to nominees for the additional directorships, if it is delivered not later than the close of business on the 10th day following the day on which such public announcement is first made. These provisions may preclude some stockholders from bringing matters before the stockholders at an annual or special meeting or from nominating candidates for director at an annual or special meeting.

Election and Removal of Directors

In connection with this offering, our board will be divided into three classes. The directors in each class will serve for a three-year term, one class being elected each year by our stockholders. Our stockholders may only remove directors for cause and with the vote of at least 66 2/3% of the total voting power of our issued and outstanding capital stock entitled to vote in the election of directors. Our board of directors may elect a director to fill a vacancy, including vacancies created by the expansion of the board of directors. This system of electing and removing directors may discourage a third party from making a tender offer or otherwise attempting to obtain control of us, because it generally makes it more difficult for stockholders to replace a majority of our directors.

Our certificate of incorporation and by-laws will not provide for cumulative voting in the election of directors.

Amendment of the Certificate of Incorporation and By-Laws

Our certificate of incorporation will provide that the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 66 2/3% of the voting power of our issued and outstanding capital stock entitled to vote in the election of directors is required to amend the following provisions of our certificate of incorporation:

- the provisions relating to our classified board of directors;
- the provisions relating to the number and election of directors, the appointment of directors upon an increase in the number of directors or vacancy, and the provisions relating to the removal of directors;
- the provisions requiring a 66 2/3% stockholder vote for the amendment of certain provisions of our certificate of incorporation and for the adoption, amendment or repeal of our by-laws; and
- the provisions relating to the restrictions on stockholder actions by written consent.

In addition, the board of directors will be permitted to alter our by-laws without obtaining stockholder approval.

Anti-Takeover Provisions of Delaware Law

We will be subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. In general, Section 203 prevents an interested stockholder (defined generally as a person owning 15% or more of the corporation's outstanding voting stock) of a Delaware corporation from engaging in a business combination (as defined) for three years following the date that person became an interested stockholder unless various conditions are satisfied.

Transfer Agent and Registrar

The transfer agent and registrar for our common stock will be .

New York Stock Exchange Listing

We intend to apply to list our common stock on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol " ."

Shares Available for Future Sale

Prior to this offering, there has been no public market for our common stock. We cannot make any prediction as to the effect, if any, that sales of common stock or the availability of common stock for sale will have on the market price of our common stock. The market price of our common stock could decline because of the sale of a large number of shares of our common stock or the perception that such sales could occur. These factors could also make it more difficult to raise funds through future offerings of common stock. See "Risk Factors—Risks Related to this Offering and Our Common Stock—Substantial future sales of shares of our common stock in the public market could cause our stock price to fall."

Sale of Restricted Shares

Upon consummation of this offering, we will have shares of common stock outstanding, excluding shares of common stock underlying outstanding options, assuming the underwriters do not exercise their option to purchase additional shares. Of these shares, the shares sold in this offering (or shares if the underwriters exercise their option in full) will be freely tradable without restriction or further restriction under the Securities Act, except that any shares purchased by our affiliates, as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act, may generally only be sold in compliance with the limitations of Rule 144 described below. As defined in Rule 144, an affiliate of an issuer is a person that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by or is under common control with the issuer. After this offering, approximately of our outstanding shares of common stock will be deemed "restricted securities," as that term is defined under Rule 144. Restricted securities may be sold in the public market only if they qualify for an exemption from registration under Rule 144, 144(k) or 701 under the Securities Act, and which rules are summarized below, or any other applicable exemption under the Securities Act. Immediately following the consummation of this offering, the holders of approximately shares of common stock will be entitled to dispose of their shares pursuant to the holding period, volume and other restrictions of Rule 144 under the Securities Act, subject to the 180-day lock-up under our Stockholders Agreement, and the holders of approximately shares of common stock, representing approximately % of our outstanding common stock, will be entitled to dispose of their shares following the expiration of an initial 180-day underwriter "lock-up" period pursuant to the holding period, volume and other restrictions of Rule 144. The underwriters are entitled to waive these lock-up provisions at their discretion prior to the expiration dates of such lock-up agreements.

Rule 144

In general, under Rule 144 under the Securities Act, a person (or persons whose shares are aggregated) who has beneficially owned restricted securities within the meaning of Rule 144 for at least one year, and including the holding period of any prior owner except an affiliate, would be entitled to sell within any three-month period a number of shares that does not exceed the greater of one percent of the then outstanding shares of our common stock or the average weekly trading volume of our common stock reported through the New York Stock Exchange during the four calendar weeks preceding such sale. Sales under Rule 144 are also subject to certain manner of sale provisions, notice requirements and the availability of current public information about our company.

Rule 144(k)

Under Rule 144(k) under the Securities Act, any person (or persons whose shares are aggregated) who is not deemed to have been our affiliate at any time during the three months preceding a sale, and who has beneficially owned shares for at least two years (including any period of ownership of preceding non-affiliated holders), would be entitled to sell these shares without regard to the volume limitations, manner of sale provisions, public information requirements or notice requirements of Rule 144.

Rule 701

Securities issued in reliance on Rule 701 under the Securities Act are also restricted and may be sold by stockholders other than affiliates of ours subject only to the manner of sale provisions of Rule 144 and by affiliates under Rule 144 without compliance with its one-year holding period requirement.

Options/Equity Awards

We intend to file a registration statement under the Securities Act to register shares of common stock reserved for issuance under our 2005 Stock Plan and our 2007 Equity Plan. After giving effect to the Stock Split, as of , 2007, there were options outstanding under our equity incentive plans to purchase a total of shares of our common stock, of which options to purchase shares were exercisable immediately. We also expect to grant equity awards and options to purchase shares of our common stock under our 2007 Equity Plan in connection with this offering. Shares issued upon the exercise of stock options after the effective date of the registration statement will be eligible for resale in the public market without restriction, subject to Rule 144 limitations applicable to affiliates and the lock-up agreements described below.

Lock-up Agreements

Other than in this offering, the General Atlantic Stockholders, the Quadrangle Stockholders, our officers and directors and certain of our other stockholders (including all of the selling stockholders) have agreed that, for a period of 180 days from the date of this prospectus, subject to certain extensions, they will not, without the prior written consent of Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated, dispose of or hedge any shares of our common stock or any securities convertible into or exchangeable for our common stock. However, certain transfers are permitted (1) pursuant to a will, other testamentary document or applicable laws of descent, (2) as a bona fide gift or (3) to a family member or trust, provided that, in each case, the transferee agrees to be bound in writing by the terms of the agreement prior to such transfer and no filing shall be required or shall be voluntarily made in connection with such transfer (other than a filing on Form 5 made when required) and such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value (except in the case of transferees that are charitable organizations or trusts that receive securities from the General Atlantic Stockholders or any of their affiliates (the "General Atlantic entities") or the Quadrangle Stockholders or any of their affiliates (the "Quadrangle entities"), the lock-up agreements applicable to such entities will permit the General Atlantic entities and the Quadrangle entities each to collectively sell up to an aggregate number of shares through Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and/or Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated equal to .08% of the shares outstanding immediately prior to the public offering). In addition, certain of the General Atlantic Stockholders and certain of the Quadrangle Stockholders will be permitted to make filings on Form 4 during the lock-up period in connection with transfers to specified partners, members or related persons, provided that they give written notice to the representatives at least three business days prior to such proposed transfers. Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated, in their sole discretion, may release any of the securities subject to these lock-up agreements at any time without notice.

Immediately following the consummation of this offering, stockholders subject to lock-up agreements will hold shares of our common stock, representing approximately % of our then outstanding shares of common stock, or approximately % if the underwriters exercise their option to purchase additional shares in full.

We have agreed not to issue, sell or otherwise dispose of any shares of our common stock during the 180-day period following the date of this prospectus (subject to certain extensions). We may, however, grant options to purchase shares of common stock and issue shares of common stock upon the exercise of outstanding options under our existing equity incentive plans and in certain other circumstances.

Certain U.s. Federal Tax Consequences

The following is a general summary of certain material anticipated U.S. federal income tax and estate tax consequences to a U.S. Holder and a Non-U.S. Holder, each as defined below, of the acquisition, ownership, and disposition of shares of our common stock purchased pursuant to this offering. This discussion is based on the Code, Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code, administrative pronouncements or practices, and judicial decisions, all as of the date hereof. Future legislative, judicial, or administrative modifications, revocations, or interpretations, which may or may not be retroactive, may result in U.S. federal tax consequences significantly different from those discussed herein. This discussion is not binding on the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS"). No ruling has been or will be sought or obtained from the IRS with respect to any of the U.S. federal tax consequences discussed herein. There can be no assurance that the IRS will not challenge any of the conclusions discussed herein or that a U.S. court will not sustain such a challenge.

The following discussion does not purport to be a full description of all U.S. federal income tax considerations that may be relevant to any Holder, as defined below, in light of such Holder's particular circumstances and only addresses Holders who hold common stock as capital assets within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code. This discussion does not address any U.S. federal alternative minimum tax; U.S. federal estate, gift, or other non-income tax; or any state, local, or non-U.S. tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership, or disposition of our common stock. In addition, this discussion does not address the U.S. federal income tax consequences to beneficial owners of our common stock subject to special rules, including, among others, beneficial owners that (i) are banks, financial institutions, or insurance companies, (ii) are regulated investment companies or real estate investment trusts, (iii) are brokers, dealers, or traders in securities or currencies, (iv) are tax-exempt organizations, (v) are partnerships (including any entity treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) or other pass-through entities, (vi) are "controlled foreign corporations," (vii) are "passive foreign investment companies," (viii) are persons subject to the alternative minimum tax, (ix) are U.S. expatriates, (x) purchase or hold our common stock as part of hedges, straddles, constructive sales, conversion transactions, or other integrated investments, (xi) acquire our common stock as compensation for services or through the exercise or cancellation of employee stock options or warrants, (xii) have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar, (xiii) already own our common stock, or (xiv) own directly, indirectly, or constructively 10% or more of the voting power in our company.

As used herein, a "Holder" means a beneficial owner of our common stock, unless such beneficial owner is a partnership or other entity taxable as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes (a "Partnership") or an owner or partner in a Partnership. If a beneficial owner is a Partnership or an owner or partner in a Partnership, the U.S. federal income tax consequences generally will depend on the activities of such Partnership and the status of such owner or partner. A beneficial owner that is a Partnership or an owner or partner in a Partnership should consult its own tax advisor regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the acquisition, ownership, and disposition of our common stock.

A "U.S. Holder" means a Holder that is (i) an individual citizen or resident of the U.S. for U.S. federal income tax purposes, (ii) a corporation or other entity taxable as a corporation for U.S. federal tax purposes organized in the U.S. or any political subdivision thereof, including any State and the District of Columbia, (iii) an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income tax regardless of its source, or (iv) a trust that (a) is subject to the primary jurisdiction of a court within the U.S. and for which one or more U.S. persons have authority to control all substantial decisions or (b) has a valid election in effect under applicable U.S. Treasury regulations to be treated as a U.S. person. As used herein, a "Non-U.S. Holder" means a Holder that is not a U.S. Holder.

This discussion assumes that our common stock has been a "capital asset," within the meaning of the Code, in the hands of a Holder at all relevant times.

Table of Contents

THE SUMMARY OF U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES SET FORTH BELOW IS FOR GENERAL INFORMATION ONLY. A HOLDER SHOULD CONSULT ITS OWN TAX ADVISOR REGARDING THE APPLICATION OF U.S. FEDERAL TAX LAWS TO ITS PARTICULAR CIRCUMSTANCES AND ANY TAX CONSEQUENCES ARISING UNDER THE LAWS OF ANY STATE, LOCAL, NON-U.S., OR OTHER TAXING JURISDICTION OR UNDER ANY APPLICABLE TAX TREATY.

For U.S. Holders

Distributions on Common Stock

As discussed under "Dividend Policy," we do not anticipate making a distribution on common stock in the foreseeable future. If we make a distribution on a U.S. Holder's common stock, however, the U.S. Holder must include as ordinary income the gross amount of such distribution to the extent that such distribution does not exceed our current and accumulated earnings and profits as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles (a "dividend"). The amount of any distribution of property other than U.S. dollars generally will be such property's fair market value on the date of distribution. A distribution or any portion thereof in excess of our current and accumulated earnings and profits will be treated, first, as a tax-free return of capital, which will reduce the U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in our common stock, thereby increasing the amount of gain or decreasing the amount of loss that such U.S. Holder will recognize on a subsequent taxable disposition of our common stock, and, second, as capital gain, which will be long-term capital gain if such U.S. Holder's holding period in our common stock on the date of such distribution exceeds one year. Long-term capital gain and, if certain holding period and other requirements are met, dividend income recognized by a non-corporate U.S. Holder before January 1, 2011 generally will be subject to a maximum rate of U.S. federal income tax of 15%. Dividends received by a corporate U.S. Holder will be eligible for the dividends-received deduction.

Sale or Other Taxable Disposition of Common Stock

A U.S. Holder generally will recognize capital gain or loss on the sale, exchange, or other taxable disposition of our common stock in an amount equal to the difference between (a) the amount of U.S. dollars and the fair market value of any other property received and (b) the U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in our common stock. Capital gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if the U.S. Holder's holding period in our common stock exceeds one year on the date of such sale, exchange, or other taxable disposition. Long-term capital gain recognized by a non-corporate U.S. Holder before January 1, 2011 generally will be subject to a maximum rate of U.S. federal income tax of 15%. The deductibility of capital loss is subject to limitations.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding

Under some circumstances, a U.S. Holder may be subject to U.S. information reporting and backup withholding tax on distributions paid on, or proceeds from a disposition of, our common stock. Information reporting and backup withholding will not apply, however, to a U.S. Holder that is a corporation or is otherwise exempt from information reporting and backup withholding and, when required, demonstrates this fact. Backup withholding also will not apply to a U.S. Holder that furnishes a correct taxpayer identification number and certifies on a Form W-9 or successor form, under penalty of perjury, that it is not subject to backup withholding, and otherwise complies with applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. A U.S. Holder that fails to provide the correct taxpayer identification number on Form W-9 or successor form may be subject to penalties imposed by the IRS. Backup withholding, currently at a rate of 28%, is not an additional tax, and any amount withheld under these rules will be allowed as a refund or credit against a U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability if the required information is furnished to the IRS.

For Non-U.S. Holders

Distributions on Common Stock

As discussed under "Dividend Policy," we do not anticipate making a distribution on common stock in the foreseeable future. If we make a distribution on a Non-U.S. Holder's common stock, however, then to the extent that such distribution does not exceed our current and accumulated earnings and profits as determined under U.S. federal income tax principles (a "dividend"), the dividend generally will be subject to withholding of U.S. federal income tax at a rate of 30% of the gross amount, or any lower rate that may be specified by an applicable tax treaty if we have received proper certification of the application of that tax treaty. A Non-U.S. Holder should consult its own tax advisor regarding its entitlement to benefits under an applicable tax treaty and the manner of claiming the benefits of such treaty. A Non-U.S. Holder that is eligible for a reduced rate of U.S. federal withholding tax under a tax treaty may obtain a refund or credit of any excess amounts withheld by filing an appropriate claim for a refund with the IRS.

Dividends that are effectively connected with a Non-U.S. Holder's conduct of a trade or business in the U.S. (and, if certain tax treaties apply, are attributable to a U.S. permanent establishment maintained by such Non-U.S. Holder) are not subject to U.S. withholding tax, but instead are taxed in the manner applicable to U.S. persons. In that case, we will not withhold U.S. federal withholding tax, provided that the Non-U.S. Holder complies with applicable certification and disclosure requirements. In addition, dividends received by a foreign corporation that are effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the U.S. may be subject to a branch profits tax at a rate of 30%, or any lower rate as may be specified in an applicable tax treaty.

Sale or Other Taxable Disposition of Common Stock

A Non-U.S. Holder generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax, including by way of withholding, on gain recognized on a sale, exchange, or other taxable disposition of our common stock unless any one of the following is true:

- the gain is effectively connected with the Non-U.S. Holder's conduct of a trade or business in the U.S. or, if an applicable tax treaty applies, is attributable to a U.S. permanent establishment (or, in the case of an individual, a fixed base) maintained by such Non-U.S. Holder in the U.S., in which case the branch profits tax discussed above may also apply to a corporate Non-U.S. Holder;

- the Non-U.S. Holder is an individual present in the U.S. for 183 or more days in the taxable year of the disposition and certain other requirements are met; or

- the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act, or "FIRPTA," rules apply because (1) our common stock constitutes a U.S. real property interest by reason of our status as a "United States real property holding corporation" ("USRPHC") for U.S. federal income tax purposes at any time during the shorter of the period during which the Non-U.S. Holder holds our common stock or the five-year period ending on the date on which the Non-U.S. Holder disposes of our common stock; and (2) assuming that our common stock constitutes a U.S. real property interest and is treated as regularly traded on an established securities market within the meaning of applicable Treasury regulations, the Non-U.S. Holder held, directly or indirectly, at any time within the five-year period preceding the disposition, more than 5% of our common stock.

We believe that we are not and will not become a USRPHC. There can be no assurance regarding our USRPHC status for the current year or future years, however, because USRPHC status is based on the composition of our assets from time to time and on certain rules whose application is uncertain. We may become a USRPHC in the future.

An individual Non-U.S. Holder who is subject to U.S. tax because he or she was present in the U.S. for 183 or more days during the year of disposition will be taxed on his or her gains, including gains from the disposition of our common stock and net of applicable U.S. losses from dispositions of other capital assets incurred during the year, at a flat rate of 30%. Other Non-U.S. Holders that may be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the disposition of our common stock will be taxed on such disposition in the manner applicable to U.S. persons as discussed above.

U.S. Federal Estate Tax

Shares of common stock owned or treated as owned by an individual who is not a U.S. citizen or resident for U.S. federal estate tax purposes will be included in that Non-U.S. Holder's estate for U.S. federal estate tax purposes, and may be subject to U.S. federal estate tax unless an applicable tax treaty provides otherwise.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Under U.S. Treasury regulations, we must report annually to the IRS and to each Non-U.S. Holder the amount of dividends paid to it and any tax withheld with respect to those dividends. These information reporting requirements apply even if withholding was not required because the dividends were effectively connected dividends or withholding was reduced or eliminated by an applicable tax treaty. Under an applicable tax treaty, that information may also be made available to the taxing authorities in a country in which the Non-U.S. Holder resides or is established.

Backup withholding (currently at a rate of 28%) will generally not apply to payments of dividends made by us or our paying agents, in their capacities as such, to a Non-U.S. Holder if the Holder has provided the certification described above that it is not a U.S. person (generally satisfied by providing the applicable IRS Form W-8) or has otherwise established an exemption, provided we or the paying agent have no actual knowledge or reason to know that the beneficial owner is a U.S. person.

The payment of the proceeds of a disposition of our common stock by a Non-U.S. Holder to or through the U.S. office of a broker generally will be reported to the IRS and reduced by backup withholding unless the Non-U.S. Holder either certifies its status as a Non-U.S. Holder in accordance with applicable U.S. Treasury regulations or otherwise establishes an exemption and the broker has no actual knowledge, or reason to know, to the contrary. The payment of the proceeds of a disposition of our common stock by a Non-U.S. Holder to or through a non-U.S. office of a broker generally will not be reduced by backup withholding or reported to the IRS. If, however, the broker is a U.S. person or has specified connections with the U.S., unless certain conditions are met, the proceeds from that disposition generally will be reported to the IRS but not reduced by backup withholding.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules will be refunded or credited against the Non-U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, provided that certain required information is furnished to the IRS. Non-U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the information reporting and backup withholding rules to them and the availability and procedure for obtaining an exemption from backup withholding under current U.S. Treasury regulations.

The above discussion is included for general information only. Each prospective Holder is urged to consult its tax advisor with respect to the U.S. federal income tax and federal estate tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of our common stock, as well as the application and effect of the laws of any state, local, foreign or other taxing jurisdiction.

Underwriting

Under the terms and subject to the conditions contained in an underwriting agreement dated , 2007, we and the selling stockholders have agreed to sell to the underwriters named below, for whom Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated are acting as joint-book running managers and representatives, the following respective numbers of shares of common stock:

Underwriter	Number of Shares
Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC
Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated
J.P. Morgan Securities Inc.
Lehman Brothers Inc.
Jefferies & Company, Inc.

Total

The underwriting agreement provides that the underwriters are obligated to purchase all the shares of common stock in the offering if any are purchased, other than those shares covered by the over-allotment option described below. The underwriting agreement also provides that if an underwriter defaults, the purchase commitments of non-defaulting underwriters may be increased or the offering may be terminated.

The selling stockholders have granted to the underwriters a 30-day option to purchase on a pro rata basis up to additional shares at the initial public offering price less the underwriting discounts and commissions. The option may be exercised only to cover any over-allotments of common stock.

The underwriters propose to offer the shares of common stock initially at the public offering price on the cover page of this prospectus and to selling group members at that price less a selling concession of $ per share. The underwriters and selling group members may allow a discount of $ per share on sales to other broker/dealers. After the initial public offering, the underwriters may change the public offering price and concession and discount to broker/dealers.

The following table summarizes the compensation and estimated expenses we and the selling stockholders will pay:

	Per Share		Total
	Without Over-allotment	With Over-allotment	Without Over-allotment	With Over-allotment
Underwriting Discounts and Commissions paid by us		$$		$$
Expenses payable by us		$$		$$
Underwriting Discounts and Commissions paid by selling stockholders		$$		$$
Expenses payable by the selling stockholders		$$		$$

The representatives have informed us that they do not expect sales to accounts over which the underwriters have discretionary authority to exceed 5% of the shares of common stock being offered. The underwriters will not confirm sales to any accounts over which they exercise discretionary authority without first receiving a written consent from those accounts.

We have agreed that we will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, or file with the Commission a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act") relating to, any shares of our common stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for any shares of our common stock, or publicly disclose the intention to make any offer, sale, pledge, disposition or filing, without the prior written consent of each of the representatives for a period of 180 days after the date of this prospectus, except issuances pursuant to the exercise of employee stock options outstanding on the date hereof, issuances of options under outstanding stock incentive plans and other exceptions. However, in the event that either (1) during the last 17 days of the "lock-up" period, we release earnings results or material news or a material event relating to us occurs or (2) prior to the expiration of the "lock-up" period, we announce that we will release earnings results during the 16-day period beginning on the last day of the "lock-up" period, then in either case the expiration of the "lock-up" will be extended until the expiration of the 18-day period beginning on the date of the release of the earnings results or the occurrence of the material news or event, as applicable, unless each of the representatives waive, in writing, such an extension.

Other than in the offering, our officers and directors and the selling stockholders and certain of our other stockholders have agreed that they will not offer, sell, contract to sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of, directly or indirectly, any shares of our common stock or securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for any shares of our common stock, enter into a transaction that would have the same effect, or enter into any swap, hedge or other arrangement that transfers, in whole or in part, any of the economic consequences of ownership of our common stock, whether any of these transactions are to be settled by delivery of our common stock or other securities, in cash or otherwise, or publicly disclose the intention to make any offer, sale, pledge or disposition, or to enter into any transaction, swap, hedge or other arrangement, without, in each case, the prior written consent of each of the representatives for a period of 180 days after the date of this prospectus. However, certain transfers are permitted (1) pursuant to a will, other testamentary document or applicable laws of descent, (2) as a bona fide gift or (3) to a family member or trust, provided that, in each case, the transferee agrees to be bound in writing by the terms of the agreement prior to such transfer and no filing shall be required or shall be voluntarily made in connection with such transfer (other than a filing on Form 5 made when required) and such transfer shall not involve a disposition for value (except in the case of transferees that are charitable organizations or trusts that receive securities from the General Atlantic entities or the Quadrangle entities, the lock-up agreements applicable to such entities will permit the General Atlantic entities and the Quadrangle entities each to collectively sell up to an aggregate number of shares through Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and/or Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated) equal to .08% of the shares outstanding immediately prior to the public offering. In addition, certain of the General Atlantic Stockholders and certain of the Quadrangle Stockholders will be permitted to make filings on Form 4 during the lock-up period in connection with transfers to specified partners, members or related persons, provided that they give written notice to the representatives at least three business days prior to such proposed transfers. However, in the event that either (1) during the last 17 days of the "lock-up" period, we release earnings results or material news or a material event relating to us occurs or (2) prior to the expiration of the "lock-up" period, we announce that we will release earnings results during the 16-day period beginning on the last day of the "lock-up" period, then in either case the expiration of the "lock-up" will be extended until the expiration of the 18-day period beginning on the date of the release of the earnings results or the occurrence of the material news or event, as applicable, unless each of the representatives waive, in writing, such an extension.

The underwriters have reserved up to 5% of the shares of common stock offered in this offering for sale at the initial public offering price to certain persons who are our directors, officers and employees, and certain friends and family members of these persons through a directed share program. The number of shares available for sale to the general public in the offering will be reduced by the number of directed shares purchased by participants in the program. Any directed shares not so purchased will be offered by the underwriters to the general public on the same terms as all other shares of common stock offered in this offering.

We and the selling stockholders have agreed to indemnify the underwriters against liabilities under the Securities Act, or contribute to payments that the underwriters may be required to make in that respect.

We intend to apply to list the shares of common stock on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol " ."

In connection with the listing of our common stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the underwriters will undertake to sell round lots of 100 shares or more to a minimum of 400 beneficial owners.

Prior to the offering, there has been no public market for our shares of common stock. The initial public offering price will be negotiated among us, the selling stockholders and the representatives. Among the factors to be considered in determining the initial public offering price, in addition to prevailing market conditions, will be our historical performance, estimates of our business potential and earnings prospects, an assessment of our management and the consideration of the above factors in relation to market valuation of companies in related businesses.

In connection with the offering, the underwriters may engage in stabilizing transactions, over-allotment transactions, syndicate covering transactions and penalty bids in accordance with Regulation M under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act").

- Stabilizing transactions permit bids to purchase the underlying security so long as the stabilizing bids do not exceed a specified maximum.
- Over-allotment involves sales by the underwriters of shares in excess of the number of shares the underwriters are obligated to purchase, which creates a syndicate short position. The short position may be either a covered short position or a naked short position. In a covered short position, the number of shares over-allotted by the underwriters is not greater than the number of shares that they may purchase in the over-allotment option. In a naked short position, the number of shares involved is greater than the number of shares in the over-allotment option. The underwriters may close out any covered short position by either exercising their over-allotment option and/or purchasing shares in the open market.
- Syndicate covering transactions involve purchases of the common stock in the open market after the distribution has been completed in order to cover syndicate short positions. In determining the source of shares to close out the short position, the underwriters will consider, among other things, the price of shares available for purchase in the open market as compared to the price at which they may purchase shares through the over-allotment option. If the underwriters sell more shares than could be covered by the over-allotment option, a naked short position, the position can only be closed out by buying shares in the open market. A naked short position is more likely to be created if the underwriters are concerned that there could be downward pressure on the price of the shares in the open market after pricing that could adversely affect investors who purchase in the offering.
- Penalty bids permit the representatives to reclaim a selling concession from a syndicate member when the common stock originally sold by the syndicate member is purchased in a stabilizing or syndicate covering transaction to cover syndicate short positions.

These stabilizing transactions, syndicate covering transactions and penalty bids may have the effect of raising or maintaining the market price of our common stock or preventing or retarding a decline in the market price of the common stock. As a result the price of our common stock may be higher than the price that might otherwise exist in the open market. These transactions may be effected on the New York Stock Exchange or otherwise and, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

A prospectus in electronic format may be made available on the websites maintained by one or more of the underwriters, or selling group members, if any, participating in this offering and one or more of the underwriters participating in this offering may distribute prospectuses electronically. The representatives may agree to allocate a number of shares to underwriters and selling group members for sale to their brokerage account holders. Internet distributions will be allocated by the underwriters and selling group members that will make Internet distributions on the same basis as other allocations.

Certain of the underwriters and their respective affiliates have, from time to time, performed, and may in the future perform, various investment banking services for us for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses.

Notice to Canadian Residents

Resale Restrictions

The distribution of the common stock in Canada is being made only on a private placement basis exempt from the requirement that we and the selling stockholders prepare and file a prospectus with the securities regulatory authorities in each province where trades of common stock are made. Any resale of the common stock in Canada must be made under applicable securities laws which will vary depending on the relevant jurisdiction, and which may require resales to be made under available statutory exemptions or under a discretionary exemption granted by the applicable Canadian securities regulatory authority. Purchasers are advised to seek legal advice prior to any resale of the common stock.

Representations of Purchasers

By purchasing common stock in Canada and accepting a purchase confirmation a purchaser is representing to us, the selling stockholders and the dealer from whom the purchase confirmation is received that:

- the purchaser is entitled under applicable provincial securities laws to purchase the common stock without the benefit of a prospectus qualified under those securities laws,
- where required by law, that the purchaser is purchasing as principal and not as agent,
- the purchaser has reviewed the text above under "Resale Restrictions", and
- the purchaser acknowledges and consents to the provision of specified information concerning its purchase of the common stock to the regulatory authority that by law is entitled to collect the information.

Further details concerning the legal authority for this information is available on request.

Rights of Action – Ontario Purchasers Only

Under Ontario securities legislation, certain purchasers who purchase a security offered by this prospectus during the period of distribution will have a statutory right of action for damages, or while still the owner of the common stock, for rescission against us and the selling stockholders in the event that this prospectus contains a misrepresentation without regard to whether the purchaser relied on the misrepresentation. The right of action for damages is exercisable not later than the earlier of 180 days from the date the purchaser first had knowledge of the facts giving rise to the cause of action and three years from the date on which payment is made for the common stock. The right of action for rescission is exercisable not later than 180 days from the date on which payment is made for the common stock. If a purchaser elects to exercise the right of action for rescission, the purchaser will have no right of action for damages against us or the selling stockholders. In no case will the amount recoverable in any action exceed the price at which the common stock was offered to the purchaser and if the purchaser is shown to have purchased the securities with knowledge of the misrepresentation, we and the selling stockholders will have no liability. In the case of an action for damages, we and the selling stockholders will not be liable for all or any portion of the damages that are proven to not represent the depreciation in value of the common stock as a result of the misrepresentation relied upon. These rights are in addition to, and without derogation from, any other rights or remedies available at law to an Ontario purchaser. The foregoing is a summary of the rights available to an Ontario purchaser. Ontario purchasers should refer to the complete text of the relevant statutory provisions.

Enforcement of Legal Rights

All of our directors and officers as well as the experts named herein and the selling stockholders may be located outside of Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible for Canadian purchasers to effect service of process within Canada upon us or those persons. All or a substantial portion of our assets and the assets of those persons may be located outside of Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible to satisfy a judgment against us or those persons in Canada or to enforce a judgment obtained in Canadian courts against us or those persons outside of Canada.

Taxation and Eligibility for Investment

Canadian purchasers of common stock should consult their own legal and tax advisors with respect to the tax consequences of an investment in the common stock in their particular circumstances and about the eligibility of the common stock for investment by the purchaser under relevant Canadian legislation.

Legal Matters

Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP, New York, New York, will pass on the validity of the common stock offered by this prospectus for us. Davis Polk & Wardwell will pass upon the validity of the common stock for the underwriters. Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP has represented the General Atlantic Stockholders and their related parties from time to time. Davis Polk & Wardwell has represented the Quadrangle Stockholders and their related parties from time to time.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Dice Holdings, Inc.

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Dice Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2006 and the period from June 28, 2005 (inception) through December 31, 2005. Our audits also included the financial statement schedules listed in the Index at Item 16(b). These financial statements and financial statement schedules are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial statement schedules based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Dice Holdings, Inc. and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2005 and 2006, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2006 and for the period from June 28, 2005 (inception) through December 31, 2005, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also, in our opinion, such financial statement schedules, when considered in relation to the basic consolidated financial statements taken as a whole, present fairly in all material respects the information set forth therein.

DICE HOLDINGS, INC.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

For the Period from June 28, 2005 (Inception) Through December 31, 2005

And for the Year Ended December 31, 2006

1. Organization and Principal Activities

Dice Holdings, Inc. ("DHI" or the "Company"), a Delaware corporation, was incorporated on June 28, 2005 to acquire the stock of Dice Inc. ("Dice") and its subsidiaries, Dice Career Solutions, Inc. ("DCSI"), MeasureUp, Inc. ("MeasureUp"), EW Knowledge Products, Inc. ("EWKP") and Dice India Holdings, Inc. ("Dice India"). On October 31, 2006, the Company acquired eFinancialGroup Limited ("eFG") including its two subsidiaries, eFinancialCareers Limited ("eFC") and JobsintheMoney.com, Inc ("JitM"). See Note 4.

The Company provides online recruiting and career development services. DHI provides services to hire, train and retain technology, engineering, finance, accounting, capital markets, financial services and security-cleared professionals through its principal operating subsidiaries. DCSI operates career management services businesses for technology, engineering and security-cleared professionals. MeasureUp provides certification test preparation and assessment products for technology professionals. DHI, through its subsidiaries eFC and JitM, operates career management services for finance, accounting and capital markets and financial services professionals. See Note 4.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Principles of Consolidation—The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of DHI and its majority owned subsidiaries, Dice, DCSI, MeasureUp, EWKP, and its variable interest entity, Dice India, and, for the period subsequent to October 31, 2006, eFG, eFC, and JitM. All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Revenue Recognition—The Company recognizes revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, delivery has occurred, the sales price is fixed or determinable and collectibility is reasonably assured. Payments received in advance of services being rendered are recorded as deferred revenue and recognized on a straight-line basis over the service period. The Company generates revenue from the following sources:

Recruitment packages. Recruitment package revenues are derived from the sale to recruiters and employers a combination of job listings and access to a searchable database of candidates on the dice.com, clearancejobs.com, efinancialcareers.com, jobsinthemoney.com and cybermediadice.com websites. Revenue from customers buying a package of available job listings and access to the database is recognized ratably over the length of the underlying contract, typically from one to twelve months. Revenue from the sale of classified job listings is recognized ratably over the length of the contract or the period of actual usage, if shorter.

Certification test preparation and assessment. MeasureUp revenues are derived from providing online certification test preparation and related products for technology professionals. Technology professionals preparing for certification exams use these products at training centers or individually online. Revenue from MeasureUp's online certification preparation products is recognized ratably over the useful life of the product purchased. Revenue from the sale of CD-ROM test preparation exams is recognized when the product is shipped.

Job fair booth rentals. Job fair revenues are derived from renting booth space to recruiters and employers. Revenue from these sales is recognized when the job fair is held. Certain customers purchase access to resumes obtained at these job fairs, which revenue is recognized on a per event basis over the period of the contract.

Concentration of Credit Risk—Substantially all of the Company's excess cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities have been invested in a diversified portfolio of debt instruments of United States government agencies and high quality money market instruments. At December 31, 2005 and 2006, the Company maintained balances in various banks in excess of the $100,000 balance insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk.

DICE HOLDINGS, INC.

The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of its customers' financial condition and generally does not require collateral on accounts receivable. Accounts receivable are reduced for sales discounts. No single customer represents 10% or more of revenues for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts—The Company maintains allowances for doubtful accounts for estimated losses resulting from the inability of its customers to make required payments. If the financial condition of Dice's customers were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments, additional allowances may be required.

Statements of Cash Flows—All highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less are considered cash equivalents. Restricted cash is required for borrowing arrangements and security on leased property. Restricted cash totaled $378,000 and $187,000 as of December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively, and is reported as a component of other assets on the balance sheet.

The supplemental disclosures to the accompanying consolidated statements of cash flows are as follows (in thousands):

	2005	2006
Supplemental cash flow information:
Interest paid	$1,409	$3,809
Taxes paid	—	816
Non-cash investing and financing activities:
Issuance of preferred stock to acquire eFinancialGroup Limited	$—	$25,174
Non-cash capital expenditures on fixed assets	177	330

Marketable Securities—The Company's marketable securities are comprised of U.S. government and agency securities and corporate debt securities with readily determinable quoted market values. Marketable securities are classified and accounted for as available-for-sale and are reported at fair market value with the resulting net unrealized gains or losses reported as a separate component of stockholders' equity. If management determines that an unrealized loss is other-than-temporary, such loss will be charged to the statement of operations. There were no other-than-temporary charges during 2005 or 2006.

Fixed Assets—Depreciation of equipment, furniture and fixtures, computer software and capitalized website development costs are provided under the straight-line method over estimated useful lives ranging from two to five years. Amortization of leasehold improvements is provided over the shorter of the term of the related lease or the estimated useful life of the improvement. The cost of additions and betterments is capitalized, and repairs and maintenance costs are charged to operations in the periods incurred.

Capitalized Software Costs—Capitalized software costs consist of costs to purchase and develop software for internal use. The Company capitalizes certain incurred software development costs in accordance with the AICPA issued Statement of Position No. 98-1, Accounting for the Cost of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use ("SOP 98-1"). Costs incurred during the application-development stage for software bought and further customized by outside vendors for the Company's use and software developed by a vendor for the Company's proprietary use have been capitalized.

Website Development Costs—The Company capitalizes costs incurred in designing, developing, testing and implementing enhancements to its websites. These costs are amortized over the enhancement's estimated useful life, which approximates two years. Costs related to the planning and post implementation phases of website development efforts are expensed as incurred.

Goodwill—Goodwill is recorded when the purchase price paid for an acquisition exceeds the estimated fair value of the net identified tangible and intangible assets acquired. The Company performs an annual test in the third quarter of each year, or more frequently if indicators of potential impairment exist, to determine if the carrying value of the recorded goodwill is impaired. The impairment review process compares the fair value of the reporting unit in which goodwill resides to its carrying value. Fair value is determined using a discounted cash flow methodology. The determination of whether or not goodwill has become impaired involves a significant level of judgment in the assumptions underlying the approach used to determine the value of the Company's reporting units. Changes in the Company's strategy and/or market conditions could significantly impact these judgments and require adjustments to recorded amounts of goodwill.

Indefinite-Lived Acquired Intangible Assets—The indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets include the Dice trademarks and brand name. The Company performs an annual test in the third quarter of each year, or more frequently if indicators of potential impairment exist, to determine if the carrying value of the recorded indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets are impaired. The impairment review process compares the fair value of the indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets to their carrying value. Fair value is determined using a relief from royalty methodology and a discounted cash flow methodology. The determination of whether or not indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets have become impaired involves a significant level of judgment in the assumptions underlying the approach used to determine the value of the indefinite-lived acquired intangible assets. Changes in the Company's strategy and/or market conditions could significantly impact these judgments and require adjustments to recorded amounts of indefinite-lived intangible assets.

Foreign Currency Translation—For the Company's foreign operations whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar, the assets and liabilities are translated into U.S. dollars at current exchange rates. Resulting translation adjustments are reflected as other comprehensive income (loss) in stockholders' equity. Revenue and expenses are translated at average exchange rates for the period. Transaction gains and losses that arise from exchange rate fluctuations on transactions denominated in a currency other than the functional currency are included in the results of operations as incurred.

Advertising Costs—The Company expenses advertising costs as they are incurred. Advertising expense for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 was $3.4 million and $19.8 million, respectively.

Income Taxes—The Company recognizes deferred taxes by the asset and liability method. Under this method, deferred income taxes are recognized for differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at enacted statutory tax rates in effect for the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. The effect on deferred taxes of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. In addition, valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amounts expected to be realized. The primary sources of temporary differences are depreciation and amortization of intangible assets, net operating loss carryforwards and deferred revenue.

Stock-Based Compensation—The Company has a plan to grant stock options to certain employees and directors of the Company and its subsidiaries. The Company adopted SFAS 123 (Revised 2004), Share-Based Payment ("SFAS 123(R)") at its inception. Compensation expense is recorded for stock options awarded to employees in return for employee service. The expense is measured at the grant-date fair value of the award and recognized as compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the employee service period, which is the vesting period. The Company does not expect forfeitures to occur and records expense based upon the number of awards expected to vest.

The fair value of options granted during the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 was estimated on the grant date using Black-Scholes option-pricing model using the weighted average assumptions in the table below. Because the Company's stock is not publicly traded, the average historical volatility rate for a similar entity was used. The expected life of options granted is derived from historical exercise behavior. The risk—free rate for periods within the expected life of the option is based on the U.S. Treasury yield curve in effect at the time of grant.

The weighted average fair value of options granted	$277	$701
Dividend yield	0.00%	0.00%
Weighted average risk-free interest rate	4.52%	4.64%
Weighted average expected volatility	38.80%	36.84%
Expected life (in years)	4	4

Information related to the outstanding stock options are disclosed in Note 11.

The net income effect of stock based compensation expense for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 was $.2 million and $1.5 million, respectively. The amount to be charged to expense over the remaining service periods of $5.1 million at December 31, 2006 is expected to be recognized over 4 years.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments—The carrying amounts reported in the consolidated balance sheet for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses, and long-term debt (based on comparable terms and rates) approximate their fair values.

Risks and Uncertainties–DHI has a limited operating history and its prospects are subject to the risks, expenses and uncertainties frequently encountered by companies in the new and rapidly evolving markets for internet products and services. These risks include the failure to develop and extend the Company's online service brands, the rejection of the Company's services by consumers, vendors and/or advertisers, the inability of the Company to maintain and increase the levels of traffic on its online services, as well as other risks and uncertainties. In the event that the Company does not successfully execute its business plan, certain assets may not be recoverable.

Use of Estimates–The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements, and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates. DHI's significant estimates include the useful lives and valuation of fixed assets and intangible assets; the income tax valuation allowance; fair value of the common and preferred stock of the Company; the assumptions used to value the stock options of the Company; and the valuation of assets acquired and liabilities assumed from acquisitions.

Other Comprehensive Income (Loss)–SFAS No. 130, Reporting Comprehensive Income, establishes standards for the reporting and display of comprehensive income (loss) and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements. This statement requires that all items that are required to be recognized as components of comprehensive income (loss) be reported in a financial statement with the same prominence as other financial statements. The unrealized gain (loss) on marketable securities available-for-sale and foreign currency translation impact comprehensive income (loss). The following table summarizes the components of other comprehensive income (loss) as of December 31, 2005 and 2006 (in thousands):

	December 31, 2005			December 31, 2006
	Before tax	Tax effect	Net of Tax	Before tax	Tax effect	Net of Tax
Translation adjustments	$–	$–	$–	$2,619	$786	$1,833
Securities available for sale:
Net unrealized gains (losses) arising during the year	(6)	–	(6)	5	2	3
Reclassification of gains included in net income	–	–	–	(2)	(1)	(1)
Net unrealized gains (losses) arising during the year	(6)	–	(6)	3	1	2
Other comprehensive income (loss)	$(6)	$–	$(6)	$2,622	$787	$1,835

Net Income (Loss) per Common and Common Equivalent Share–The Company follows FASB Statement No. 128, Earnings Per Share, and EITF Issue No. 03-6, Participating Securities and the Two-Class Method under FASB Statement 128, ("EITF 03-6"). EITF 03-6 established standards regarding the computation of earnings per share ("EPS") by companies that have issued securities other than common stock that contractually entitle the holder to participate in dividends and earnings of the company. EITF 03-6 requires earnings available to common shareholders for the period, after deduction of convertible preferred stock dividends, to be allocated between the common and convertible preferred shareholders based on their respective rights to receive dividends. Basic EPS is then calculated by dividing income allocable to common shareholders (including the reduction for any undeclared, preferred stock dividends assuming current income for the period had been distributed) by the weighted average number of shares outstanding. EITF 03-6 does not require the presentation of basic and diluted EPS for securities other than common stock; therefore, the EPS amounts only pertain to the Company's common stock.

The Company calculates diluted EPS under the if-converted method unless the conversion of the convertible preferred stock is anti-dilutive to basic EPS. To the extent convertible preferred stock is anti-dilutive, the Company calculates diluted EPS under the two class method to include the effect of potential common shares. The impact of the preferred shares and the common stock options were anti-dilutive and therefore were excluded from the calculation of diluted EPS.

Investment in Variable Interest Entity–In September 2004, Dice India entered into a joint venture agreement with CyberMedia (India) Limited ("CyberMedia"), a leading publisher of content for technology professionals in India, to form CyberMedia Dice. CyberMedia Dice was formed to launch an online technology-focused career website for the posting of technology-related jobs based in India.

Under the terms of the agreement, the Company initially invested $500,000 in cash and made certain technology available to the joint venture in consideration for which Dice India has a 51% equity ownership of the joint venture. CyberMedia contributed certain assets of its existing job board and access to its media properties for promotional purposes in exchange for 49% of the equity in the joint venture. The board of directors is comprised of two members from each partner. Certain actions of the board of directors require unanimous consent of all the directors.

During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company invested an additional $510,000 in cash. CyberMedia invested cash in an amount such that the equity ownership of CyberMedia Dice was not changed.

The Company determined CyberMedia Dice to be a variable interest entity as it did not have sufficient equity at risk to finance their operations. CyberMedia Dice funded its operations through the cash contributions received from CyberMedia and the Company. The Company was determined to be the primary beneficiary as it is expected to absorb the majority of the expected losses as well as receive a majority of the expected residual returns. Accordingly, the Company has consolidated CyberMedia Dice with CyberMedia's 49% interest reflected as minority interest.

New Accounting Pronouncements–In September 2006, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, Fair Value Measurements ("SFAS 157"). SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS 157 does not impose fair value measurements on items not already accounted for at fair value; rather it applies, with certain exceptions, to other accounting pronouncements that either require or permit fair value measurements. SFAS 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 157 on its consolidated financial statements.

In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes–an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 ("FIN 48"). FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes ("SFAS 109"), and prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a return. Guidance is also provided on de-recognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure and transition. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting FIN 48 on its consolidated financial statements.

In February 2007, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities ("SFAS 159"). SFAS 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value and establishes presentation and disclosure requirements designed to facilitate comparisons between entities that choose different measurement attributes for similar types of assets and liabilities. Unrealized gains and losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected are reported in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. SFAS 159 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2007. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 159 on its consolidated financial statements.

3. ACQUISITION OF DICE INC.

On July 9, 2005, DHI, a company formed by Quadrangle Group LLC, and its affiliates (collectively, "Quadrangle"), and General Atlantic Partners LLC, and its affiliates (collectively, "General Atlantic") entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Agreement") with Dice. Under the terms of the Agreement, DHI acquired all of the outstanding stock, warrants and stock options of Dice in exchange for a total of $197.0 million in cash, less certain transaction related costs, resulting in net proceeds to the equity holders of Dice of approximately $196.8 million. The acquisition was financed by equity contributions of $111.8 million, the use of cash held by Dice totaling approximately $25.0 million, and borrowings of $60.0 million.

The Company incurred a total of $3.5 million of direct costs associated with the transaction. Of that amount, $1.6 million was capitalized as debt issuance costs. The remaining $1.9 million was included as consideration paid in the allocation of the purchase price.

During the period ended December 31, 2005, the Company received from the transfer agent $1.2 million, representing proceeds of the above transaction for which the former equity holders of Dice have not yet tendered their old Dice shares. The Company has accounted for the proceeds as a long-term liability, as it is not known when or if those shares will eventually be tendered and payment made. At December 31, 2006, $1.2 million remains as a long-term liability.

The transaction closed on August 31, 2005 (“date of acquisition”), at which time DHI acquired all assets and assumed all liabilities of Dice, and Dice became a wholly-owned subsidiary of DHI. The acquisition was recorded using the purchase method of accounting and accordingly, the acquired assets and assumed liabilities were recorded at their estimated fair market value at the date of acquisition and the results of operations have been included in the Company’s consolidated financial statements since the date of acquisition.

Estimated fair values were determined using a royalty savings method for Dice’s existing technology and trade names, a discounted cash flow approach based on the length and expected cash flows from the relationships for customer relationships, replacement price for fixed assets, and replacement cost as an indicator of fair value for seeker relationships.

Factors that contributed to a purchase price resulting in goodwill for the purchase of Dice’s assets included relationships with job seekers and customers, historical cash flow, executive experience (not tied to non-competition agreements) and the value of the workforce in place. The amortization of goodwill is not deductible for tax purposes.

Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code (“Section 382”) establishes a limit on the amount of net operating losses of Dice that may be used to offset income after the ownership changes. The Company determined the Section 382 limitation created by various ownership changes limits the net operating losses that are available to be used on a prospective basis by $20.6 million per year. The net operating losses were $56.3 million as of August 31, 2005.

The following summarizes the estimated fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed at the date of acquisition, in millions of dollars:

Assets:
Cash and cash equivalents	$7.8
Marketable securities	1.6
Accounts receivable	3.9
Prepaid and other current assets	0.8
Fixed assets	3.6
Acquired intangible assets	91.4
Goodwill	82.6
Deferred financing costs	1.6
Other assets	0.5
Assets acquired	$193.8
Liabilities:
Accounts payable and accrued expenses	$7.5
Deferred revenue	10.1
Deferred income taxes—current	1.9
Other current liabilities	1.0
Deferred income taxes—non-current	1.5
Liabilities assumed	$22.0

The acquired intangible assets consist of the following, in millions of dollars:

Technology	$ 10.2
Trademarks and brand names—Dice	39.0
Trademarks and brand names—Other	0.5
Customer lists	26.1

Order backlog	0.6
Candidate database	15.0
Acquired intangible assets	$91.4

The $10.1 million allocation to deferred revenue resulted in a reduction from the historical carrying amount by $6.0 million to reflect the fair value of the liability assumed. During the period ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, the amortization of this reduction in deferred revenue resulted in a $3.9 million and $2.1 million reduction in revenue, respectively.

The final purchase price allocation was completed during the third quarter of 2006. Changes from the initial purchase price allocation resulted in adjustments to goodwill and deferred taxes of $17.9 million. See further discussion of the deferred tax adjustments in Note 12.

4. ACQUISITION OF eFINANCIALGROUP LIMITED

On October 31, 2006, DHI acquired all of the outstanding shares of eFinancialGroup Limited ("eFG") which operates career management services for finance, accounting and capital markets and financial services professionals. At the time of the acquisition, eFG was the parent of (1) eFinancialCareers Limited, a global financial markets career website for capital markets and financial services professionals, (2) JobsintheMoney.com, Inc., a career website for accounting and finance professionals in the United States, and (3) eFinancialNews Limited ("eFN"), which publishes financial news periodicals.

DHI acquired all of the outstanding stock of eFG in exchange for a total of $106.3 million in cash and 7,872 shares of convertible preferred stock of DHI valued at $25.2 million, net of cash acquired of $3.9 million. Immediately after the acquisition of eFG, eFN was sold to a company controlled by a group of former eFG shareholders for total consideration of $41.6 million, resulting in a net purchase price for the remaining eFG business, which was comprised of eFC and JitM, of $89.9 million in cash and convertible preferred stock. The cash portion of the acquisition, including transaction costs, was financed by borrowings of $67.0 million, plus cash on hand. The acquisition was recorded using the purchase method of accounting and accordingly, the acquired assets and assumed liabilities were recorded at their estimated fair market value at the date of acquisition and the results of operations of eFC and JitM have been included in the Company's consolidated financial statements since the date of acquisition.

The Company incurred a total of $3.2 million of direct costs associated with the transaction. Of that amount, $.9 million was capitalized as debt issuance costs. The remaining $2.3 million was included as consideration paid in the allocation of the purchase price.

Estimated fair values were determined using a royalty savings method for eFG's existing technology and trade names, a discounted cash flow approach based on the length and expected cash flows from the relationships for customer relationships, replacement price for fixed assets, market rental rates for leased property, and replacement cost as an indicator of fair value for seeker relationships.

Factors that contributed to a purchase price resulting in goodwill for the purchase of eFG included relationships with job seekers and customers, historical cash flow, executive experience (not tied to non-competition agreements) and the value of the workforce in place. The amortization of goodwill is not deductible for tax purposes.

The purchase price allocation is substantially complete and material changes to goodwill are not expected. The initial purchase price allocation of eFG based upon management's estimates at the date of acquisition, in millions of dollars, is as follows:

Assets:

Cash and cash equivalents	$3.9
Accounts receivable	4.7
Prepaid and other current assets	0.2
Fixed assets	0.3
Acquired intangible assets	27.1
Goodwill	71.4
Other assets	41.6
Assets acquired	$149.2
Liabilities:
Accounts payable and accrued expenses	$5.0
Deferred income taxes	9.2
Deferred revenue	1.2
Liabilities assumed	$15.4

The acquired intangible assets consist of the following, in millions of dollars:

Technology	$ 2.7
Trademarks and brand names	7.2
Customer lists	12.1
Order backlog	1.4
Candidate database	3.5
Leasehold interests	0.2
Acquired intangible assets	$ 27.1

The portion of the purchase price allocated to eFN is included above in Other assets. The $41.6 million was received by DHI immediately subsequent to the closing of the sale of eFN on October 31, 2006.

The following pro forma condensed consolidated results of operations assume that the acquisition of eFG was completed as of June 28, 2005 (inception) and January 1, 2006 (in millions except per share amounts):

Revenues	$38.8	$105.2
Net loss	(9.8)	(0.2)
Loss per share	$(48,891)	$(56,900)

The pro forma financial information represents the historical operating results of the combined company with adjustments for purchase accounting and is not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that would have been achieved if the acquisition had taken place at the beginning of the period presented. The pro forma adjustments included adjustments for interest on borrowings and amortization of acquired intangible assets and deferred financing costs as well as the related income tax impacts of such adjustments. The pro forma information for 2005 assumes the acquisition of eFG, excluding eFN, was completed on June 28, 2005, the date of incorporation of DHI. Actual results for 2005 include the results of Dice's operations subsequent to August 31, 2005, the date DHI acquired Dice. The pro forma information for 2005 assumes the acquisition of Dice Inc. was completed on June 28, 2005.

5. Marketable Securities

DHI's marketable securities are stated at fair value. The following tables summarize the Company's marketable securities as of December 31, 2005 and 2006 (in thousands):

	December 31, 2005

Amortization expense for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 was $4.4 million and $13.7 million, respectively.

Based on the carrying value of the acquired finite-lived intangible assets recorded as of December 31, 2006, and assuming no subsequent impairment of the underlying assets, the estimated annual amortization expense is as follows (in thousands):

	2007	2008	2009	2010	2011

Indefinite Life on Trade Name

The Dice.com Trade Name / Trademark / Domain Name is one of the most recognized names of online job boards. Since Dice's inception in 1991, the brand has been recognized as a leader in recruiting and career development services for technology and engineering professionals. Currently, the brand is synonymous with the most specialized online marketplace for industry-specific talent. The brand has significant online and offline presence in online recruiting and career development services. Considering the recognition of the brand, its long history, awareness in the talent acquisition and staffing services market, and the intended use, the remaining useful life of the Dice.com Trade Name / Trademark / Domain Name was determined to be indefinite.

Impairment

Management has been assessing the long-term economic viability of MeasureUp in light of projected cash flow and operating losses and, in that regard, has attempted to sell the business. The results of the 2007 budgeting process completed in the fourth quarter of 2006 and management's attempt to sell the business were triggering events that required impairment testing of MeasureUp's intangible balances. The fair values of existing technology and trade names were determined using a royalty savings method. The fair value of the customer relationships was determined using a discounted cash flow approach based on the length and expected cash flows from the relationships. The impairment resulting from the current year impairment test was due to current operating results and expectations regarding future results of MeasureUp being well below previously expected. The unamortized acquired intangible assets for MeasureUp were reduced to zero which resulted in a charge of $1.0 million in the statement of operations. On February 2, 2007, the Board of Directors authorized Company management to pursue the abandonment of MeasureUp and cease operations. The operations will be abandoned and are expected to end prior to June 30, 2007.

8. Indebtedness

In August 2005, the Company and its subsidiaries entered into a financing agreement which provided for a $65 million revolving credit facility, expiring August 30, 2010. On August 31, 2005, the Company borrowed a total of $60 million in connection with the acquisition of Dice. Borrowings under the line of credit are handled under two options: the Reference Rate Option or the LIBOR Option. Under the Reference Rate Option, loans with no fixed term accrue interest at a floating rate based upon prime. Interest is payable on the Reference Rate Option monthly, in arrears, on the first day of each month. Under the LIBOR Option, up to five (5) short-term loans with a fixed term can be in effect at any one time. These loans accrue interest at a fixed rate based on the applicable LIBOR Rate. Interest is payable on the LIBOR Option loans on the earliest of the last day of the interest period, or in no event greater than three (3) months after the commencement of the interest period.

In April 2006, the Company renegotiated its financing agreement to provide for lower interest rates and to allow for the Company to pay a one-time dividend on its convertible preferred stock. In October 2006, the Company declared and paid dividends on convertible preferred stock totalling $11.2 million, financed by borrowings under the revolving credit facility.

In October 2006, in connection with the acquisition of eFG, the Company further amended the financing agreement to increase the total revolving credit commitment to $110 million and to provide for new interest rates. The amounts borrowed and terms of the financing agreement as of December 31, 2005 and 2006 are as follows (in thousands):

	December 31, 2005	December 31, 2006
Total Credit Facility	$65,000	$110,000
Amounts Borrowed:
LIBOR Rate Loans	49,000	87,000
Reference Rate Loans	–	2,000
Interest Rates:
LIBOR Option:
Interest Margin	6.50%	3.50%
Minimum LIBOR rate	3.00%	3.00%
Actual interest rates at December 31	10.56% to 11.08%	8.85% to 9.40%
Reference Rate Option:
Interest Margin	3.75%	0.75%
Minimum Reference Rate	6.00%	6.00%
Actual interest rate at December 31	–	9.00%

The agreement contains certain covenants which restrict, among other things, the ability of the Company to borrow, pay dividends, repurchase its common stock, acquire businesses, distribute assets, guarantee debts of others and lend funds to affiliated companies and contains criteria on the maintenance of certain financial statement amounts and ratios, all as defined in the agreement. The Company was in compliance with all such covenants as of December 31, 2006.

On March 21, 2007, the Company entered into an Amended and Restated Financing Agreement, resulting in total borrowings of $194.0 million. The financing agreement provides for a revolving credit facility of $75.0 million and a term loan facility of $125.0 million, and matures on March 21, 2012. Quarterly payments of $250,000 are due on the term loan facility beginning on October 1, 2007. Immediately prior to entering into the amended agreement, the Company had $81.0 million outstanding under the then existing facility. On March 21, 2007, the Company borrowed an additional $113.0 million under the amended agreement. Borrowings under the facility bear interest, at the Company's option, at the LIBOR Rate plus 3.25% or Reference Rate plus 1.75%. Financial and other covenants in the amended agreement are consistent with the original agreement. Future maturities of the amended agreement are as follows (in thousands):

2008	1,000
2009	1,000
2010	1,000
2011	1,000
Thereafter	189,750
Total minimum payments	$194,000

CyberMedia Dice has an equipment finance agreement under which it borrowed approximately $100,000. The agreement calls for interest only payments for the first three months, and then equal monthly installments of $4,000. The interest rate on the loan is 12% per annum. The loan is secured by the computer equipment purchased with the proceeds. The outstanding amounts were $71,000 and $23,000 as of December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively, and are included in other liabilities.

9. Commitments and Contingencies

Leases

The Company leases equipment and office space under operating leases expiring at various dates through November 2011. Future minimum lease payments under non-cancelable operating leases as of December 31, 2006 are as follows (in thousands):

2007	$ 824
2008	627
2009	468
2010	372
2011	317
Total minimum payments	$2,608

Rent expense was $197,000 and $640,000 for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively.

Restricted Cash and Letters of Credit

As of December 31, 2005 and 2006, Dice had $378,000 and $187,000, respectively, in standby letters of credit that collateralize facility lease agreements. Restricted cash, which is included in other assets in the balance sheet, collateralizes such standby letters of credit.

Litigation

The Company is subject to various claims from taxing authorities, lawsuits and other complaints arising in the ordinary course of business. The Company records provisions for losses when claims become probable and the amounts are estimable. Although the outcome of these legal matters cannot be determined, it is the opinion of management that the final resolution of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, operations or liquidity.

10. Convertible Preferred Stock

The Company's Amended Certificate of Incorporation provides for the authorization of the Board of Directors ("Board") at its discretion to issue up to 125,000 shares of convertible preferred stock with a par value of $0.01. At the time of issuance, the Board will have discretion as to the designation of each issuance, voting rights, dividend rights and rates, if any, redemption price and liquidation preference, among other provisions.

On August 31, 2005, 111,800 shares of convertible preferred stock were issued in exchange for total consideration of $111.8 million.

On October 31, 2006, 7,872 shares of convertible preferred stock were issued in connection with the acquisition of eFG described in Note 4. Each share was valued at $3,198 for total consideration of $25.2 million.

The Company has determined that there was no embedded beneficial conversion feature attributable to the convertible preferred stock, since the initial conversion price of the preferred stock is equal to the issuance price, which was negotiated and agreed between the Company and the external investor on an arm's length basis and, which was determined by management to approximate the fair value of the Company's common stock at the commitment date since there was no existence of a public or active market of the Company's common stock, nor were there any cash transactions involving the Company's common shares that occurred prior to this date.

The rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions granted to and imposed on the convertible preferred stock are as set forth below.

Dividend provisions

The preferred stockholders are entitled to dividends only when dividends are paid to common shareholders. In the event of a dividend, the holders of the preferred shares are entitled to share in the dividend on a pro rata basis, as if their shares had been converted into shares of common stock.

Conversion rights

Any holder of preferred stock has the right, at its option, to convert the preferred shares into shares of common stock at a ratio of one preferred stock share for one common stock share. The holders of 66 ^{2}/3 of all outstanding preferred stock have the right at any time to require all the outstanding shares of preferred stock to be converted into an equal number of shares of common stock. Voting rights include the right to vote at a special or annual meeting of stockholders on all matters entitled to be voted on by holders of common stock, voting together as a single class with the common stock. There are no redemption rights associated with the preferred stock.

Liquidation rights

Upon the occurrence of a liquidation, the holders of the preferred shares shall be paid in cash for each share of preferred stock held, out of, but only to the extent of, the assets of the Company legally available for distribution to its stockholders, before any payment or distribution is made to any shareholders of common stock. The liquidation value is $1,000 per share, subject to adjustments for stock splits, stock dividends, combinations, or other recapitalizations of the preferred stock.

11. Stock Based Compensation

The Company adopted the 2005 Omnibus Stock Option Plan (the "Stock Option Plan") under which options may be granted to employees and directors to purchase shares of the Company's common stock. Options granted under the Stock Option Plan may be options that are intended to qualify as incentive stock options and options that are not intended to so qualify. The Board or the compensation committee of the Board determines the exercise price and other conditions as specified in the Stock Option Plan; provided that, for incentive stock options, the exercise price shall not be less than 100% of the fair market value of common stock at the date of grant. No option shall have a term in excess of ten (10) years. If incentive stock options are granted to a person possessing more than 10% of the combined voting power or value of all classes of stock of the Company, the exercise price shall not be less than 110% of the Company's common stock fair market value on the date of grant. Under the Stock Option Plan, the Board may, at its discretion, cause the options to become fully exercisable upon a change of control of the Company.

As of December 31, 2006, the Company had reserved 18,073 shares of common stock for the exercise of options, of which 1,615 were available for future grants.

The following table summarizes information about stock options granted and forfeited for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006:

	Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price
Options outstanding - June 28, 2005	—	$—
Granted	13,670	$1,000
Options outstanding - December 31, 2005	13,670	$1,000
Granted	2,788	$2,629
Options outstanding - December 31, 2006	16,458	$1,202

The average remaining life of the options granted is 8.9 years. Options generally vest 25% after one year and then at a rate of 6.25% every three months until fully vested.

In October 2006, a dividend of $100 per share was declared and paid to holders of convertible preferred stock. The Board of Directors approved reducing the strike price of the 13,969 options outstanding at the date of the payment of the dividend by $89 in order to maintain the economic value of the options in comparison to the value those options had immediately prior to the dividend. The options outstanding at the time of the dividend were revalued resulting in additional compensation expense of $1.0 million to be recorded over the vesting period of the options. Additional compensation expense of $253,000 was expensed in 2006 on the 3,418 options that were fully vested as of the date of the dividend.

As of December 31, 2006, 4,272 options with a fair value of $1.5 million have vested and are exercisable at a weighted average exercise price of $911. The vested options have an average remaining life of 8.7 years. No options were cancelled or expired during the year. As of December 31, 2006, compensation cost to be recognized in the future related to the nonvested options totaled $5.1 million and is expected to be recognized over 4 years. All nonvested options are expected to vest.

During the period ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 the Company granted the following stock options with exercise prices as follows:

Grant Date	Number of stock options issued	Fair value of common stock		Exercise price	Intrinsic value
November 7, 2005	13,670	$1,000	*	$1,000	$—
May 2, 2006	299	1,621		1,621	—
November 1, 2006	2,195	2,750		2,750	—
December 5, 2006	294	2,750		2,750	—

* The fair value was determined based on the third party transaction with the Company's preferred stock issued in connection with the acquisition of Dice Inc.

 The fair value was determined based on a contemporaneous internal valuation prepared by management with the appropriate levels of competency.

 The fair value was determined based on the third party transaction with the Company's preferred stock issued in connection with the acquisition of eFG taking into consideration the dilution of shares and incurrence of debt following the acquisition.

The derived fair value of the common shares underlying the options was determined based on an internal valuation prepared by management with the appropriate level of competency, using generally accepted valuation methodologies, including the discounted cash flow method, a method within the income approach whereby the present value of future expected net cash flows is calculated using a discount rate and the guideline companies approach, which incorporates certain assumptions including the market performance of comparable listed companies as well as the financial results and growth trends of the Company, to derive the total equity value of the Company. The valuation model allocated the equity value between the common shares and the preferred shares and determined the fair value of common shares based on the option-pricing method under the enterprise value allocation method. Under this method, the common shares have value only if the funds available for distribution to shareholders exceed the value of the liquidation preference at the time of a liquidity event (for example, a merger or sale).

12. Income Taxes

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities at December 31, 2005 and 2006 are as follows (in thousands):

	2005	2006
Deferred tax assets:
Net operating loss carryforward	$23,182	$18,847

Deferred tax assets (liabilities) included in the balance sheet as of December 31, 2005 and 2006 are as follows (in thousands):

	2005	2006
Deferred income taxes—current	$2,500	$14,000
Deferred income taxes—non-current	(22,471)	(29,582)
Net deferred tax liabilities	$(19,971)	$(15,582)

Tax expense (benefit) for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 is as follows (in thousands):

	2005	2006
Current income tax expense	$—	$974
Deferred income tax expense (benefit)	(1,050)	3,127
Income tax expense (benefit)	$(1,050)	$4,101

A reconciliation of the federal statutory tax rate to the effective tax rate on continuing operations applicable to income before income tax expense (benefit) follows:

	2005	2006
Federal statutory rate	35.0%	35.0%
State taxes, net of federal effect	1.7%	4.5%
Tax effect of foreign income	—	(0.7)%
Effective tax rate	36.7%	38.8%

As of December 31, 2005 and 2006, the Company has net operating loss carryforwards for federal income tax purposes of approximately $60.2 million and $49.6 million, respectively. The carryforwards will begin to expire in 2011 if not used. Current tax expense during the year ended December 31, 2006 was reduced by $9.9 million from the benefits of the net operating loss carryforwards.

Due to the transaction described in Note 3, the amount and availability of the net operating loss carryforwards is subject to annual limitations set forth by the Internal Revenue Code Section 382. Factors such as the number of shares ultimately issued within a three-year look-back period; whether there is deemed to be a more than 50 percent change in control; the applicable long-term tax exempt bond rate; continuity of historical business; and subsequent income of the Company all enter into the annual computation of allowable annual utilization of the carryforwards. The Company determined the Section 382 limitation created by various ownership changes limits the net operating losses that are available to be used on a prospective basis to $20.6 million per year.

Realization of the Company's net deferred tax assets is dependant upon the Company generating sufficient taxable income in future years in the appropriate tax jurisdictions to obtain a benefit from the reversal of deductible temporary differences and from tax loss carryforwards.

The Company has concluded that, based on expected future results and the future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences, it is more likely than not that the deferred tax assets will be used in the future. Accordingly, the valuation allowance that was established in 2005 was reversed in 2006, resulting in the benefit being recorded as a reduction to goodwill.

13. Employee Savings Plan

The Company has a savings plan (the "Savings Plan") that qualifies as a deferred salary arrangement under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. Under the Savings Plan, participating employees may defer a portion of their pretax earnings, up to the Internal Revenue Service annual contribution limit. For the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006, respectively, the Company contributed $88,000 and $413,000, respectively, to match employee contributions to the Savings Plan.

14. Segment Information

The Company aggregates its operating segments into three reportable segments: DCS Online, MeasureUp, and eFC. Aggregation is based on similarity of operating segments as to economic characteristics, products, types or classes of customer and the methods of distribution. In addition to these three reportable segments, the Company has other businesses and activities that individually are not more than 10% of consolidated revenues, net income, or total assets. These include the job fair business, Dice India, and JitM and are reported in the "Other" category. The Company's foreign operations are comprised of eFC, whose business is principally in Great Britain, and Dice India. Corporate costs are included in the DCS Online segment. The following table shows the segment information for the periods ended December 31, 2005 and 2006 (in thousands):

Other goodwill adjustments result from the finalization of the purchase price allocation of the Dice acquisition and are primarily related to income taxes.

15. Subsequent Event

On March 23, 2007, the Company paid a cash dividend of $107.9 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per share, to holders of common stock and convertible preferred stock and made a payment of $4.6 million in the aggregate, or $900.11 per vested option, to holders of vested stock options in lieu of a dividend.

Report of Independent Public Accounting Firm

The Board of Directors

Dice Inc. and subsidiaries

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Dice Inc. and subsidiaries as of August 31, 2005 (before the purchase transaction as described in Notes 1 and 2) and December 31, 2004, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity and comprehensive income, and cash flows for the eight-month period ended August 31, 2005 (before the transaction described in Notes 1 and 2) and the year ended December 31, 2004. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of Dice Inc. and subsidiaries as of August 31, 2005 (before the purchase transaction as described in Notes 1 and 2) and December 31, 2004 and the consolidated results of its operations and its cash flows for the eight-month period ended August 31, 2005 (before the transaction described in Notes 1 and 2) and the year ended December 31, 2004 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

DICE INC.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

August 31, 2005

Note 1—Basis of Presentation and Company Background

Business

Dice Inc. (“Dice” or the “Company”), a Delaware corporation, provides online recruiting and career development services. Dice provides services to hire, train and retain technology, engineering and security-cleared professionals through its two principal operating subsidiaries, Dice Career Solutions, Inc. (“DCSI”), which operates career management services businesses for technology, engineering and security-cleared professionals, and MeasureUp, Inc. (“MeasureUp”), a provider of certification test preparation and assessment products for technology professionals.

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements and related notes are presented as of and for the year ended December 31, 2004, and as of and for the eight-month period ended August 31, 2005. The results as of August 31, 2005 and for the eight month period ended August 31, 2005 include operating activity on August 31, 2005, but exclude the effects of the transaction described in Note 2 below, which were recorded as of the end of business on August 31, 2005. Accordingly, the accompanying consolidated financial statements do not include the effects of the transaction described in Note 2, including:

- equity contributions, use of Company cash and borrowings used to effect the transaction described in Note 2;
- allocation of the purchase price to identifiable tangible and intangible assets and assumed liabilities, with the excess being classified as goodwill;
- 75 options that were granted in June 2005, which were not effective until the closing of the transaction, and resulted in stock-based compensation costs of $512,700; and
- compensation costs associated with the change in control provision which is part of the Company's stock option plan (see Note 9).

Capital Restructuring Plan

On February 14, 2003 (the "Petition Date"), Dice filed a voluntary petition (the "Petition") under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code for the purpose of confirming its pre-arranged Joint Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan") dated February 14, 2003. The Plan was confirmed by the Bankruptcy Court on June 24, 2003 (the "Confirmation Date") and became effective as of the close of business on June 30, 2003 (the "Effective Date").

The Plan eliminated all of the Company's outstanding 7% Convertible Subordinated Notes due in 2005 in exchange for the issuance of 19,000 shares of Reorganized Dice Common Stock to the note holders. The Plan also provided for the 130 largest beneficial holders of old Dice stock to receive a pro rata allocation of 1,000 shares of Reorganized Dice Common Stock. In addition to their 5% ownership, holders of old Dice stock who received new common stock also received warrants to acquire an additional 8% of Reorganized Dice Common Stock. These warrants have an exercise price which would equate to an equity value for Reorganized Dice of $69.4 million in the aggregate. The Dice shareholders who were not among the 130 largest holders received a pro rata allocation of $50,000 in cash. Under the Plan, all of the Company's previously outstanding capital stock and options were canceled effective as of the Effective Date.

As of August 31, 2005 (before the purchase transaction described in Note 2), the Company had completed the issuance of the 19,000 shares to the note holders and 927 shares issuable to holders of old Dice stock. The remaining 73 shares issuable to holders of old Dice stock are held by the Company on behalf of certain beneficial holders pending resolution of the identification and confirmation of their ownership of old Dice stock and their entitlement to any such shares.

Fresh-Start Accounting

In connection with the Company's filing for protection under Chapter 11 and with the emergence of Dice from Chapter 11 protection, the provisions outlined under the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("AICPA") Statement of Position ("SOP") 90-7, "Financial Reporting by Entities in Reorganization Under the Bankruptcy Code,"("SOP 90-7") were applied. SOP 90-7 provides guidance with respect to accounting and classification of items while in bankruptcy and guidance with respect to financial reporting upon emergence from Chapter 11 ("Fresh-Start Accounting"). Upon applying Fresh-Start Accounting, a new reporting entity is deemed to be created, and the recorded amounts of assets and liabilities are adjusted to reflect their estimated fair values.

The consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2003 reflected reorganization adjustments related to the exchange of debt for equity by the note holders, the settlement of unsecured trade claims at amounts less than carrying value, and the adoption of Fresh-Start Accounting.

NOTE 2—ACQUISITION OF DICE INC.

On July 9, 2005, the Company entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Agreement") with Dice Holdings, Inc., a company formed by Quadrangle Group LLC, and its affiliates (collectively, "Quadrangle"), and General Atlantic Partners LLC, and its affiliates (collectively, "General Atlantic"). Under the terms of the Agreement, Dice Holdings, Inc. acquired all of the outstanding stock, warrants and stock options of the Company in exchange for a total of $197.0 million in cash, less certain transaction related costs resulting in net proceeds to the equity holders of Dice of approximately $196.8 million. The acquisition was financed by equity contributions of $111.8 million, the use of cash held by Dice totaling approximately $25.0 million, and borrowings of $60.0 million.

The transaction closed on August 31, 2005, at which time Dice Holdings, Inc. acquired all assets and assumed all liabilities of Dice, and Dice became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Dice Holdings, Inc. These financial statements do not include the effects of this transaction as described in Note 1.

Note 3—Significant Accounting Policies and Procedures

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Dice and its principal subsidiaries, DCSI, MeasureUp, EW Knowledge Products, Inc., and Dice India Holdings, Inc. ("Dice India"). All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

Revenue Recognition

Dice generates revenue from the following sources:

Recruitment packages. Recruitment package revenues are derived from the sale to recruiters and employers a combination of job listings and access to a searchable database of candidates on the dice.com and clearancejobs.com websites. Revenue from customers buying a package of available job listings and access to the database is recognized ratably over the length of the underlying contract, typically one to twelve months. Revenue from the sale of classified job listings is recognized ratably over the term of the contract or the period of actual usage, if shorter.

Certification test preparation and assessment. MeasureUp revenues are derived from providing online certification test preparation and related products for technology professionals. Technology professionals preparing for certification exams use these products at training centers or individually online. Revenue from MeasureUp's online certification preparation products is recognized ratably over the useful life of the product purchased. Revenue from the sale of CD-ROM test preparation exams is recognized when the product is shipped.

Job fair booth rentals. Job fair revenues are derived from renting booth space to recruiters and employers. Revenue from these sales is recognized when the job fair is held. Certain customers purchase access to resumes obtained at these job fairs, which revenue is recognized on a per event basis over the period of the contract.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

All highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less are considered cash equivalents. Restricted cash is required for borrowing arrangements and security on leased property. Restricted cash totaled $567,000 and $596,000 as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005, respectively.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Substantially all of Dice's excess cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities have been invested in a diversified portfolio of debt instruments of United States government agencies and high quality money market instruments. At December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005, the Company maintained balances in various banks in excess of the $100,000 balance insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The Company believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk.

Dice performs ongoing credit evaluations of its customers' financial condition and generally does not require collateral on accounts receivable. Accounts receivable allowances are provided for estimated uncollectible accounts, sales discounts and service credit allowances. Accounts receivable are stated net of allowances for doubtful accounts of $566,000 and $607,000 as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005, respectively. During the year ended December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005, one customer accounted for approximately 4.1% and 2.2% of revenue, respectively.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Dice maintains allowances for doubtful accounts for estimated losses resulting from the inability of its customers to make required payments. If the financial condition of Dice's customers were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments, additional allowances may be required.

Marketable Securities

Dice's marketable securities are comprised of U.S. government and agency securities and corporate debt securities with readily determinable quoted market values. Marketable securities are classified and accounted for as "available-for-sale" and are reported at fair market value with the resulting net unrealized gains or losses reported as a separate component of stockholders' equity. If management determines that an unrealized loss is other than temporary, such loss will be charged to the statement of operations.

Fixed Assets

Depreciation of equipment, furniture and fixtures, computer software and capitalized website development costs are provided under the straight-line method over estimated useful lives ranging from two to five years. Amortization of leasehold improvements is provided over the lesser of the term of the related lease or the estimated useful life of the improvement. The cost of additions and betterments is capitalized, and repairs and maintenance costs are charged to operations in the periods incurred.

Capitalized Software Costs

Capitalized software costs consist of costs to purchase and develop software for internal use. The Company capitalizes certain incurred software development costs in accordance with the AICPA issued Statement of Position No. 98-1, "Accounting for the Cost of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use" ("SOP 98-1"). Costs incurred during the application-development stage for software bought and further customized by outside vendors for the Company's use and software developed by a vendor for the Company's proprietary use have been capitalized.

Website Development Costs

The Company capitalizes costs incurred in designing, developing, testing and implementing enhancements to its website. These costs are amortized over the enhancement's estimated useful life, which is typically two years. Costs related to the planning and post-implementation phases of website development efforts are expensed as incurred.

Reorganization Value in Excess of Amounts Allocated to Identifiable Assets, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("FAS") No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets" ("FAS 142"), effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. Under the rules, goodwill and intangible assets deemed to have indefinite lives are no longer amortized, but are subject to annual impairment tests in accordance with FAS 142. Other intangible assets continue to be amortized over their useful lives.

Reorganization Value in Excess of Amounts Allocated to Identifiable Assets and Goodwill are not subject to amortization and are tested for impairment annually, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset may be impaired. The impairment test consists of a comparison of the fair value of the asset with its carrying amount. If the carrying amount exceeds its fair value, an impairment loss shall be recognized in an amount equal to that excess. After an impairment loss is recognized, the adjusted carrying amount of the asset is its new accounting basis.

Customer lists are amortized using the straight-line method over the expected period of benefit. Other intangible assets not amortized include brand and trade names and candidate databases. The carrying amount of intangibles will be reviewed on a regular basis for the existence of facts or circumstances, both internal and external that suggests impairment. The Company determines if the carrying amount of an asset is impaired based on anticipated undiscounted cash flows before interest and income taxes. In the event of impairment, a loss is recognized based on the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the fair value of the asset. Fair value is determined primarily using the anticipated cash flows before interest and income taxes, discounted at a rate commensurate with the risk involved.

Advertising Costs

The Company expenses advertising costs as they are incurred. Advertising expense for the year ended December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005 was $5.8 million and $5.6 million, respectively.

Income Taxes

Dice recognizes deferred taxes by the asset and liability method. Under this method, deferred income taxes are recognized for differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at enacted statutory tax rates in effect for the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. The effect on deferred taxes of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date. In addition, valuation allowances are established when necessary to reduce deferred tax assets to the amounts expected to be realized. The primary sources of temporary differences are depreciation and amortization of intangible assets and net operating loss carryforwards.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts reported in the consolidated balance sheets for cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses, and capital lease obligations approximate their fair values.

Risks and Uncertainties

Dice has a limited operating history and its prospects are subject to the risks, expenses and uncertainties frequently encountered by companies in the new and rapidly evolving markets for Internet products and services. These risks include the failure to develop and extend Dice's online service brands, the rejection of Dice's services by consumers, vendors and/or advertisers, the inability of Dice to maintain and increase the levels of traffic on its online services, as well as other risks and uncertainties. In the event that Dice does not successfully execute its business plan, certain assets may not be recoverable.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements, and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Dice's significant estimates include the useful lives and valuation of fixed assets and intangible assets; the accounts receivable allowance for doubtful accounts; and the income tax valuation allowance.

Stock-Based Compensation

Dice applies Accounting Principles Board's Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock-Issued to Employees" ("APB No. 25") and related interpretations in accounting for its stock option issuances. Dice has adopted the disclosure-only provisions of SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation ("SFAS No. 123"). Under APB No. 25, generally, no compensation expense was recognized in connection with the awarding of stock option grants to employees provided that, as of the grant date, all terms associated with the award are fixed and the market price of the stock is equal to or less than the amount an employee must pay to acquire the stock as defined. In instances where Dice did not award stock options with a grant price equal to or greater than the value of Dice's common stock, Dice recorded compensation costs and related income tax effects in its Consolidated Statements of Operations based on the intrinsic value of the award.

Had compensation expense for options granted to employees under the option plan been determined based on the fair value method prescribed by SFAS 123, our net income and net income per share would have been adjusted to the pro forma amounts below (in thousands, except per share data):

Net income, as reported	$1,802	$5,865
Add: Stock-based employee compensation expense included in reported net income, net of related tax effects	70	47
Deduct: Total stock-based employee compensation expense under the fair value based method for all awards, net of related tax effects	(431)	(341)
Net income, pro forma	$1,441	$5,571
Net income per share:
As reported–basic	$90.13	$293.35
Pro forma–basic	72.08	278.65
As reported–diluted	83.40	262.28
Pro forma–diluted	67.93	250.93

For purposes of pro forma disclosures, the estimated fair value of the options is assumed to be expensed over the options' vesting periods. For purposes of the above pro forma calculation, the value of each option granted through August 31, 2005 was estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Sholes pricing model with the following weighted-average assumptions:

	2004	2005
Risk-free interest rate	3.6%	4.1%
Expected volatility	45.4%	42.7%
Expected life (in years)	3	3
Dividend yield	–	–
Weighted average estimated fair value of options granted during the period	$569	$2,881

Comprehensive Income

FAS No. 130, "Reporting Comprehensive Income", establishes standards for the reporting and display of comprehensive income (loss) and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements. This statement requires that all items that are required to be recognized as components of comprehensive income (loss) be reported in a financial statement with the same prominence as other financial statements. The Company has determined that the only item of comprehensive income (loss) relates to its unrealized gain (loss) on marketable securities available-for-sale. The following table summarizes the components of other comprehensive income as of August 31, 2005 and December 31, 2004 (in thousands):

	December 31, 2004			August 31, 2005
	Before tax	Tax effect	Net of Tax	Before tax	Tax effect	Net of Tax
Securities available for sale:
Net unrealized gains (losses) arising during the year	$(66)	$–	$(66)	$62	$–	$62

Reclassification of gains (losses) included in net income	3	—	3	(2)	—	(2)
Net unrealized gains (losses) arising during the year	(63)	—	(63)	60	—	60

Investment in Variable Interest Entity

In September 2004, Dice India entered into an agreement with CyberMedia (India) Limited ("CyberMedia"), a leading publisher of content for technology professionals in India, to form CyberMedia Dice. CyberMedia Dice was formed to launch an online technology job board for the posting of technology-related jobs based in India.

Under the terms of the agreement, the Company invested $500,000 in cash and made certain technology available to the joint venture in consideration for which Dice India has a 51% equity ownership of the joint venture. CyberMedia contributed certain assets of its existing job board and access to its media properties for promotional purposes in exchange for 49% of the equity in the joint venture. The board of directors is initially comprised of two members from each partner. Certain actions of the board of directors require unanimous consent of all the directors.

In April, 2005, CyberMedia Dice entered into an equipment finance agreement under which it borrowed approximately $100,000. The agreement calls for interest only payments for the first three months, and then equal monthly installments of $4,000. The interest rate on the loan is 12% per annum. The loan is secured by the technology hardware purchased with the proceeds. The outstanding amount as of August 31, 2005 is $64,000 and is included in other liabilities.

The job board launched in April 2005. The Company determined CyberMedia Dice to be a variable interest entity as it did not have sufficient equity at risk to finance their operations. CyberMedia Dice funded its operations through the cash contributions received from CyberMedia and the Company. The Company was determined to be the primary beneficiary as it is expected to absorb the majority of the expected losses as well as receive a majority of the expected residual returns. Accordingly, Dice has consolidated CyberMedia Dice with CyberMedia's 49% interest reflected as minority interest.

Net Income (Loss) per Common and Common Equivalent Share

The Company follows FASB Statement No. 128, "Earnings Per Share". Basic EPS is calculated by dividing income allocable to common shareholders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding. The company calculates diluted EPS under the treasury stock method unless the exercise of the stock options is anti-dilutive to basic EPS. The following table reconciles basic and diluted earnings per share (in thousands except share and per share data):

	2004	2005
Weighted average shares outstanding—basic	19,993	19,993
Diluted shares outstanding:
Weighted average shares outstanding	19,993	19,993
Add shares issuable upon exercise of stock options	1,614	2,369
Weighted average shares outstanding—diluted	21,607	22,362
Earnings Per Share:
Basic	$90.13	$293.35
Diluted	$83.40	$262.28

Note 4—Acquisitions

ClearanceJobs.com

In September 2004, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of ClearanceJobs.com, the premier online job board focused exclusively on candidates with active U.S. Government security clearances. Total consideration consisted of $400,000 in cash at closing, plus a contingent payment based on billings achieved during the five-month period subsequent to closing, to a maximum of $400,000 in additional consideration. The contingent consideration of $400,000 was paid in 2005. The Company also entered into a non-compete agreement with the founders for a two-year period in exchange for a total of $50,000, payable over the two-year period.

Substantially the entire purchase price of $878,000, including transaction costs of $78,000, was allocated to intangible assets.

Targeted Job Fairs

In January 2005, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of Targeted Job Fairs, LLC, a leading operator of job fairs and career-related expositions focused primarily on candidates with active U.S. Government security clearances. Total consideration consisted of $1.1 million paid in cash at closing and contingent payments based on the attainment of certain financial targets for the year ended December 31, 2005, up to an aggregate of $1.5 million in additional consideration.

Based on the results of operation to date, the Company has paid out $366,000 of the additional consideration as of August 31, 2005, and expects to ultimately pay the full $1.5 million.

Substantially all of the purchase price was allocated to intangible assets.

Note 5—Marketable Securities

Dice's marketable securities are stated at fair value. The following table shows the cost, unrealized loss and fair value of Dice's marketable securities as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 (in thousands):

	December 31, 2004
	Maturity	Cost	Unrealized Loss	Fair Value
Corporate debt securities.	Within One Year	$104	$(1)	$103
U S. Government and agencies	Within One Year	2,277	(14)	2,263
U.S. Government and agencies	Over One Year	8,299	(52)	8,247
Total		$10,680	$(67)	$10,613

	August 31, 2005
	Maturity	Cost	Unrealized Loss	Fair Value
Corporate debt securities.	Within One Year	$101	$—	$101
U S. Government and agencies	Within One Year	800	(4)	796
U.S. Government and agencies	Over One Year	700	(3)	697
Total		$1,601	$(7)	$1,594

Note 6—Fixed Assets

Fixed assets consist of the following as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 (in thousands):

	2004	2005

Computer equipment and software	$2,971	$4,905
Computer equipment acquired under capital leases	853	118
Furniture and fixtures	607	607
Leasehold improvements	856	870
Capitalized website development costs	1,471	1,851
	6,758	8,351
Less: accumulated depreciation and amortization	(4,115)	(4,610)
Fixed assets, net	$2,643	$3,741

Depreciation and amortization of fixed assets for the year ended December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005, which includes amortization of assets recorded under capital leases, totaled approximately $2.3 million and $1.2 million, respectively. The accumulated amortization of assets under capital leases as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 was $650,000 and $85,000, respectively.

Note 7—Intangible Assets

Under FAS 142, goodwill and intangible assets deemed to have indefinite lives are no longer amortized, but are subject to annual impairment tests. Other intangible assets continue to be amortized over their useful lives.

Customer Lists are amortized on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of two to five years. Amortization expense for the year ended December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005 was $1.4 million and $1.2 million, respectively.

Intangible assets, net, consist of the following as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 (in thousands):

	2004	2005
Brand Names	$8,620	$7,619
Customer Lists	6,906	6,395
Candidate Database	3,841	3,829
	19,367	17,843
Accumulated Amortization	(2,041)	(3,273)
Intangible Assets, net	$17,326	$14,570
Reorganization Value In Excess of Amounts Allocated to Identifiable Assets	$2,263	$—
Goodwill	$314	$1,941

Reorganization value in excess of amounts allocated to identifiable assets was reduced by $5.8 million in 2004 and $4 million in 2005 as a result of changes in deferred taxes relating to the usage of net operating loss carryforwards generated prior to the Effective Date. Other intangible assets were reduced by $2.6 million in 2005. The entire $3.0 million in 2005 was recognized as a deferred tax expense in 2005. Of the 2004 amount, $2.2 million was recognized as deferred tax expense in 2004 and $3.6 million results from an estimate of future offsets to taxable income by net operating loss carryforwards. Additional benefits realized from net operating loss carryforwards generated prior to the Effective Date will continue to reduce other intangibles until those assets are exhausted. Thereafter, those benefits will be recorded as additions to additional paid-in capital.

Note 8—Commitments and Contingencies

Leases

Dice leases equipment and office space under non-cancelable leases expiring at various dates through October 2011. Future minimum lease payments under non-cancelable operating leases as of August 31, 2005 are as follows (in thousands):

	Operating Leases
2005	$221
2006	587

2007	488
2008	466
2009	328
2010 and thereafter	517
Total minimum payments	$2,607

Rent expense was $561,000 and $425,000 for the year ended December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005, respectively.

Restricted Cash and Letters of Credit

As of August 31, 2005, Dice has $467,000 in standby letters of credit that collateralize facility lease agreements. Restricted cash collateralizes such standby letters of credit.

Litigation

The Company is party to claims and litigation that arise in the normal course of business. The Company believes that the ultimate outcome of those claims and litigation will not have a material effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Note 9—Stockholders' Equity

Preferred Stock

The Company's Certificate of Incorporation provides for the authorization of the Board of Directors at its discretion to issue up to 20,000 shares of preferred stock with no par value. At the time of issuance, the Board of Directors will have discretion as to the designation of each issuance, voting rights, dividend rights and rates, if any, redemption price and liquidation preference, among other provisions.

No shares of preferred stock have been issued.

Common Stock

In accordance with the Plan, a total of 40,000 shares of Reorganized Dice Common Stock were authorized. Pursuant to the Plan, 20,000 shares were issued, 1,600 shares were reserved for issuance under the warrants, and 3,530 shares were reserved for issuance under a new stock option plan. None of these shares were registered under the Securities Act of 1933.

The holders of Dice common stock, warrants and options have certain "Tag Along Rights," under which the holder has the right (but not the obligation) to elect to participate in any sale in one or more transactions of stock or warrants representing in the aggregate more than fifty percent (50%) of Dice equity. If one or more Tag Along Rightholders exercises his or their rights, the number of shares that the selling holder may sell will be reduced by an amount equal to the percentage of equity held by the participating rightholders and each participating rightholder will be entitled to sell up to its pro rata portion of the number of shares being made available for sale. The Tag Along Rights do not apply to certain transfers described in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation.

Holders of Dice common stock and warrants desiring to sell, in one or more transactions, more than fifty percent (50%) of Dice equity will have the right (but not the obligation) to elect to compel all other Dice equityholders to sell all of their Dice equity in such transaction(s) ("Drag Along Rights"). If the Drag Along Rights are exercised, each Dice equityholder will be obligated to sell all of his Dice equity together with the sale by the Drag Along Rightholders upon the same terms and conditions.

Stock Option Plan

In conjunction with the emergence from protection under Chapter 11, the Company adopted the 2003 Stock Option Plan (the "Stock Option Plan"). Under the Stock Option Plan, options may be granted to employees and directors to purchase up to an aggregate of 3,530 shares of the Company's common stock. Options granted under the Stock Option Plan may be options that are intended to qualify as incentive stock options and options that are not intended to so qualify. The Board of Directors or the compensation committee of the board determines the exercise price and other conditions as specified in the Stock Option Plan; provided that, for incentive stock options, the exercise price shall not be less than 100% of the fair market value of common stock at the date of grant. No option shall have a term in excess of seven (7) years. The options vest at a rate of 10% every three (3) months until fully vested. If incentive stock options are granted to a person possessing more than 10% of the combined voting power or value of all classes of stock of the Company, the exercise price shall not be less than 110% of the Company's common stock fair market value on the date of grant. Options become fully exercisable upon a change of control of the Company.

As of June 30, 2003, a total of 3,175 options were granted at an exercise price of $1,350 per share. The equity value of the Company was determined to be $35.0 million as of the Effective Date based on a reorganization value of $35.8 million. An independent valuation of the shares represented by the stock options was performed as of June 30, 2003 in order to determine the fair value of those shares subject to option exercise. That valuation determined that the value of the shares subject to option should be based on a total equity value of $28.3 million. Therefore, the exercise price of the options granted as of June 30, 2003 are deemed to have been issued at below the market value of the underlying stock. As a result, the Company incurred a non-cash deferred stock compensation charge of $175,000 that will be amortized over the vesting term of the options through December 2005. The charge was calculated as the difference between the exercise price and the value of Dice common stock at the time of the grant, multiplied by the number of options granted. Non-cash charges of $70,000 and $47,000 were recognized during the year ended December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005, respectively.

During the year ended December 31, 2004, an additional 195 options were granted at exercise prices ranging from $2,000 – $2,400 per share and during the eight-month period ended August 31, 2005, a total of 135 options were granted at exercise prices ranging from $1,350 – $4,700. The exercise prices on the dates of grant were deemed to be the fair market value of the shares at the time of each issuance, except for 75 options granted in June 2005 that were issued at an exercise price below fair market value and with a measurement date effective upon the close of the transaction described in Note 2. See Note 1 for compensation costs associated with these options.

The following table summarizes information about stock options granted and forfeited for the year ended

December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005:

	Option Shares	Weighted Average Exercise Price

As of August 31, 2005, Dice had reserved 3,530 shares of common stock for the exercise of options, none of which are available for future grants.

Note 10—Income Taxes

The components of the deferred tax asset as of December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 consist of the following (in thousands):

	2004	2005
Net operating loss carryforward	$26,084	$21,963
Depreciation and write-off of fixed assets	1,445	1,285
Provision for uncollectible accounts	232	232
Provision for accrued expenses and other, net	104	124
Current AMT tax credit	101	295
Deferred tax asset	27,966	23,899
Less: valuation allowance	(24,341)	(21,121)
Deferred tax asset, net	$3,625	$2,778

Tax expense for the periods ended December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 is as follows (in thousands):

	2004	2005
Current tax expense	$101	$194
Deferred tax expense	2,167	3,873
Income tax expense	$2,268	$4,067

A reconciliation of the federal statutory rate to the effective tax rate on continuing operations applicable to income before income tax expense follows:

	2004	2005
Federal statutory rate	35.0%	35.0%
Permanent differences	11.7%	4.0%
State taxes, net of federal benefits	4.7%	0.0%
Other	4.3%	2.9%
Effective tax rate	55.7%	41.9%

As of August 31, 2005, Dice has a net operating loss carryforward for federal income tax purposes of approximately $56.3 million. The carryforwards will begin to expire in 2011 if not used. The net deferred tax asset has been partially reserved due to the uncertainty of Dice's ability to realize this asset in the future.

Due to the transaction described in Note 2, the amount and availability of the net operating loss carryforwards may be subject to annual limitations set forth by the Internal Revenue Code. Factors such as the number of shares ultimately issued within a three-year look-back period; whether there is deemed to be a more than 50 percent change in control; the applicable long-term tax exempt bond rate; continuity of historical business; and subsequent income of the Company all enter into the annual computation of allowable annual utilization of the carryforwards.

Benefits realized from net operating loss carryforwards generated prior to the Effective Date will reduce reorganization value in excess of amounts allocated to identifiable assets and other intangible assets until those assets are exhausted. Thereafter, those benefits will be recorded as additions to additional paid-in capital.

Note 11—Employee Savings Plan

Dice has a savings plan (the "Savings Plan") that qualifies as a deferred salary arrangement under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. Under the Savings Plan, participating employees may defer a portion of their pretax earnings, up to the Internal Revenue Service annual contribution limit. For the year ended December 31, 2004 and the eight months ended August 31, 2005, Dice contributed $244,000 and $259,000, respectively, to match employee contributions to the Savings Plan.

Note 12—Segment Information

Dice has identified two reportable segments: DCS Online and MeasureUp. In addition to these two reportable segments, the Company has other businesses and activities that individually are not more than 10% of consolidated revenues, net income, or total assets. These include the Targeted Job Fairs and Dice India and are reported in the "Other" category. The following table shows the segment information for the periods ended December 31, 2004 and August 31, 2005 (in thousands):

Report of Independent Auditors

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of eFinancialGroup Limited:

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and the related consolidated statements of profit and loss, of total recognized gains and losses and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of eFinancialGroup Limited and its subsidiaries as at 31 December 2005 and 31 October 2006, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the two years in the period ended 31 December 2005 and the ten month period ended 31 October 2006, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United Kingdom. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United Kingdom, vary in certain significant respects from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Information relating to the nature and effect of such differences is presented in Note 21 to the consolidated financial statements.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

As of December 31, 2005 and October 31, 2006 and

FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2004 and 2005 AND FOR THE PERIOD FROM January 1, 2006 Through October 31, 2006

1 Accounting Policies

Basis of preparation

eFinanicalGroup Limited (the “Company” or “Group”) was incorporated on September 14, 2004 and was dormant until the acquisition of all the issued and outstanding shares of eFinancialNews Limited and its subsidiary eFinancialCareers Limited on January 1, 2005. No trading had occurred in the Company prior to January 1, 2005. The information included in these financial statements prior to January 1, 2005 represents the trading and other activities of eFinancialNews Limited, which includes the operating results of eFinancialNews and eFinancialCareers prior to January 1, 2005.

These financial statements do not represent the Company’s UK statutory financial statements and do not comply with UK Company’s law in all respects. A copy of the Company’s individual UK statutory financial statements is filed for public consumption with the UK Company’s House.

The principal activity of the Company is online recruitment and publishing.

Basis of accounting

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United Kingdom ("UK GAAP"). The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention in accordance with applicable accounting standards.

Discontinued operations

On the basis of an agreement signed on September 27, 2006, the shareholders agreed to sell the subsidiary eFinancialNews Limited (the publishing business). This transaction was completed on November 8, 2006 however as effective control of the entity had passed prior to October 31, 2006 under the terms of FRS 2 "Accounting for Subsidiary Undertakings" this disposal is accounted for within the period to October 31, 2006.

The profit on sale comprises consideration of a receivable of £22 million and the assumption of £5.5 million of loan payable to eFinancialNews Limited, less the book value of the investment held of £2.9 million and is recognised in the period as an exceptional item (note 6) and as part of Other debtors (note 12).

Turnover

Turnover, which is stated net of VAT and trade discounts, represents gross amounts invoiced to clients in respect of newspaper sales, newspaper and website subscriptions, advertising and other related services. Revenue earned from subscriptions is recognised over the period to which the subscription relates with paid but unearned subscriptions being recorded as deferred income. Advertising revenue is recognised at the date of publication.

Tangible fixed assets and depreciation

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less depreciation. Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the costs less estimated residual value of each asset over its expected useful life, as follows:

Land and building leasehold improvements	Straight line over the life of the lease
Plant and machinery	3 years straight line
Fixtures, fittings & equipment	3 - 5 years straight line

Goodwill

Goodwill is calculated as the difference between the purchase consideration and the aggregate of net assets (or liabilities) of separable assets acquired on a fair value basis and is capitalised and amortised on a straight line basis over its estimated useful life. Goodwill arising on the acquisition of jobsinthemoney.com is being amortised over 20 years.

Deferred taxation

UK corporation tax is provided at amounts expected to be paid (or recovered) using tax rates and laws that have been enacted, or substantially enacted, at the balance sheet date.

Deferred taxation is accounted for in line with FRS 19 "Deferred Taxation", and is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date, where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more tax in the future or a right to pay less tax in the future have occurred. Deferred tax is measured on a non-discounted basis at the average tax rate anticipated for the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse.

Foreign Currency Translation

The functional currency of the Company is sterling, as the majority of operational transactions are denominated in sterling. Results of subsidiaries with a functional currency other than sterling are translated using the average rate of exchange ruling over the period. Closing assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate ruling at year end. The differences between retained profits of subsidiaries translated at average and closing rates of exchange are taken to reserves via the statement of total recognised gains and losses.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at the rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the rate ruling at the date of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at period end rates of exchange are recognised in the profit and loss account.

Operating leases

The cost of operating leases is charged on a straight line basis over the lease term.

Share options

Share options are accounted for in line with FRS 20 "Share-based Payments" as of January 1, 2006. Compensation expense is realized over the vesting period of the share options based on the fair value determined at the grant date. Modifications to the options result in the options being revalued.

The Group has a share-based payment scheme to award share options to employees. The options vest over a three year period and can be exercised for seven years after vesting. Options have been issued at various times since the plan began. At January 1, 2006, the Group adopted FRS 20, which resulted in a charge to prior year reserves of £92,000.

In September 2006, the Group received an offer from Dice Holdings, Inc. to purchase the entire share capital of the Group for £21.84 per share. This offer was accepted by the Group's shareholders. At the time of the offer all of the outstanding options became fully vested in accordance with the scheme rules. This is considered a modification and required that compensation expense be recorded for the previously unvested portion of the awards in the amount of £462,000.

The following is a summary of the share options outstanding during the periods:

	Number	Weighted Average Exercise Price
Options outstanding at December 31, 2004	290,228	£ 6.36

21 Summary of Differences Between United Kingdom and United States Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United Kingdom ("UK GAAP"), which differ in certain significant respects from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAP"). Such differences involve methods for measuring the amounts shown in the financial statements.

The following is a summary of the adjustments to consolidated profit on ordinary activities after taxation and consolidated shareholders' funds that would have been required in applying the significant differences between UK GAAP and US GAAP:

Net income under US GAAP		275	1,399	1,596

	Note	December 31, 2005	October 31, 2006
		£ '000	£ '000
Equity shareholders' funds as reported under UK GAAP		3,995	30,843
US GAAP adjustments:
Amortization of goodwill	i	200	273
Gain on sale of eFinancialNews	ii	–	(24,594)
Share-based payments	iii	53	–
Tax on ordinary activities	iv	(907)	11
Equity shareholders' funds under US GAAP		3,341	6,533

Summaries of the principal differences between UK and US GAAP which are applicable to the Company are set out below:

i. Goodwill

Under UK GAAP the Company's goodwill arising from the acquisition of JobsintheMoney.com, Inc. is being amortized over a 20 year period. Under US GAAP, goodwill is not amortized, but instead tested for impairment. The Company performs an annual test in the third quarter or more frequently if indicators of potential impairment exist, to determine if the carrying value of the recorded goodwill is impaired. The impairment review process compares the fair value of the reporting unit in which goodwill resides to its carrying value. The determination of whether or not goodwill has become impaired involves a significant level of judgment in the assumptions underlying the approach used to determine the value of the Company's reporting units. Changes in the Company's strategy and/or market conditions could significantly impact these judgments and require adjustments to recorded amounts of intangible assets. No impairment was indicated.

ii. Discontinued operations and gain on sale of eFinancialNews Limited

In September 2006, the Group received an offer from Dice Holdings, Inc. ("DHI") to purchase the entire share capital of the Group. A condition of the offer was the sale of eFinancialNews Limited ("eFN") to a company controlled by a group of former eFinancialGroup shareholders. The sale of eFinancialGroup Limited to DHI closed on October 31, 2006. eFN was immediately sold by DHI.

Under UK GAAP, discontinued operations are presented for the sale of a business that is completed within three months after the commencement of the subsequent period. Under US GAAP, discontinued operations are not presented until the operations have ceased. Accordingly, the sale of eFN is not considered discontinued operations under US GAAP and the gain on the sale is not realized under US GAAP.

iii. Share-based payments

Under UK GAAP, FRS 20 was implemented as of January 1, 2006 at which time an adjustment to prior year reserves of £53,000 was made to record compensation expense on the options granted after 7 November 2002.

Under US GAAP, SFAS 123R applies to all awards granted after the required effective date of January 1, 2006 and to awards modified, repurchased, or cancelled after that date. Therefore, the adjustment to prior year reserves made under UK GAAP was not required under US GAAP. The awards became fully vested at the time of the acceptance by Group shareholders of the offer by DHI to purchase the Group. This event is a modification under UK and US GAAP which required that the fair value of the company be determined and additional compensation expense is recorded.

iv. Deferred taxes

Under UK GAAP, a provision is recorded for deferred taxation under the liability method, at the expected applicable rates, to the extent that such taxation is more likely than not to crystallize in future periods. This means that the full potential liability is not necessarily provided. Additionally, deferred tax assets are recognized only when they are expected to be recoverable within the foreseeable future.

Under US GAAP, deferred taxation is provided for on a full liability basis. Under the full liability method, deferred tax assets or liabilities are recognized for differences between the financial and taxation basis of assets and liabilities and for tax loss carry forwards at the statutory rate at each reporting date. A valuation allowance is established when it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred taxation assets will not be realized. The reconciling items in 2006, 2005 and 2004 reflect the impact of recording the Company's gross deferred tax assets and liabilities under US GAAP as well as recognition of a valuation allowance where the Company does not have evidence to suggest that the asset is more likely than not that all of the deferred tax assets will not be recognized.

The recognized deferred tax asset is based upon the expected future utilization of tax loss carryforwards and the reversal of other temporary differences. For financial reporting purposes, the Group has recognized a valuation allowance for those benefits for which realization does not meet the more likely than not criteria.

A full valuation allowance has been recognized in respect of the tax loss carryforwards for the periods ending 2005 and 2004 as the Company had a long history of losses and because it was more likely than not that the balance of tax loss carryforwards would not be realized. In 2006 the valuation allowance was reassessed and as of October 31, 2006 there was no remaining valuation allowance as all remaining loss carryforwards and other timing differences have been assessed as realizable. The Company continually reviews the adequacy of the valuation allowance and is recognizing these benefits only as the reassessment indicates that it is more likely than not that the benefits will be realized.

v. Cash flow information

Under UK GAAP, cash flows are presented for operating activities; dividends received from associated undertakings; returns on investments and servicing of finance; taxation; capital expenditure and financial investment; acquisitions and disposals; equity dividends paid; management of liquid resources and financing. US GAAP requires the classification of cash flows as resulting from operating, investing and financing activities.

Cash flows under UK GAAP in respect of interest received, interest paid, investment income and taxation would be included within operating activities under US GAAP. Capital expenditure and financial investment and cash flows from acquisitions and disposals would be included within investing activities under US GAAP. Dividends paid by subsidiary undertakings, dividends paid to minority interests, equity dividends paid and management of liquid resources would be included within financing activities under US GAAP.

A summary of the Group's operating, investing and financing activities, classified in accordance with US GAAP, follows:

	2004	2005	2006
	£ '000s	£ '000s	£ '000s
Cash provided by operating activities	547	2,419	(2,804)
Cash used in investing activities	(205)	(304)	(184)
Cash provided by financing activities	(203)	60	1,103
Net increase (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents	139	2,175	(1,885)
Cash at the beginning of the period	1,073	1,212	3,387
Cash at the end of the period	1,212	3,387	1,502

vi. New US accounting standards

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements" ("SFAS 157"). SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS 157 does not impose fair value measurements on items not already accounted for at fair value; rather it applies, with certain exceptions, to other accounting pronouncements that either require or permit fair value measurements. SFAS 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 157 on its consolidated financial statements.

In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. 48, "Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes–an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109" ("FIN 48"). FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in accordance with SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes" ("SFAS 109"), and prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a return. Guidance is also provided on de-recognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure and transition. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting FIN 48 on its consolidated financial statements.

In February 2007, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities" ("SFAS 159"). SFAS 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value and establishes presentation and disclosure requirements designed to facilitate comparisons between entities that choose different measurement attributes for similar types of assets and liabilities. Unrealized gains and losses on items for which the fair value option has been elected are reported in earnings at each subsequent reporting date. SFAS 159 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2007. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of adopting SFAS 159 on its consolidated financial statements.

Item 14. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

Directors' liability; indemnification of directors and officers. Section 145(a) of the Delaware General Corporation Law provides, in general, that a corporation shall have the power to indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, other than an action by or in the right of the corporation, because the person is or was a director or officer of the corporation. Such indemnity may be against expenses, including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with such action, suit or proceeding, if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and if, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, the person did not have reasonable cause to believe the person's conduct was unlawful.

Section 145(b) of the Delaware General Corporation Law provides, in general, that a corporation shall have the power to indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action or suit by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor because the person is or was a director or officer of the corporation, against any expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with the defense or settlement of such action or suit if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, except that no indemnification shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation unless and only to the extent that the Court of Chancery or the court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine upon application that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to be indemnified for such expenses which the Court of Chancery or such other court shall deem proper.

Section 145(g) of the Delaware General Corporation Law provides, in general, that a corporation shall have the power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director or officer of the corporation against any liability asserted against the person in any such capacity, or arising out of the person's status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify the person against such liability under the provisions of the law. Our amended and restated certificate of incorporation provides that, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, a director will not be liable to us or our stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director. In addition, our by-laws provide that we will indemnify each director and officer and may indemnify employees and agents, as determined by our board, to the fullest extent provided by the laws of the State of Delaware.

The foregoing statements are subject to the detailed provisions of section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and our amended and restated certificate of incorporation and by-laws.

Section 102 of the Delaware General Corporation Law permits the limitation of directors' personal liability to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duties as a director except for (i) any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (ii) acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of the law, (iii) breaches under section 174 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, which relates to unlawful payments of dividends or unlawful stock repurchase or redemptions, and (iv) any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit.

Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to directors, officers or persons controlling us under the foregoing provisions, we have been informed that in the opinion of the Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is therefore unenforceable.

Reference is made to Item 17 for our undertakings with respect to indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act.

We maintain directors' and officers' liability insurance for our officers and directors.

The Underwriting Agreement for this offering will provide that each underwriter severally agrees to indemnify and hold harmless Dice Holdings, Inc., each of our directors, each of our officers who signs the registration statement, and each person who controls Dice Holdings, Inc. within the meaning of the Securities Act but only with respect to written information relating to such underwriter furnished to Dice Holdings, Inc. by or on behalf of such underwriter specifically for inclusion in the documents referred to in the foregoing indemnity.

Item 15. Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities.

The following is a summary of our transactions within the past three years involving sales of our securities that were not registered under the Securities Act.

(a) On June 28, 2005, in connection with our formation, we issued and sold an aggregate of 200 shares of common stock, par value $0.01, at a price of $0.01 per share or an aggregate purchase price of $2.00, to the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders, with each receiving 100 shares of common stock. This transaction was effected without registration under the Securities Act in reliance on the exemption from registration provided under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

(b) On August 31, 2005, in connection with our acquisition of Dice Inc., we issued and sold an aggregate of 110,400 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock at a purchase price of $1,000.00 per share or an aggregate purchase price of $110,400,000 to the General Atlantic Stockholders and the Quadrangle Stockholders, with each receiving 55,200 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock. These transactions were effected without registration under the Securities Act in reliance on the exemption from registration provided under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

(c) On August 31, 2005, in connection with our acquisition of Dice Inc., we issued and sold 1,400 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock to certain members of our management at a purchase price of

$1,000.00 per share or an aggregate purchase price of $1,400,000. These transactions were effected without registration under the Securities Act in reliance on the exemption from registration provided under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

(d) On October 31, 2006, in connection with the eFinancialGroup Acquisition, we issued and sold an aggregate of 7,821 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock at a purchase price of £1,692 (or $3,201 per share) or an aggregate purchase price of £13,233,132 (or $25,035,021), as of the exchange rate in effect on October 31, 2006, to certain former stockholders of eFinancialGroup as partial consideration for the eFinancialGroup Acquisition. This transaction was effected without registration under the Securities Act in reliance on the exemption from registration provided under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

(e) On October 31, 2006, we issued and sold an aggregate of 51 shares of Series A convertible preferred stock at a purchase price of £1,692 (or $3,201 per share) or an aggregate purchase price of £86,292 (or $163,251) to two members of eFinancialGroup management in exchange for the cash out of their long-term incentive plan account, with the two members of management receiving 34 and 17 shares of common stock, respectively. These issuances were effected without registration under the Securities Act in reliance on the exemption from registration provided under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

(f) We issued options to purchase a total of 13,670 shares of common stock in 2005, 2,788 shares of common stock in 2006 and 1,822 shares of common stock in 2007 to date to our employees, executive officers, and directors under our 2005 Stock Plan, as described below. All of these issuances were effected without registration under the Securities Act in reliance on the exemption from registration provided pursuant to Rule 701 of the Securities Act.

The table below sets forth our option issuances within the past three years.

Date of Grant	Number of options	Original exercise price
2005
November 7	13,670	$1,000	(1)(2)
2006
May 2	299	$1,621	(1)(2)
November 1	2,195	$2,750	(2)
December 5	294	$2,750	(2)

January 31	40	$3,020	(2)
January 31	1,364	$3,812	(2)
March 27	418	$3,177

(1) The original strike price was reduced by $89 on October 27, 2006 in lieu of a dividend.

(2) In accordance with the terms of our 2005 Stock Plan, the exercise price on the then unvested options was reduced by $820 on March 23, 2007 to reflect a non-recurring dividend paid to our stockholders of $900.11 per share. In lieu of a dividend, each holder of vested options received a payment of $900.11 per vested option.

(g) In connection with this offering, we issued shares of our common stock to our existing stockholders to effect a to stock split. The Stock Split did not represent an offer or sale of common stock under the Securities Act. In addition, all of the outstanding shares of Series A convertible preferred stock will be converted into shares of common stock in the Conversion. The Conversion is exempt from registration under Section 3(a)(9) of the Securities Act.

Item 17. Undertakings.

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to provide to the underwriters at the closing specified in the underwriting agreements certificates in such denominations and registered in such names as required by the underwriters to permit prompt delivery to each purchaser.

(b) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

(c) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that:

(1) For purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, the information omitted from the form of prospectus filed as part of this registration statement in reliance upon Rule 430A and contained in a form of prospectus filed by the registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(1) or (4) or 497(h) under the Securities Act shall be deemed to be part of this registration statement as of the time it was declared effective.

(2) For the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each post-effective amendment that contains a form of prospectus shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
